MRS. MAUD WORLEY

Mrs. Maud Worley, 34, wife of a tenant farmer of Canton, died at her home Tuesday afternoon. A coroner's jury summoned by Dr. J. Frank Pate, Haywood County coroner, ruled that "Mrs. Worley came to her death from a self-inflicted wound."

Funeral services were held this afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Dix Creek Methodist Church in Buncombe County. The Rev. Vinson Plemmons and the Rev. Erwin Scott officiated and interment was in the church cemetery.

Surviving in addition to the husband, Johnny Worley, are three children, Charles, Robert, and Linda of the home; the mother, Mrs. Lou Hawkins; three sisters, Mrs. Margaret Heatherly and Mrs. Docie Lee of Buncombe County, and Mrs. Eavey Ledford of Haywood County; two brothers, Mark Hawkins of Buncombe County and George Hawkins of South Carolina. Wells Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

JUSTICE INFANT

Funeral services for Jerry Justice, three-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Justice of Clyde, Route 1, who died Tuesday at the home of the parents after a brief illness were held this morning in Fines Creek Baptist Church.

The Rev. Mr. Bingham, pastor of the Fines Creek Methodist Church, officiated and burial was in the church cemetery.

Surviving in addition to the parents are two brothers, Perry and Kenneth, and one sister, Catherine, all of the home.

Crawford Funeral Home was in charge.

Historic Letter Back

BOSTON (UP)—A letter written in 1659 by Gov. Peter Stuyvesant of New Amsterdam — now New York — to Gov. John Winthrop of Massachusetts is back in the state house from which it was stolen in 1917. An alert Harvard librarian recognized the letter when a New York book dealer offered it for sale for $800.

"Singing On The Mountain" Draws 25,000

Here (top) are some of the 25,000 people from a dozen states who ascended the slopes of Grandfather Mountain near Linville, Sunday for the annual "Singing on the Mountain." The peak of the famed mountain forms an impressive backdrop for the gathering. Loud speaker systems broadcast "mountain music" and sermons throughout the day. Bottom: North Carolina's Lieut. Gov. Pat Taylor (left) addresses the crowd. Beside him is Federal Judge Johnson J. Hayes (center) of North Wilkesboro and Greensboro, and gray bearded Rev. E. S. Gragg (right) who has attended 29 annual "Singsongs on the Mountain."

Dean

The Rev. Aubert M. Smith, pastor of the Wesley Heights Methodist church of Charlotte, is dean of the Young Adult Assembly which will meet at Lake Junaluska July 14 through July 17. The Rev. Paul Worley, minister of Munsey Memorial Methodist church of Johnson City, Tenn., will be inspirational speaker.

Mansion on Hilltop Dedicated to Unity

AFTON, Va. (UP)—A white marble mansion that gleams in the sun atop Afton Mountain near here will become a world cultural center for "the unification of mankind" if the foundation which established it reaches its goal.

It is more than an idle dream to its founders. Colgate W. Darden, president of the University of Virginia and former governor, said at its dedication that the mountain top estate represents "an actual establishment of breadth and vision."

Classes on "the love of God, beauty and the principles of balance in nature" already are being held in the mansion, named "Swannanoa."

The classes are being taught by Dr. Walter Russell, 77-year-old artist and head of the Swannanoa Foundation, which bought the former millionaire's mansion.

More than 700 persons visited Swannanoa when it was opened. Its lower floors have been filled with paintings, sculpture and statuary.

Dr. Russell said the foundation plans to erect a 300-foot statue of Christ on the same Blue Ridge mountain top and later another inspirational statue representing the Sermon on the Mount.
