petition, with Saunook holding the edge.

When the points were added up, the results showed Saunook's contestants had defeated their hosts, 260-146.

Bob Boone, chairman of the Francis Cove Community Development Program, was in charge of the luncheon, while R. N. Barber, Jr., chairman of the program in Saunook, headed the visitors.

The farm tour started at Walter Hollingsworth's, on the highway, where the group inspected his pasture demonstration; then on to Henry Francis' to see his Ladino clover and orchard grass pasture.

At Louie Siler's the group saw a home beautification project; then proceeded to Richard Boone's to look at his excellent field of hybrid corn.

At Bob McCracken's the group paused for a view of the Francis Cove Community and the McCracken Orchard, and at Will Boone's they saw his home beautification and improvement project.

At Henry Francis' they saw an excellent home improvement project, a new dairy barn and cold storage plant; then to R. H. Boone's to see his poultry house and orchard.

At Vinson McElroy's the group saw a fine example of truck farming. Mr. McElroy has been in this business for a number of years.

The group then made their way to the Francis Cove Church, where the bountiful dinner was served. During the entertainment that followed the lunch, there was group singing led by H. H. Eavenson, and a trio of Mary Evelyn Plemmons, Juanita Hill, and Doris Queen, of Saunook.

said the visibility from the street on the north side is good. An observer has a view of 100 yards east to the depot in the next block, and about a half mile down the track westward.

The home of the Kings and Mr. Snyder is Clyde route 1.

Those surviving in addition to his son are the widow, one granddaughter, three brothers, Plato, of Canton, Dan of Clyde, Branton, of the Crabtree section, three sisters, Mrs. Will Messer, of Crabtree, Mrs. Theodore Messer, of Clyde, and Miss Nova King, of Crabtree.

The funeral will be held at 2 p. m. Wednesday afternoon at the Rock Springs Baptist Church, with the Rev. Doyle Miller officiating. Burial will be in the Rock Springs cemetery.

The body will remain at the home until time of the funeral.

Mr. King's body was taken to Wells Funeral Home in Canton for funeral arrangements.

The tragedy occurred within sight of the crossing at the depot where six men were injured when another Southern Railway locomotive crashed into a work bus late this spring.

Allens Creek Beats Ratcliffe Cove, 14 to 9

By MRS. BLANCHE FRANKLIN, Mountaineer Correspondent

Allens Creek's Oldsters whipped Ratcliffe Cove's Oldsters, 14-9, Saturday in a softball game before the large crowd that defied the rain to come to the Allens Creek field.

The Ratcliffe Cove team of older men has Lem Leonard as manager, while Elwood Caldwell pilots the Allens Creek nine.

The Ratcliffe Cove men will have a chance to even the count, however, for a return match is scheduled for the near future.

Saunook People Met Friday

By JEAN HALL, Mountaineer Correspondent

The people of Saunook drew plans for their Field Day with Francis Cove at their regular meeting, which was held last Friday.

The Field Day program was held the following day. County Agent Wayne Corpening attended the session to assist in drawing up the plans.

N. L. Stephens presided in the absence of Community Chairman R. N. Barber, Jr.

Refreshments were served by the refreshments committee.

The next regular meeting was set for August 5 at the Saunook School.

"The need is for more than organization; more than the mere machinery; more than a slogan; more than a program.

"The machine needs fuel, and the fuel most needed is the power of God unto salvation. Men are as much in need of God today as in any day.

"We need to act on our faith that Christ is as powerful, just as surely the matchless pattern of a good life, and just as compassionately anxious to save men as when he walked the shores of Galilee.

"The latest figures indicate that 73 to 75 millions of the United States population are members of some church. Yet, many church members are drinking highballs, attending cocktail parties,
