C. F. Parrish, N. C. State College extension poultry specialist, will speak at three poultry meetings to be held in the county next week in connection with the Community Development Program.
Mr. Parrish will discuss the poultry situation with the citizens of the county, and the outlook for poultry as it pertains to both broilers and layers.
Colored movies on poultry will be shown at each meeting.
The schedule:
April 11 (next Monday), 7:30 p.m.— Bethel School.
April 12—7:30 p.m.—Haywood
County Court House, Waynesville.
April 13—7:30 p.m.—Crabtree-Iron Duff School.
In announcing the schedule, County Agent Wayne Corpening said:
"One of the six enterprises suggested to push under the Community Development Program was poultry, because it is felt that there are many small farms in the county where more poultry should be raised, either broilers or layers."
"If you need some special help in your chicken business," he added, "please let us know and we will be glad to contact you."

MORE ABOUT Membership comprised of the members of the Board of Directors to cover the fields of industrial, mercantile, professional and tourist business in the Waynesville, Hazelwood and Lake Junaluska area.

Mrs. Knutti announces that a new practice will go into effect this year with the inauguration of a "Homeowners Membership". This Membership is offered to those people who have one or two rooms to rent in private homes.
The purpose of the small fee is to aid in defraying the expense naturally incurred in giving the best possible service in the rental of these rooms.
It is hoped that the full cooperation of the homeowners will be given in this matter.

Canton PTA Hear About Museum

Members of the Canton High School Parent-Teacher Association heard Mrs. Wills Shoemaker discuss the work of the Western North Carolina History Museum Committee, at their meeting Wednesday.
Mrs. Shoemaker, a member of the Committee, urged her audience to participate actively in the work.
PTA president Mrs. Louis Gates, presided.

The report also noted that Jerome Poyd has an acre of pasture planted in ladino clover and orchard grass in a demonstration of the chapter sponsored.
On the sports side, the Waynesville chapter won three basketball games and lost only one.

Groups To Discuss Fruits-Vegetables At Series Meetings

A series of meetings for all Haywood County farm families will be held this week, starting tonight, by the Fruit and Vegetable Commission under the Community Development Program.
Tonight's meeting will be held at 7:30 o'clock at Fines Creek School.
County Farm Agent Wayne Cor-pening announced that specialists in growing these crops and persons interested in buying fruits and vegetables will attend these meetings.
A colored movie showing the growing of fruits and vegetables will be shown.
The other meetings are scheduled as follows:
Tuesday, 7:30 p.m.—Haywood
County Court House, Waynesville.
Wednesday, 7:30 p.m.—Crabtree-Iron Duff School.
Thursday, 7:30 p.m.—Bethel
School.
Mr. Corpening's announcement of the series said:
"These should be very outstanding meetings, and we hope you will make a special effort to attend the one closest to you.
"Haywood County cannot be beat for location and climate in the growing of fruits and vegetables.
This may be a chance for you to get some of that added income on your farm."

Appalachian Band To Give 2 Concerts In Haywood Soon

Appalachian State Teachers' College's 46-piece band will give two of its nine concerts in Haywood County during a seven-day tour of North Carolina and Tennessee next week.
The band will appear at Canton April 14 for a concert at 10 a.m., then will give its second Haywood concert at eight o'clock that night at the Waynesville High School.
The featured soloists are Helen Winkler, marimba player, and William Robinson, bass.

Music Teaching To Be Discussed

Public school music teaching methods will be discussed April 12 at a meeting of Haywood County School teachers at the Hazelwood School cafeteria.
Mr. Greer of the Silver-Burdett Music Company will give a music demonstration for the teachers.
Miss Madeline Tripp of the Division of Instructional Service, State Department of Public Instruction, will conduct the session, which is being sponsored by the Division.
The meeting will start at 2:30 p. m.

Recreation MORE ABOUT

Meyer advocated the establishment of a strong advisory committee representing a cross-section of the population.
Through his discussion, he repeatedly advised slow, careful procedure.
In the discussion of the problems of a program, it was indicated that such a recreation commission could function for both Waynesville and Hazelwood.
Dr. Meyer said the long-range goal should be considered in terms of balanced program—not only in terms of games for the youth, but in terms of recreation for the preschool children, and particularly for adults.
A balanced program, he explained, would include music, dramatics, arts and handicraft, camping, and other activities, as well as games.
He told the directors to consider the tourist opportunities as well as the community recreation phase.
He pointed out that 60,000,000 people live within two days' travel of the Great Smoky Mountains National Park.
He called recreation an essential, particularly to the busiest men and women, but added it should be considered in proper perspective.
Dr. Meyer said:
"There are wonderful potential-ities for a recreation program in this area."
And again he advised:
"Go slowly."
In talking about recreation programs throughout the state, Dr.
Meyer said nine swimming pools and $4,000,000 worth of community recreation centers are being built.
Referring to public enthusiasm, he added that of 15 bond elections held so far, supporters of community recreation programs have lost only one.
Discussing the facilities being set up, he said adjoining Canton's new $75,000 swimming pool will be a concrete multiple-use area on which 21 different games can be played simultaneously.
Going back to Waynesville's wartime plan for a "living war memorial," he called the program a "good one".
It provided for construction of a community recreation center, a unit at a time over a period of five to ten years.
The community council was a body of private organizations.
Dr. Meyer declared that a community recreation program could not be run successfully by a civic club or voluntary groups. It would take a town recreation commission, he said.
If such a program were organized in this area, he added, the facilities of the State Recreation Commission would be available. He said his group would send a field representative here to study the problems and help with the organization.
He suggested, also, that the civic clubs, church groups, and others get together and request the town government to establish a recreation commission.
The directors adjourned after it was indicated that the matter would be studied further.

Crabtree-Iron Duff Students To Have Contests

Grammar grade students of the Crabtree-Iron Duff School will match their oratory and recitation talents Friday in an elimination contest sponsored by the Parent-Teachers Association.
The recitation and declamation event will start at 10 a.m. Medals will be presented to the best entrants.
A similar contest for the high school students is tentatively scheduled for April 14 at the school.

MORE ABOUT Rogers' Trout

He used a black minnow lure on a five-foot bait casting rod, and hooked the fish about 20 feet from shore.
Mr. Rogers, incidentally, caught his prize before the opening of the trout season for mountain streams.
But, the Commission says, the catch is legal "under a regulation which permits trout to be taken from impounded waters throughout the year as in the case of warm water species."
