More Meetings Set To Organize Communities

More organizational meetings were scheduled as the job of setting up Haywood County's Community Development Program entered the last lap.

Citizens of Cruso were scheduled to meet at 7:30 p. m. today at Cruso School to elect their principal officers and learn organizational procedure.

Next Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock, the Community Development Program for North Clyde is to be organized.

Earlier this week, citizens of Cove Creek and White Oak launched their programs in initial meetings.

Approximately 125 persons turned out Monday night at the Cove Creek Baptist church to elect their program officers and hear County

All's Fair In Love But You Have To Pay

ASHBORO, N. C.—(UP)—Judge A. I. Ferree, a man with memories, listened attentively while the bailiff read the charge against a youth whose love had spurned him for another.

The boy was accused of slashing the tires on the car owned by the man who took his place in his lady's affections. His ex-girl testified that she saw him chop up the tires while the car was in front of her house.

"I've got to find him guilty," Ferree said, "but I feel a lot of sympathy for him. I've been in love a few times myself, and I know how it is."

He sentenced the youth to buy his rival a new set of tires.

The West Pigeon Community Development Club met Friday night at the home of Chairman Jack Sloane.

The Rev. Clyde L. Collins pronounced the invocation, and the chairman read the aims for the community.

Francis Cove Plans To Raise More Funds For C. D. Projects

By MRS. BILL HOLLINGSWORTH
Mountaineer Correspondent

Citizens of Francis Cove Friday night decided to work for a larger treasury to finance major projects in their Community Development Program.

Members pointed out that this would enable them to make other plans for community progress.

It was pointed out that there were needs for a larger church and for an adequate water system.

Before adjournment, it was decided that the Recreation Committee would meet at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday at the home of Committee Chairman William Hollingsworth.

Discusses Contract

It appears at the present time as if these aims will be easily reached.

Work in the West Pigeon section is progressing rapidly.

Survey sheets to be filled in as of January 1, 1949 were given to the members present.

The next meeting will be held May 17th at the Bethel School.

END REIGN

SYRACUSE, N. Y.—(AP)—The retirement of crew coach Ned Ten Eyck at the end of this season completes a 46-year cycle of Syracuse University crew coaching under the Ten Eycks. Jim Ten Eyck, father of Ned, coached Orange crewmen for 35 years.
