Cecil Program Formed With Dr. Cline Chairman

Dr. A. P. Cline was elected chairman of the Cecil Community Development Program Wednesday night as residents of the community launched their program at a meeting at the Cecil School.

Assistant County Agent Wayne Franklin's explanation of the objectives of the county-wide program preceded the elections.

Bartley Brown was named vice-chairman; Louie Reece, secretary; Ira Massie, treasurer; and Mrs. Bartley Brown, reporter.

The following committees were set up also during the session: Survey—L. C. Moody, chairman; Mrs. Delmar Rogers, Carl Single-

125 Attend WHS Senior Banquet

Waynesville Township High School started saying goodbye to the 104 graduating seniors with a banquet Saturday night at the Waynesville Country Club.

But this part of the farewell had a cheery touch.

The 125 students, teachers, principals, and other guests witnessed a program that featured stunts.

Only solemn part of the banquet was the invocation given by School Principal C. E. Weatherly.

Howard Liner, president of the senior class, served as toastmaster at the event which was held in an atmosphere of Colonial days effected by the talents of Mrs. H. Phelps Brooks and her art students.

Roland Houser read the roll of class honors, Tommy Curtis looked into the crystal ball and gave his forecast of what the future holds for the 1949 graduates, and Miss Alwayne McClure read the class will.

The names of the boys and girls who were named by their classmates for the honors of most popular, most likely to succeed, and others will be revealed when the school annual comes out this week.

District Principal M. H. and Mrs. Bowles were among those who attended the banquet along with Mr. and Mrs. Weatherly.

The decorations gave the banquet hall the air of colonial times in Natchez, Miss.

Mrs. Brooks and her students had arranged morning glories in blue and white with yellow birds and butterflies for the center piece, and reproduced old fashioned flower designs on the place cards.

The favors were note pads with covers bearing colonial figures on an outline of the map of Mississippi, while the menus bore the silhouette of Martha Washington.

Champion Aids Farm Youth With Seedlings

If Joyce Kilmer, author of the poem "Trees," were alive today, he would be greatly pleased to hear of what's going on in North Carolina this year, believes R. W. Graeber, in charge of forestry extension work at N. C. State College.

Farm people, says Mr. Graeber, are showing more interest in tree-planting now than ever before. He adds that enthusiasm for the forestry program is especially strong among the young people.

According to Graeber, 404 Future Farmers of America and 4-H Club members have received a total of 803,950 free seedlings for planting during the past few months. Of these, 600,200 were furnished by the North Carolina Pulp Company of Plymouth, 122,000 by the Champion Paper and Fibre Company of Canton, 40,000 by the International Paper Company of Georgetown, S. C. and 41,750 by the North Carolina State Nursery.

Some 53 additional 4-H Club and FFA members have applied for free seedlings, but a shortage of trees will prevent the filling of many of these orders, says Graeber.

In addition, 50 adult farmers have received 148,500 trees from the International Paper Company.

These figures, says Mr. Graeber, are not complete by any means, since many adults, 4-H'ers, and Future Farmers have purchased their own trees. Also, business and civic groups throughout the State have provided seedlings for many boys and girls in their own counties. Among the groups cooperating in the program are Lions Club of Gastonia, Rotary Club of Walnut Cove, Wilkes Chamber of Commerce at Wilkesboro, and A. T. Griffin Manufacturing Company of Goldsboro.

Miss Flanagan Named Representative Of St. John's Parish

Miss Gertrude Flanagan, a member of St. John's parish, was elected first of four state directors of the North Carolina Catholic Laymen's association at its annual state convention in Asheville Sunday afternoon.

The state board of directors comprises the highest ranking officers of the Catholic lay organization.

Miss Flanagan, head of the home economics department, Quality high school, Cherokee, is secretary-treasurer of the local chapter of the Laymen's association.

VIRTUE REWARD UNCLAIMED

WAKEFIELD, Mass. (UP)—There are no takers for a standing $10 prize to any Wakefield youth who proves he has sworn off smoking and drink for five years. A $1,000 fund was established in 1883 by a teetotaler, Jonathan Nicholas, and until World War I prize money was regularly collected. Then things slackened off and in the last 12 years "maybe two or three kids" have applied. Town Clerk Charles C. Cox said.

At Park For Two Days

Mr. and Mrs. Atkins Are Admitted To Georgia Bar

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Atkins of Atlanta, who passed the Georgia law examination last December, were admitted to the Georgia State Bar last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Atkins have been attending evening classes at the Atlanta Law School for the past three years, and have also held other positions in the city. Mr. Atkins is connected with the Veteran's Administration in Atlanta and Mrs. Atkins has a position in the Internal Revenue Department.

Mr. Atkins, a former resident of Waynesville, is the son of Mrs. James Atkins.

Mr. Marley Inducted Into Honor Group

Frederick H. Marley of Waynesville, recently was initiated into Phi Delta Kappa, national honorary fraternity for education students, at Columbia University, New York City.

Mr. Marley is a student in the University's teachers college.

According to men in the field, more salesmen earn $10,000 or more a year than do members of any other profession.
