Hack Away, Duffer! A 10 In 1930 Texas Open Taught Nelson A Lesson

By FRANK ECK
 AP Newswriters Sports Editor
NEW YORK—The inconsistent golfer has little difficulty remembering his pars or birdies. By the same token the pro golfer can't forget "There were woods on the left of the fairway and I hooked several drives into the woods. I came up with an eight." He can't remember the off in a minute or less his worst holes.
 Take Byron Nelson, for example. In 1945 the Fort Worth, Tex., star set a record for tournament golf when he won $52,541. In 1939 he won the United States Open. Yet nine years earlier, as an amateur he shot a 10 in the Texas Open at the Breckinridge Park Country Club at San Antonio.
First of a Series
 "It was during the first round of play," recalls Nelson. "It happened on the 15th hole at Breckinridge during the Texas Open. I was playing in front of Gene Sarazen and was leading him at the time. I thought I was a real hot shot in golf.
 "I thought I had this particular tournament sewed up. Well, the San Antonio river runs right through the fairway at the 15th hole. I hit a shot in the water. Then I drove five more balls in the water and finally came up with a 10.
 "Gene had a four on the hole and finished with a 71 and won the tournament. I finished in 76.
 "From then on it taught me not to tend to my own business and not worry about the other fellow."

BYRON NELSON "Don't Worry About Others"

As a pro, Nelson recalls, he can't remember the off in a minute or less his worst holes.

Hazelwood Stops Ecusta In 10th

Squeeze Bunt By Glen Wyatt Nets Winning Run

After battling through nine innings in the book happen the Hazelwood nine captured their second straight extra inning game by squeezing across the winning run in the bottom of the tenth to defeat the Ecusta team here Saturday afternoon, 11 to 10.
 The fans had little chance to relax as both teams rapped the ball at a steady clip to score in almost every inning, with first one team leading and then the other.
 Skipper Elmer Dudley opened the bottom of the tenth with a single and advanced to second on a wild pitch. Oliver Yount hunted safely down the first base line to move Dudley to third. After Yount took second, Bob Pitts was purposely passed to load the bases. With the infield drawn in close, Glen Wyatt dumped a perfect squeeze bunt down the first base line to score Dudley with the winning marker.

 Jack Ammons went the route for the locals and although hit hard, was tight in the pinches to rack up his fifth loop win. Rusty Carland, who hurled the 10th inning, was charged with the loss.
 Oliver Yount paced the local batsmen with four bingles in six trips while Dockens and Clayton each had three for five for Ecusta. Jack Case rapped out three for five for the locals.

Waynesville Invitation Golf Tournament Set For Week Of August 13 At Club

Muzzle Loaders To Be Chartered In Next Month

The fourth annual Waynesville Country Club Invitation Golf Tournament will open the week of August 13 on the club's 6,210 yard par 71 course.
 Charlie Putnam of Waynesville will be back to defend the title he won last year. But indications are that there will be more shotmakers after it than the field of 30 that competed in last year's event.
 Denton Brown, club caddy-master and member of the tournament committee, said today the tourney officials expected a larger group of contenders.
 The entrants may shoot their 18-hole qualifying round either August 13, 14, or 15.
 Match play will open August 16 with one 18-hole round scheduled for that day, and 18-hole rounds also set for the next two days.
 On August 19, the finalists will shoot for the title in a round of 36 holes.
 The finals of the other events will be held over 18-hole rounds. Entries are to be filed with Ray Raynor, the Country Club pro who is directing the tournament.
 Other members of the tournament committee in addition to Mr. Brown are Aaron Prevost, R. L. Prevost, Sr., and Jim Quinn.
 The tournament will be conducted under the rules of the U. S. Golf Association. The tournament committee will have the final decision on all questions that arise in the tournament.
 The Federal Housing Administration does no building and makes no loans. It insures housing loans.
