Haywood Ready For Varied Fourth

Bishop To Speak

Haywood County people will celebrate the Fourth of July over the long week-end starting tomorrow in a series of colorful services, parades, sports carnivals and traditional fireworks.

Most won't have to go far from their homes to celebrate. Picnics are planned in many communities. Stores, banks, and post offices will be closed all day Monday in observance of Independence Day.

The Hazelwood Boosters Club program, which started last Tuesday, continues through the week-end with entertainment, union services and the special events planned for Independence Day.

A sports carnival and evening patriotic program are planned for Monday, with John J. Parker, of Charlotte, senior judge of the Fourth U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals as principal speaker.

Fireworks will end the observance.

Since Tuesday when the Hazelwood Boosters Club started the presentation of rides, thousands of men, women, and children have flocked to the Waynesville Township High School grounds to ride the ponies, ferris wheel, and take part in the other amusements.

On Saturday night, the Duke of Paducah and his string band will give two performances, starting at 7:15 and 9:15 o'clock.

At the Union Services starting at 8 p. m. Sunday, the Rev. M. R. Williamson, pastor of the Waynesville Presbyterian church, will preach the principal sermon. The services will be conducted jointly by the Presbyterian, Methodist and Baptist churches and the Church of God.

A parade, athletic meet for boys and girls, family contests, and a baseball game will feature the Independence Day celebration.

Picnics sponsored by individual Community Development Program Clubs will be held throughout the week-end.

Lower Crabtree citizens and their guests will hold a picnic supper tomorrow night, starting at 6:30 o'clock, at the Riverside Community Center.

The Creel community's picnic will be held at Beech Gap on the Blue Ridge Parkway at 2 p. m. Monday.

The same day, residents of Iron Duff will gather at 6 p. m. on Frank Davis' farm for a similar event.

Monday's parade through Waynesville and Hazelwood will start at 10 a. m. from the Haywood County Court House.

Marching in the procession will be the Waynesville Township High School junior and senior bands, the members of the American Legion posts of Waynesville and Hazelwood, and the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Boy and Girl Scouts, and National Guard soldiers.

The athletic events and other contests will start at 11 a. m. at the high school field, under the direction of Coach C. E. Weatherly and Assistant Coach Carl Ratcliffe.

The Hazelwood and Canton baseball clubs of the Industrial League will clash at 3 p. m. for the afternoon feature.

Boosters Club President M. H. Bowles announced earlier that half the net proceeds from the week-long program would go to the Waynesville Township High School band.

Farm Tour Plans Made For Aug. 1st

Haywood County farmers and their families will leave here August 1 for a week's tour that will take them on a 1,465-mile inspection tour of Mid-Western agricultural centers.

County Agent Wayne Corpening today announced the detailed itinerary of the 1949 Out-of-State Farm Tour which is sponsored by the test farm organization.

So far, he said, nearly 125 families have already applied to make the trip, most of which will be spent in examining farms and farming methods in Ohio and Indiana.

The county agent added that many features of particular interest to the women also have been arranged for this year's tour.

It won't be all study, either, for the travelers. Many recreational events have been planned to vary the study program.

On route, the party will make stops overnight at Lexington, Ky., Fort Wayne, Indiana, and Huntington, W. Va., staying two nights at Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind.

On their trip, the touring families will visit the horse farms near Lexington, Ky., inspect beef cattle and other live stock farms, go through canneries, and attend demonstrations.

At Purdue, the women will study a frozen foods program, weaving exhibits, and home appliance devices.

The men, meanwhile, will be learning about the better pastures program and pay visits to the livestock experimental, dairy research, and hog and electric farms.

For part of their entertainment, they will hear a concert by a chorus of 1,200 Indiana farm women.

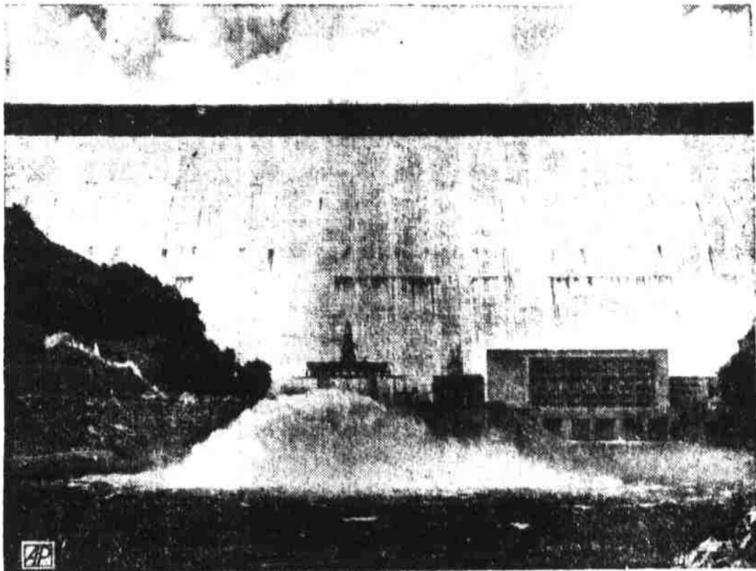

During the trip also they will attend banquets, special suppers, and other social events.

Along the way, also, they will visit poultry processing and other plants, poultry and dairy farms, and agricultural shows.

The tour is scheduled to end back in Waynesville the evening of August 6.

Interior Department Seeking Increased Funds For Parkway, Park Development Projects

Spillway Tunnel Lowers Fontana Water Level

Heavy rain has brought the water level to within 15 inches of capacity in Fontana Dam at Fontana Village, and so the tunnel under the dam has been opened to relieve the pressure. The water is gushing through the tunnel under pressure of 220 pounds per square inch with a momentum estimated at 100 miles per hour, or 2,060 cubic feet of water per second. This TVA project in Graham county is the fourth highest and largest concrete dam in the world.

Rep. Redden Gets Information From Park Service On Proposed Projects

Civic leaders here, and throughout the western part of the state are elated over the recent action of the Park Service and President Truman's interest in the increased appropriation for the Parkway and Park.

In a recent letter to Representative Monroe M. Redden, it was pointed out by Hillary A. Tolson, acting director, that a revision of requested appropriations had been made by the Park Service, and that $13,500,000 would be sought in the budget for completion of these projects, much of it in Haywood County.

Charles E. Ray, chairman of the N. C. Park Commission, said yesterday, "The news from Washington is the most encouraging we have had in a long time. It is definitely a step in the direction of getting some action, and the completion program of the Park and the Parkway underway. Those of us in Western North Carolina and Eastern Tennessee have looked forward to the day when the Federal Government would get right behind the program and complete the projects. The fact that the Interior Department is now making this aggressive move is encouraging to all of us."

Representative Redden, in a letter to Mr. Ray, was also elated over the "very definite and substantial program that has been approved by the Interior Department, and will be submitted to the Congress next spring for its consideration."

Representative Redden has been working on this project for many months, and climaxed his activities by bringing the House Public Lands Committee here for a personal inspection of the area, and a public hearing on the matter.

The letter from Mr. Tolson to Representative Redden on the projects included in the program, is as follows:

We have requested the revision of our preliminary estimates for 1951 to include a total of $13,500,000 for the Blue Ridge Parkway major construction. A copy of your letter and a copy of the resolution passed by the Public Lands Committee on the 31st of May, in connection with the proposed completion of the Blue Ridge Parkway and the further development of the Great Smoky Mountains National Park, have been transmitted to Secretary Krug for his information and in support of the revised estimates for the Parkway.

We do not believe it will be necessary to ask for any increase in our preliminary estimates for 1951 for $15,000,000 each for Road and Trails, and Physical Improvements, since our program for development in the Great Smoky Mountains National Park included the following items which are substantially the same as those recommended by the joint committee representing North Carolina and Tennessee:

1. Heintoo Ridge Comfort Station, $16,700
2. Heintoo Ridge Sewer and Water System, $22,200
3. Balsam Mountain Campground Comfort Stations (2), $17,000

Champion's Net Income Reported

The Champion Paper and Fibre Company's Canton division earned a net of nearly $10,000,000 during the 11 months to March 31.

The figures were contained in the firm's annual report publicized recently.

The company reported it spent about $4,000,000 for improvements and development. This would include its extensive reforestation work.

The net income amounts to $8.70 per share of common stock after dividends were provided on preferred stock.

The report said the net income for the March quarter totalled $2,117,428.

Waynesville Man's Brother Killed

Virgil Sizemore of Waynesville, left by plane Tuesday for Darrington, Wash., after being notified of the death of his brother in an accident.

The brother lost his life when his car left the highway and plunged down a 200-foot embankment into the Sauck River. The body had not been recovered at the time Mr. Sizemore was informed of the tragedy.

Methodist Laymen Make July 20-22 of the layman's place in Methodism's quadrennial program, the Advance for Christ and His Church.

Principal platform speakers at the conference will be Bishop William C. Martin, of Dallas, Texas, chairman of the Advance program, and Dr. E. Harold Mohn, of Chicago, who is executive secretary of the Advance. The third platform speaker will be Dr. James N. Hillman, of Richmond, Virginia, outstanding Methodist layman and Grand Secretary of the Grand Lodge of Masons of Virginia.

Holiday

Banks and stores will be closed all day Monday in observance of Independence Day.

It's a federal holiday also for government workers.

But the post office folks will be working anyway.

Mail shipments will be coming in as usual.

Milk Producers Hosts To 150 At Dairy Banquet

She couldn't come personally, of course, but the cow was the guest of honor at the Waynesville Armory Tuesday night.

Approximately 150 Haywood County milk producers, retailers and distributors, civic and farm leaders, and agricultural specialists paid tribute to the county's most valuable animal at a Dairy Banquet sponsored by the Haywood County Milk Producers Association.

The purpose of the event was to help promote the consumption of milk and milk products.

As J. A. Arey, North Carolina

State College Extension Dairy Specialist

pointed out in his speech, the average North Carolinian drinks half the amount of milk his fellow U. S. citizen consumes.

Association President James Kirkpatrick, was master of ceremonies at the event, where a soft drink fan might have been well come but would have felt somewhat lonesome.

Some of the guests drank coffee, but altogether not much more than it would take to keep a kitten awake.

4-H Members To Leave For Camp July 11

Approximately 100 Haywood County boys and girls will leave here July 11 for a week's vacation at the State 4-H Club Camp at White Lake.

Assistant County Agent Joe Cline advised club members to return the cards sent to them if they are planning to attend so that the proper arrangements can be made.

Accompanying the club members will be 12 local leaders, the assistant county agent added.

Jaycees To Build Benches

Thursday and Friday are Bench Days for members of the Waynesville Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Jaycee President Lester Burgin, Jr., said they will build 10 new benches and give a "new look" to the 15 old ones that are used for tired shoppers in town.

The members will meet at 7:30 p. m. both days in the basement of Howard Jones' radio store to do this work.

New Chapel To Open, Independence Day Fete Set At Lake Junaluska

Sunday and Monday will be red letter dates in the calendar of the Lake Junaluska Assembly.

The former will witness the first public service in the Junaluska Memorial Chapel, now under construction, and Independence Day will feature an old-fashioned celebration, including fireworks.

Judge John J. Parker of Charlotte, senior jurist of the Fourth U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals, will be principal speaker on the Monday evening program at 8 o'clock.

An early morning communion service is set for half past eight o'clock on Sunday. Of this time Bishop Costen J. Harrell of Charlotte, will administer the Holy Communion. He will be assisted by Rev. Dr. F. S. Love, Superintendent of the Assembly; Admiral W. N. Thomas, Chief Chaplain of the United States Navy, and the Rev. Dr. Elmer T. Clark, member of the Junaluska Board of Trustees.

The Memorial Chapel honors the men and women who were in the armed forces of World War II and whose names appeared on the service rolls of Methodist churches in the Southeastern Jurisdiction of The Methodist church. It was built with funds raised by these churches. While not complete, the interior is ready for use and is handsome in its appointments. Its seating capacity is 300; two rows of hardwood pews flank a center aisle of crab orchard stone. The beamed ceiling is especially impressive as are handwrought lantern-shaped ceiling lights. Temporary windows have been installed and will be supplemented later by memorial windows.

Jury List Drawn For Court Term

A two-week July criminal term of Haywood Superior Court will open in Waynesville July 11, with Judge Dan K. Moore of Sylva, resident jurist for the 20th Judicial District, presiding.

Judge Moore will be on duty in this district for the next six months.

The superior court clerk's office indicated today the docket would be very light for a July term, which generally is the busiest of the year.

The list of prospective jurors was drawn up as follows:

First week—Ferguson Duckett, Fines Creek; Miss Frances Ray, Waynesville; Glenn Campbell, Ivy Hill; R. L. Davis, Jonathan Creek; Amos Moody, Jonathan Creek; Clifton Rich, Ivy Hill; Corbit W. Wright, Pigeon; Francis Bradshaw, Iron Duff.

William T. McGaha, Cataloochee; Tom H. Harkins, Beaverdam; G. W. Young, Beaverdam; P. D. Turner, Waynesville; J. G. Tate, Iron Duff; Guy McCracken, Beaverdam; K. L. Burnett, East Fork; Hugh Russell, Clyde.

Ned Crawford, Iron Duff; A. W. Devlin, Beaverdam; Morris T. Brook, Beaverdam; James J. Clark, Fines Creek; Mrs. David Hyatt, Dewey V. Brendle and W. E. Nichols, all of Waynesville; and Grady L. Owen, Beaverdam.

Second week—Gilbert Reeves, Waynesville; Frank Parton, Ivy Hill.

Recreation Commission Ready To Start Work In Rural Area Of County

Jaycees To Concentrate On City Park

Members of the Waynesville Junior Chamber of Commerce at their meeting Monday night, decided to concentrate their recreational development work on the city park.

Jaycee spokesmen later emphasized that the club's recreational project would be restricted to this park.

The action was taken following a discussion of the Jaycee's work toward developing the town's recreational facilities.

4-H Team To Compete In Judging Contest

The four members of the Haywood 4-H Club dairy cattle judging team will leave tomorrow morning for Morrocco Farms near Charlotte where they will compete in a State 4-H and PFA Jersey Cattle Judging Contest.

The boys are Wade Francis and David Noland, both of Ratcliffe Cove; Joe Caldwell of Iron Duff, and Charlie Mainous of Bethel.

The contest is being sponsored by the North Carolina Jersey Cattle Club.

The members of the team will return home tomorrow night.

Golden Rule Basis For New Type Salesmanship

A Pet Dairy Products Company official said Tuesday night a new type of salesmanship emerging in American business is based simply on the Golden Rule.

Maj. L. A. Ballew, company manager from Johnson City, Tenn., told 150 people at a Dairy Banquet in the Waynesville Armory that the modern salesman approaches his prospect with the objective of bringing him benefits.

"He understands his prospect's business problems, finds his needs, then tries to show him that the salesman's product will bring the desired benefits," Major Ballew explained.

This type of salesman now appearing is the latest in the line that started with the door-to-door peddler, who was followed by the drummer, and then so-called "high-pressure" salesman, he added.

Unlike his predecessors, however, the new salesman uses no tricks, does not depend on his personality or his friends to make his point, nor is he merely attempting to get an order for his own profit.

"The idea of benefits, to the prospect, the salesman, and the salesman's company, runs through his whole approach.

"He sees how his product can
