out that "since the section was omitted from a bill passed by the Legislature extending the city limits of Waynesville, that the Hazelwood board felt the former town was not interested in attempting to help with your problems."
The Hazelwood board and mayor further point out in their statement, "We were offering our help as we had agreed to do."
The statement continues, "We do not think it becoming or appropriate for two neighboring towns to engage in a fight for the annexation of adjoining territory. Under these circumstances, a free expression of the will of the people might not be secured. We are, therefore, suspending our proceedings until it is determined whether or not you want to join the Town of Waynesville."
The statement concludes, with the statement, "The Town of Hazelwood still stands ready to fulfill its promise, and if you do not decide to become a part of the Town of Waynesville, our proceedings will be re-instated to determine whether or not you want to become a part of the Town of Hazelwood."

Elk And Deer On Spot

DURANGO, Colo. (U.P.)—Residents of this section have asked the state legislature to do something about the invasion and seizure of their property by elk and deer. The animals ate shrubbery of all kinds except the hard and prickly blue spruce at his nursery, one man said. He estimated damage at $1,350.

You could say, also, that the Sunday convention was a cross section of America. The visitors came from 24 states, including Washington on the Pacific Coast and New Mexico in the Southwest.
Mr. Medford said he is sending letters to as many of the out-of-state visitors as possible, inviting them to come back next year.
This hospitality procedure, he explained, is something new that the convention officials decided to do since last Sunday's highly successful event.
