PSALMS GIVE THANKS TO GOD

SONGS OF PRAISE RISE TO JEHOVAH

Scriptures—Psalms 92; 103; 136:1-9, 25, 26.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
 THIS LESSON is about thankfulness—more especially, praise to God for all His goodness to men.

It is good in these days, when our hearts are largely concentrated on the ills of the world, to remember our blessings and to give thanks for them.

This is a lesson which should be taught to children from the time they are able to say "thank-you," so that they may remember it all their lives.

Adults are not always gracious in their appreciation of what others do for them. We have all experienced ingratitude in those for whom we have done favors. Possibly we have not always shown those who have been good to us how much we value their kindness. We should be reminded of these remissions and correct them.

During the reigns of David and his son, Solomon, the Hebrew people enjoyed the highest peak of well-being. The nation was triumphant in battle—renowned write down a list of their blessings. They probably would be surprised what a long list it would be. Surely we should take time not only to think of all the things for which we should be thankful, but to give praises and thanks for them.

The psalmist mentions every instrument of praise that a temple could furnish, and then adds the music of a thankful heart to them.

"Bless the Lord, O my soul; and all that is within me, bless His holy name."
 "Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all His benefits."
 "Who forgiveth all thine iniquities; who healeth all thy diseases."
 "Who redeemeth thy life from destruction; who crowneth thee with loving kindness and tender mercies."
 "Who satisfieth thy mouth with good things; so that thy youth is renewed like the eagle's."
 In spite of the horrible cruelties that have been practised on thousands of people in recent years, there are those who have escaped in miraculous ways and now are living happily—and we hope thankfully—renewing their lives in friendly lands.

We would like to quote all this great Psalm (103) but space forbids it. It can be read aloud in a short space of time, however.

The 136th Psalm "was known in the liturgical language of the Jews as the Great Hallel. . . . At the laying of the foundation stone of the second temple it is recorded that the priests and Levites answered one another in giving thanks to Jehovah, saying, For He is good and His loving kindness endureth forever toward Israel."

"O give thanks unto the Lord; for He is good; for His mercy endureth forever."
 "O give thanks unto the God of gods; for His mercy endureth forever."
 "To Him that by wisdom made the heavens. . . . To Him that stretched out the earth above the waters; To Him that made great lights: The sun to rule by day; The moon and stars to rule by night; for His mercy endureth forever."

MEMORY VERSE

"It is a good thing to give thanks unto Jehovah."—Psalms 92:1.

for its feats of arms and for its prosperity and the wisdom of its kings.

David, when he was alone, pondered these things and burst forth into praise for all the goodness of Jehovah. He had been a humble shepherd lad. Now he was a powerful king reigning in splendor over a people who loved and admired him. Thus he bursts forth:

"It is a good thing to give thanks unto the Lord, and to sing praises unto Thy name, O most High:

"To show forth Thy loving kindness in the morning, and Thy faithfulness every night,
 "Upon an instrument of ten strings, and upon the psaltery; upon the harp, with a solemn sound.

"For Thou, Lord, hast made me glad through Thy work: I will triumph in the works of Thy hands.
 "Oh Lord, how great are Thy works! and Thy thoughts are very deep. A brutish man knoweth not, neither doth a fool understand this."
