

Artists To Hold Vacation School Clinic April Sixth

Change Office Of Clyde

Clyde town office from four years ago. A bill introduced by Rep. Night by Rep. Davis if Haywood County Home Demonstration Agent, read a paper written by Mrs. O. J. Smyrl, of Camden, S. C., president of the South Carolina Council of Farm Women. The program over Station WHCC created such favorable public response that we are publishing the paper on which it is based. In her opening remarks to her radio audience, Miss Smith said: "The people of Haywood County are interested in community development so I would like to share with you the following article on 'The Home and the Community'."

Better Homelife Is Stressed In Radio Talk By Miss Smith

On her radio program last week, Miss Mary Margaret Smith, Haywood County Home Demonstration Agent, read a paper written by Mrs. O. J. Smyrl, of Camden, S. C., president of the South Carolina Council of Farm Women. The program over Station WHCC created such favorable public response that we are publishing the paper on which it is based. In her opening remarks to her radio audience, Miss Smith said: "The people of Haywood County are interested in community development so I would like to share with you the following article on 'The Home and the Community'."

The House Committee on Counties, Cities, and Towns was considering the bill early this week.

State Leaders To Gather At Clyde Church For Meet

The 1949 Haywood Baptist Vacation Bible School Clinic will be held April 6 at the Clyde Baptist church.

The clinic will feature five simultaneous conferences, to start at 10:35 a. m.:

(1) A general conference for pastors, general superintendents, and principals headed by State Sunday School secretary L. L. Morgan of Raleigh, and Mrs. Myra Motley, associate, also of Raleigh;

(2) A beginner conference for all beginner superintendents and their assistants;

(3) A primary conference for all primary superintendents and assistants conducted by Miss May Bomar of Spartanburg, S. C.;

(4) A junior conference for all superintendents of intermediate departments, and assistants, headed by Mrs. Fred Fore of the Calvary Church of Canton;

(5) An intermediate conference for all superintendents of intermediate departments and assistants, headed by Mrs. D. D. Gross of Clyde Baptist Church.

The program will open at 10 a. m. with song, Scripture and prayer. A message will follow, and then the registration of delegates will be held.

Following the conferences, Mrs. Motley and Miss Bomar will conduct a discussion of the daily joint service.

Miss Daphne Boone of Waynesville, the Associational missionary who made the announcement, said persons planning to attend the Clinic are asked to bring a light lunch.

The host church will provide the beverages, and members of the Clyde Church Women's Missionary Service will spread the lunch.

Starting at 1:30 p. m., there will be a demonstration of the Joint Worship Service, which will take approximately 35 minutes. The remaining 40 minutes of this period will be devoted to a general conference for the entire audience.

After this, the special conferences will be resumed with the same leaders in charge who conducted the morning sessions.

For those planning to attend the Clinic, Miss Boone advised these preparations be made prior to the meeting:

Select your Vacation Bible School Faculty, principal, beginner, primary, junior, and intermediate superintendents. She added, it would be wise also to select assistants to these officers.

Provide transportation to the meeting.

Order Vacation Bible School supplies if you do not have them.

She listed the following for 1949 supplies, which may be ordered through the Baptist Book Store, 304 North Tryon Street, Charlotte 2, N. C.

Beginner Book B, Primary Book C, Junior Book D, Intermediate Book D, and a principal's Package. Each of these items are $2 each.

Henry E. Wyatt Is Improving

Henry E. Wyatt of Waynesville, a World War II veteran who suffered a nervous breakdown last August, is reported improving at the Veterans Hospital in Fayetteville.

He entered the hospital approximately three weeks ago.

The report on his current condition was made this week by his brother, Dewey, his brother-in-law, James E. Greene, and his wife, who visited him last weekend.

Henry Wyatt, who spent part of his service as a Military Policeman at Camp McCain, Miss., during the war was employed as a weaver at the Koyle and Pilkington Tapestry plant after his separation from the Army.

unable to love their families enough or to teach them the fine art of living and loving.

Home Teaching

Not only do the mothers of today need to foster love for one another in the home, but there is a real need for the teaching of devotion to God and all Christian virtues.

The world will have no fear from war and all its evil when homes have family altars, when the Sabbath is observed and Christ and His word is taught. Then there is also the duty of teaching brotherly love for all men by precept and example in the home.

Here the parents can lay a sure foundation for peace and understanding. If children are taught to

Haywood Baptists Lead With Number Of Vacation Bible Schools For '48

Last year, Haywood County's Baptists were more active with their Vacation Bible Schools than those in any other county association in Region Nine. The County Association, furthermore, ranked fourth in the entire state in this activity.

A report Monday from Miss Daphne Boone, Associational Missionary, showed that more than 82 per cent of the 46 Baptist churches in the County Association held such schools.

The closest statistical rival was the French Broad Association, which had a record of 64 and four-tenths per cent.

The County Association's record on the state-wide plane is even more impressive in light of the fact that there are 69 white associations altogether, and two Indian Associations, Region nine includes Buncombe, Carolina, Mitchell, New Found, Transylvania, and Yancey, besides those named.

In spite of last summer's polio epidemic, more than 124,000 persons enrolled in the 1,453 Vacation Bible Schools that were actually held. The epidemic forced cancellation of a number of other schools.

These schools had an average daily attendance of more than 102,000 people. The cost of these schools totalled $48,549 — which

St. John's Music Dept. To Give An Operetta 4th

Gypsies in colorful costumes will dance and sing when "The Bohemian Girl," an operetta by Arthur Johnson and May Van Dyke, is given by the music department of St. John's school, Monday evening, April 4, under the direction of Sisters Mary Anthony and Corine.

The operetta is based upon the opera by Michael Williams Balfe.

Arline, daughter of an Austrian count, is kidnapped by gypsies. Thaddeus, a Polish nobleman in hiding, wants to marry her. The Gypsy Queen, who wants Thaddeus for herself, places obstacles in the way.

Through intrigue she has Arline jailed for theft. Arline's father finds her in jail and takes her home. Thinking Thaddeus is a gypsy, he opposes the marriage at first; but he consents when he learns Thaddeus is a nobleman.

As a last resort, the Gypsy Queen orders Thaddeus to be shot, but Devilshoof, the kidnapper of Arline, knocks the executioner's arm at just the right moment with the result that the Queen receives her bullet she had intended for Arline.

Operetta Characters

Characters are: Gypsy Queen, Mozelle Limer; Thaddeus, Malcolm Williamson; Arline, Margaret Reese; Devilshoof, Dale Ratcliffe; Count Arnheim, Fred Calhoun; the Gypsy Singer, Zingara, Helen Howell; the Gypsy Dancer, Anitra, Nancy Furtado.

Choruses of Gypsy singers: Lowery Ferguson, Carol Underwood, Bette Hannah, Mary Jean West, Jack Willis, Nancy Francis, Sara Jane Garrison, Mary Crouser, Ann Green, Mary Gunn, Sally Stovall, Marcia Lantz, Carolyn Bischoff, Alice Alexander, Nancy Bischoff, Joan Rowe, Margaret Noland.
