Mr. and Mrs. Henry Shumaker of Woodruff, South Carolina, spent Easter with the latter's mother, Mrs. T. N. Massie.

Miss Kathryn Noland Is Bride Of William Hyatt

Miss Kathryn June Noland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Baxter Noland of Lake Junaluska, became the bride of William Darwin Hyatt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jones Hyatt of Waynesville. In a double ring ceremony which took place Friday afternoon at Long's Chapel Methodist church, Lake Junaluska. The Rev. Paul Duckwall, pastor of the chapel, pronounced the vows.

A program of nuptial music was presented by Miss Peggy McCracken, organist, and Mrs. Thomas Ray, soloist. Miss McCracken played "Lichestraun," "Ava Maria," and "To A Wild Rose," and Mrs. Ray sang "Because" and "At Dawning." The traditional marches were played as processional and recessional.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white tulle, fashioned with a fitted bodice, a sweetheart neckline edged with ruffle of material of the gown and long pointed sleeves. The full skirt extended in a long round train. Her veil of illusion was worn with a shirred bonnet effect and was of finger tip length. She carried a white prayer book topped with white orchids and showered with tuberose and valley lilies.

Miss Jean Hyatt, sister of the bridegroom, attended the bride as maid of honor. She wore a gown of blue taffeta made with a full skirt with folds at either side held in place by pink flowers. She wore mits of the same material as the gown and her hat was of blue mauline with a shoulder length veil of mauline. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations tied with pink satin ribbon.

Serving as junior bridesmaids were young nieces of the bride, Miss Nancy Carolyn Noland of Clyde and Jackie Sue Redmond of Waynesville. Their frocks were fashioned with sweetheart neckline, cap sleeves, and full skirts trimmed at bottom with ruffles of the same taffeta of the dresses. They wore wreaths of flowers in their hair and carried old fashioned nosegays. Miss Noland's frock was lavender and her flowers were yellow and Miss Redmond wore yellow and carried lavender flowers.

Jimmy Leatherwood of Clyde, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer and little Beth Hyatt, niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl. She wore a white taffeta frock, a miniature model of that worn by the junior bridesmaids, and carried a basket of mixed pastel flowers.

The bride groom had as his best man, his cousin, Walter Hyatt, and ushers were David Hyatt, cousin of the bridegroom, Reuel Noland, brother of the bride, Ted Noland, nephew of the bride, and Tom Medford.

Immediately following the ceremony at the church a reception was held at the home of the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Leatherwood, which was attended by only the members of the bridal party and the two families.

Mrs. Reuel Noland greeted the guests at the entrance and introduced them to the receiving line which was composed of the bride and bridegroom, Mrs. Leatherwood received in the dining room and assisting in serving were Miss Betty Leatherwood, Mrs. Robert Platt and Miss Alleyne Williams. Miss Jean Hyatt was in charge of the bride's book.

The bride's table was covered with a lace cloth and was decorated with a three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom. A bowl of white snapdragons and shasta daisies, and white candles in silver holders were also used.

After the reception the couple left for a wedding trip. For traveling the bride wore a soldier blue gabardine suit with navy accessories. Her hat of navy blue straw was an off-the-face model and was trimmed in a veil of pink mauline. She wore the white orchid detached from her bridal arrangement.

Mrs. Hyatt is a graduate of the Fines Creek high school. Mr. Hyatt is a graduate of the Waynesville Township high school and of the Kings Point, Long Island, Merchant Marine Academy. He served three years during World War II in the merchant marines and now holds the position of manager with the Wood Canning Company of Crockett, Virginia.

The couple will reside in Wyalusing, Virginia.

Constant Companions

Silk dress with jersey jacket.

By VERA WINSTON

MANY ARE THE frocks always seen today in the company of their own jacket, bolero, cape or coat. Here is a little jacket of black worsted jersey. It makes an attractive duet with a dress of pink and black polka dot silk. The dress has a snug bodice draped taut to the center seam. The skirt is gathered in front, and gored in the back.

Lions Schedule Ladies' Night For Next Friday

Friday night is Ladies' Night for the Waynesville Lions Club. The Waynesville Lions and their feminine guests will hold their dinner program at 7 p.m. at the Mount Valley Inn at Maggie on the Dellwood Road.

WHODUNITS

MERRAND—After Midnight. So dense novel in which an American veteran returns to the Italian scene of his most memorable wartime experiences to trace the recent history of a valuable prisoner; to renew his infatuation with an Italian aristocrat, and to find out who betrayed him to the Germans.

WENTWORTH—Miss Silver Comes to Stay. Miss Maud Silver arrives in a small country village for a visit with an old college classmate and promptly finds herself involved in events that set the village folk completely on edge.

LOFTS—Call for Venus. On his way to bury S. T. Edmonds in a coach on a November day in 1801, young Dr. Shadbolt meets Letty Rowan, attempts to save her from her disreputable Aunt Thirza, buys her a blue enamel bracelet and becomes first a smuggler, then a murderer—all for the sake of Letty.

DISNEY—Hangman's Tree. A novel of suspense and atmosphere for murders attendant on the Azalea Festival in Charleston, S. C.

GARDNER—Case of the Dubious Bridegroom. This concerns the curious case of the bridegroom with two wives. Della Street and Paul Drake give Mason the help he needs to crack the case.

GARDNER—D. A. Takes a Chance. Too much candy, too many knives, and too many politicians, and a great deal too much of suave, unscrupulous A. B. Carr makes this one of Doug Seiby's toughest cases.

REMOTE CONTROL (CLEVELAND (UP)—A Cleveland pastor kept right on preaching to his congregation during an illness, even though he was confined to his bed in the parsonage next door to the church.

Members of the Archwood Congregational Church heard the Rev. Lawrie J. Sharp preach and pray with the aid of a two-way amplification system.

When the time came for Rev. Mr. Sharp to speak or pray, he merely dropped his ear phones and picked up a microphone.

Miss Smith Is Honored At Farewell Party

Members of the Waynesville Business and Professional Women's Club entertained with a miscellaneous shower Thursday evening as a farewell courtesy to Miss Mary Margaret Smith, a former member of the club, who left Friday to reside in Gastonia.
