

County Farming Trainees Study Forestry Projects On Recent Bent Creek Tour

The 90 members of the veterans farm training class of the Waynesville High School recently made a field trip and a tour of the Bent Creek Experimental Forest. The area comprising 6,300 acres held much interest for the young farmers, which are being directed by John H. Ne-hitt.

Forester John E. Ford explained to the class "Forest Products on the farm as a cash crop," while Forester W. G. Wahlenberg made a talk on the projects and work being carried on at the station.

Fred Noland's farm, which is one of the unit test demonstration farms in the area, was a good example of what can be done to increase the farm income on a small farm. Fred has a six-stall dairy barn which he just completed, and he is also going into the production of hatching eggs.

Then over to Fincher's Chapel Methodist Church to see one of the outstanding small churches to be found anywhere. Rev. C. O. Newell, who is pastor, stated that this outstanding church was built through the cooperation of everyone working together for a better church in the community.

Then back to the Crabtree Iron Duff School, where Marshall Kirkpatrick (who is chairman of the Lower Crabtree Community) had their guests, the Panther Creek Community, to line up for a bountiful dinner served by the women of the Lower Crabtree Community. Glenn Fincher, chairman of the Panther Creek Community, lined up approximately 135 persons from his community, and Lower Crabtree had about 100 persons present. After a wonderful dinner enjoyed by everyone, the group assembled at the Crabtree-Iron Duff auditorium for singing.

Charles L. Eley, director of music at the Waynesville High School, first led the groups in singing and then told how he would judge the different groups. Lower Crabtree Community sang first, being led by the Rev. Mrs. C. O. Newell, and then gave a quartet number with the members as follows: Millard Ferguson, Mrs. W. C. Kirkpatrick, Bill Bryson, and Wilma Sanford. The Panther Creek Community singing was led by Glenn Fincher, and their quartet was made up as follows: Glenn Fincher, Charles Messer, Carl Arrington, and Carmen Arrington. Lower Crabtree Community won in the group singing, and Panther Creek won in the quartet.

The athletic events were as follows: SOFTBALL—(men) Panther Creek line-up: M. Messer, F. Fullbright, C. Arrington, H. Arrington, C. McDonald, C. Messer, V. Messer, E. Bradley, and G. Fincher. Lower Crabtree line-up: T. Noland, Beasley Davis, C. Ferguson, A. Ferguson, F. Lowe, J. Ferguson, P. Noland, and J. Love.

An interesting subject was "Growing Christmas Trees on the farm as a cash crop."

The class saw a plot where laurel had been replaced by white pine. "As all the farms these trainees are farming have some woodland, the trip was of much value to them," Mr. Ne-hitt explained. "Many of the wood, need thinking, and some need seedlings to plant."

It was pointed out that several veterans plan to make application for seedlings through the county agents office next March.

In closing the tour, the foresters brought out the need of constant fire protection in forests, and also pointed out the harmful effects of grazing to the woods by livestock.

Following the luncheon at the picnic grounds, the class heard details of means for securing seedlings and a discussion of the soil types suitable for farm woodlands.

SOFTBALL—(women) Panther Creek line-up: M. Messer, F. Fullbright, C. Arrington, H. Arrington, C. McDonald, C. Messer, V. Messer, E. Bradley, and G. Fincher. Lower Crabtree line-up: T. Noland, Beasley Davis, C. Ferguson, A. Ferguson, F. Lowe, J. Ferguson, P. Noland, and J. Love.
