5 Miles Of Pigeon River To Be Closed From May 1 - July 1

Fish in some streams in Haywood and Jackson Counties will be scarce from the sportsman's hook from May 1 through June 30.

Executive Clyde Patton of the North Carolina Wildlife Resources commission has announced that the portions of the streams affected have been declared spawning areas for that period.

The Pigeon River from Canton five miles to the forks at Woodrow, and the Tuckasee River, in Jackson County, from the dam at Dillboro 12 miles to the forks of the river.

Mr. Patton's announcement said that no fishing of any kind will be permitted in those areas for the designated period.

Relative humidity is the ratio expressed as per cent. of the water vapor in the air to the amount that it would contain at the same temperature if it were completely saturated.

Tobacco Specialist Coming For Talks This Week-End

Tobacco Specialist R. R. Bennett of the North Carolina State College Extension Service will appear Thursday and Friday at a series of demonstrations on the control of wildfire and blue mold.

County Agent Wayne Corpening, who made the announcement, said these demonstrations have been arranged to assist Haywood County farmers to control these diseases.

The schedule: Thursday, 10 A. M.—Jarvis Caldwell's farm, Iron Duff; 2 P. M.—Grover Ferguson's farm, Fines Creek.

Friday, 10 A. M.—D. J. Boyd's farm, Jonathan Creek; 2 P. M.—C. T. Francis' farm, Ratcliffe Cove. The county agent advised tobacco farmers to attend these demonstrations so they will see personally how to control wildfire and blue mold in their tobacco plant beds.

Appropriately enough, the title of this John-Fred eries creation is "Roses in the Hay". This hat, with its big, pink roses, green leaves, and real hay makes an attractive topping to your Easter costume.

Maggie Fiddlers Meet Slated For Tomorrow

Haywood County's finest musicians will compete for honors tomorrow night in the fourth annual Fiddlers Convention at Maggie School.

The events are scheduled to start at 8 p. m.

Maggie School Principal R. R. Ferguson reported that a dozen bands and individual performers, including Fiddling Masters Uncle Billy Evans and Cal Messer, had entered the contest by Saturday. More entries are expected before the event gets under way.

Uncle Billy, a Maggie citizen, and Cal, from Cataochee Ranch, are both widely recognized as experts in their art. But they face strong competition for honors in this department from other musicians.

Prizes will be awarded for the best performances by fiddlers and by bands as units.

The entry list also includes Rufus Buff and Bob Rich of Maggie with their Lumber Jacks Bands; Wilbur Whidden's Band from Waynesville; the Setzer Brothers, familiar to North Carolina radio audiences; Billy Moore and his sisters from Allens Creek; Ted Clark's and Carroll Best's band from Clyde, route 1; the Primary and Grammar Grade Rhythm Band of Maggie School, directed by Mrs. Estelle Allison; Bert Finney, Waynesville route 1, with the Burton and Nell Band from Waynesville; Howard Thompson's Dixie Band of Waynesville; and Edgar Pressley's Band from Canton, who also has appeared on radio programs.

The Maggie School Rhythm Band will start off the contests, and each unit will play at least two numbers.

Last year's convention attracted more than 400 music-lovers who saw some 70 musicians in action.

If Friday's session matches the 1948 event, the spectators will get another solid evening of solid entertainment for their 75 cents admission price.

Mr. Ferguson announced that Mrs. Edith P. Alley, and Mrs. Jess Crouser, both of Waynesville, and Mrs. Harry McCracken would serve on a board of five judges. He added he would name two men to the other positions.
