

At The Strand

A would-be 'tough guy' surrenders to 'reason' when Stephen McNally makes a convincing argument in Universal-International's 'City Across the River.' The victim is Joseph Turkel, while the on-lookers are members of the 'Dukes,' a gang of juvenile hoodlums. Starting tomorrow at the Strand Theatre.

BOOM DAYS MAY BE NEAR FOR TOMBSTONE, ARIZ.

TOMBSTONE, Ariz. (UP)—Boom days may be just around the corner for Tombstone, the town too tough to die.

Fabulous silver and lead mines made this community one of the wildest settlements between El Paso and the Pacific Coast in the 1820s.

There are indications the mines may be revived, but not the lawlessness.

Two large companies have taken out options on the long-dormant properties and are planning to explore for possible new mining. They are the American Smelting and Refining Company and the Anaconda Copper Company. A third concern plans to begin operation soon.

POSTMAN'S LIFE NOT HAPPY

SALEM, N. H. (UP)—Rural letter carriers of southern New Hampshire have something new to combat beside the traditional rain, sleet and snow. Carriers complained that swarming hornets have nested in the letter boxes and drive them off when they try to deliver the mail. They asked residents to spray poison in their boxes.

LOYALTY PARADES PROPOSED

SALEM, Ore. (UP)—Oregon knights of Columbus are advocating nation-wide "loyalty parades" on the first Sunday each May to "offset May Day demonstrations of Communist groups." The Oregon group, at its annual state convention here, voted to present such a resolution to the national knights of Columbus convention to be held in Portland, Ore., in August.

COUGAR TOO HUNGRY

DALLAS, Ore. (UP)—A six-foot mountain lion killed a milk goat on a farm near here. The goat was so tasty the cougar couldn't quit stuffing. It ate to the point of stupor and went to sleep. Dogs came and the big cat was barely able, sluggishly, to climb a tree. There the farmer, Albert Cook, killed it with ease. He collected $60 bounty.

Bighorn Rarity Show

SAN DIEGO (UP)—The first Nelson bighorn ram to be born in captivity has been put on exhibit at the San Diego zoo. Zoo officials said the extremely rare Nelson bighorn sheep were brought to the zoo here in 1947 by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service. The parents have been named Elmer and Irma, but as yet no name has been given the youngster.

Bishop Speaks Out

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (UP)—William Appleton Lawrence of the western Massachusetts Episcopal Diocese figured out his church members contribute less than three cents weekly to religious services. Trouble is, the bishop said, "many are unconvicted Christians—lukewarm, half-hearted with a completely casual and irresponsible attitude towards the obligations they have assumed."

SLUGAN MADE GOOD

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UP)—A dump truck with the slogan "we move the earth" printed on its side caused a small earth tremor when it crashed into a concrete mixer and 9,000 pounds of concrete oozed into the street.

Airplanes Into Furniture Revises Biblical Saying

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (UP)—The old saying about beating swords into plowshares has been modernized. When the war ended, the Cessna Aircraft Company converted its Hutchinson plant to the manufacture of "prairie modern" furniture. Now "prairie modern" is on sale in the major stores across the country. Cessna makes furniture with precision construction. Each piece is finished and assembled, engineered for stability and with a baked finish impervious to boiling water, stains and fingernail polish.

Bees Lay Siege

WINTHROP, Mass. (UP)—A swarm of 25,000 bees threw an iron curtain in front of Joseph J. Mackey's house, the bees settle in a front yard tree and forced the Mackey family to use the rear entrance until a beekeeper captured the swarm.

Plug Pulled

WEST GLOUCESTER, R. I. (UP)—John Fagan, caretaker of Casimir Pulaski Memorial Forest, reported to work to find the 30-acre Peck's Pond had disappeared. Investigation revealed someone had pulled the plug by sawing off a padlocked chain on a dam valve and let the water run out.

Richard Is Scientific

SAN DIEGO (UP)—Young Richard Szakacs has designed a soap box racer of revolutionary shape and is building the car to enter in the 1949 soap box derby. Richard has constructed a miniature wind tunnel to try out different designs to test wind resistance and now has completed his plans and started construction of the racer itself.

EMERGENCY MET

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UP)—The bride and bridegroom showed up in plenty of time but the maid of honor was in tears. She had a run in a stocking. A guest quickly slipped off her stockings and donated them.

BLIND STUDENT TRIUMPHS

HANOVER, N. H. (UP)—Edward L. Glaser, a 19-year-old blind sophomore at Dartmouth College, won a top analytical geometry and calculus prize. Aided by his "phenomenal memory," his professors said the Glencoe, Ill., youth took the prize in competition with normal students. Glaser told a proctor what to write after questions were read to him.

Education Goes Fishy

(AP Newsfeature) NORMAN, Okla. — Students at the University of Oklahoma will get college credits for going fishing. A course in techniques and methods in fishery biology will be given this summer by the university on Lake Texoma in southeastern Oklahoma. Students will live on a barge 60 feet long and 20 feet wide and will spend most of their time fishing.

MICE GET TOASTED

GREAT LAKES, Ill. (UP)—Capt. J. B. Stanard, Jr., fiscal control officer at the naval training center here, wondered why his electric toaster wouldn't work. When he took it apart, he found a mother mouse and three baby mice inside. All dead.

TO DIE FOR SCIENCE

CHICAGO (UP)—The current issue of the Journal of the American Veterinary Medical Association reports that 5,000 cattle were slaughtered to obtain 1,000,000 doses of foot-and-mouth disease vaccine being manufactured in Mexico. First flying time between Miami and Buenos Aires was 11 days. Today it is less than 22 hours.

NCPA President

R. E. PRICE (above), editor and publisher of the Rutherford County News, is the new president of the North Carolina Press Association. He was elected at the recent meeting in Nags Head. He has long been a church and civic leader in Rutherfordton.

Mule Loses Job

SOMERVILLE, Tenn. (UP)—A farmer who has been operating an old-fashioned sorghum mill decided it was cheaper to buy tractor oil than oats. So he hooked his green tractor to replace the mule on the end of the long pole which made the mill go around.

Dry Reception

CHICAGO (UP)—Henry Kurth looked forward happily to the wedding of his daughter, Marilyn, 20, and began to save whiskey for the reception. A month before the wedding burglars broke into Kurth's home and took the whiskey, valued at $200. They also took $25 of his savings.

Loading Made Easy

WAVERLY, Tenn. (UP)—"Sons of rest" have things nice at the county court house. There is a concrete bench all around the court house grounds. At intervals there also are flat-topped posts with a checkerboard painted on each. In addition to Judge Redwine, presiding officers include: Bishop William T. Watkins, Louisville, Ky.; Dr. Wicker, Dr. Prewitt and Dr. A. L. Gunter, Sumter, S. C.

Junaluska Audience Told That 'World Advancing Scientifically Though Spiritually,' Jordan

The Rev. Dr. G. Ray Jordan, outstanding minister and educator who holds a chair at Emory University school of religion, was the Sunday morning preacher at Lake Junaluska Assembly, speaking from the platform of the outdoor auditorium.

Declaring that both the records of history and the life of Christ shed enough light to enable man to avoid disasters that threaten civilization, Dr. Jordan asserted that western civilization "have traveled so far scientifically and materially that 'one soul have not caught up with us.'" His sermon topic was "Light Enough," and he based his thesis on the Scripture from John 8:12, "I am the Light of the World."

"There is light enough shed by the records of the past," said the speaker. "For us to see what to avoid and where to walk in the present. When we have a chance to choose a life higher value in character or in state-ministry and we choose the lower, we are poorer and may lose life itself. This is a tested truth."

"We are often confused about the meaning of life, but there is light enough to see that if the principal is true there must be a Person to give it the enforcement of reality. God is more than we think, but any man who thinks long enough can see the end in the world is too great for any man to handle alone. God is not a luxury but a necessity. When we venture forth in industrial, social and political relationships, to act like we thought the God of Christ were a reality, we become convinced there is a supporting Power to make right triumph."

DOCTOR HOOKED

EVERETT, Mass. (UP)—Usually it's the patient who pays the doctor but not always. A local physician treated a patient who offered a $10 check in payment for a $3 fee. The doctor gave the patient $7 cash in return. The doctor later discovered it had cost him $1 a stitch to remove seven stitches from the patient's arm. The check was no good.

All the planes ordered this year by the armed forces represent less than two weeks' output of the aircraft industry at peak war capacity.
