

Miss Linger Places Second In State Speaking Contest

Mozelle Linger, one of Waynesville High School's more brilliant 1949 graduates, talked herself into $60 this spring.

That's about enough to get her the portable typewriter she wants for writing her classroom assignments when she starts her freshman year at Woman's College in Greensboro next fall.

The girl with the cut of tresses received $10 when she won the regional speaking contest held by the Knights of Pythias.

Then she won $50 more by finishing second in the Knights of Pythias' state-wide contest in Hickory on May 19. Miss Linger represented the Canton Knights of Pythias Lodge in the state competition against three other contestants.

Besides the cash prizes, Miss Linger also earned an insight into the subject of federal control in education.

The subject in the state contest was:

"Should a national government subsidize public education in its state or province—and if so to what extent, if any, should the national government control the education program?"

Miss Linger was accompanied on her trip to Hickory by her speech coach, Miss Margaret Terrell, instructor in the school's English department.

Several members of the Canton lodge also attended the contest.

Masons To Hold Summer Session Here In July

The Summer Assembly of the Grand Council of Royal and Select Masters of North Carolina will be held July 17-19 in Waynesville, Dr. J. R. McCracken, Assembly general chairman, announced yesterday.

He said the sessions would be held at the Masonic Temple and the Armory.

"These meetings," Dr. McCracken added, "have been attended in the past by Masons from throughout a wide area."

"Last summer, 16 different states were represented."

"The Summer Assembly has done much to bring attention to Western North Carolina and the Great Smoky Mountains National Park."

The delegates are expected to spend a day registering and receiving assignments before the Assembly convenes formally.

Flight Club To See Movie At Church

The Spreadout Flight Club will hold an open meeting Friday night at 8 o'clock in the social hall of the First Baptist church. This is a comparatively new organization composed of air-minded teen-age boys of the community who are pooling their interests and skills in model airplane building and flying.

The young engineers and pilots will have a number of their planes on display at the meeting Friday night. These include all types of models, power driven and otherwise.

In an effort to stimulate interest in this interesting hobby, some interested adults have arranged for the showing of a moving picture, "The Age of Flight." The film tells the story of the flight age from the Wright Brothers motor in a box cart to flying fortresses. The whole picture of aviation since Kitty Hawk unfolds, showing the progress, suffering and often the failure it surmounted before the mass production of the world's finest aircraft was achieved.

M. T. Bridges, a local licensed pilot and flying enthusiast, will give the boys the benefit of his experience as owner and pilot of his plane.

Parents and friends of these youngsters are invited to come and lend their moral support to their endeavors.
