ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

The statutes of the Lord are right, rejoicing the heart; the commandment of the Lord is pure, enlightening the eyes.
Let the words of my mouth, and the meditation of my heart, Thy sight, O Lord, my strength.
Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path; I have sworn that I will keep Thy judgment.
I have gone astray like a lost sheep, but I do not forget Thy commandments; MEMORY VERSE—Psalm 105:2.

Youngsters Hold Down Hazelwood Church Positions

There will be an election at the Hazelwood Baptist Church tomorrow night.

The Board of Deacons (junior grade) will decide how much to pay the church's new pastor (also junior grade).

The election will be one of the highlights of the week's reign of the youngsters in the church offices. They will conduct the Sunday service before returning the church to the hands of their elders.

Jarvis Brock, filling in as pastor for the week in the place of the Rev. M. L. Lewis, will preach the sermon at the 11:00 A. M. services, while Farrell Sutton will be in charge of the Training Union meeting at 7 P. M. in his capacity as director.

During the evening services, scheduled to start at 8 o'clock, the youngsters also will be the principal speakers.

Nearly 50 of the young men and women of the church have been serving capably in the institution's offices during the week.

Dr. Judson Vipperman, a visiting minister, delivered an address Tuesday night that applied to both the young people and the adults.

Jarvis took over the pulpit Wednesday night to address the congregation during the evening services.

Tonight also, the Youth Choir will rehearse under Chorister Billy Whitener for the Sunday services.

Acting as chairman for the young board of deacons tomorrow night will be Bobby Buchanan.

HURT TWO WAYS

SPOKANE, Wash. (UP)—John Dyke was doubly dismayed when a parked truck slipped its brakes, careened across the street and smashed his car. Along with a caved-in rear end, Dyke noticed a ticket for over-time parking.

Psalmist Exalts the Word of God

HIS STATUTES ARE RIGHT, REJOICING THE HEART

Scripture—Psalm 119:7-14, 105, 119.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL.

TO LEAD good lives—to keep the moral law—that is the task of everyone in the world. Laws and customs vary in different countries, but there are moral laws which are the same in every land and every religion—to love God with all your heart and your neighbor as yourself.

If everyone tried to honestly live up to these simple stated rules, which Jesus said were the two most important in the law, how changed the world would be!

In today's lesson the teachings of our Bible are exalted. The Lord's statutes are perfect, converting the soul, says the psalmist.

In last week's lesson we had assigned the first six verses of Psalm 119. Now we have the remainder of the Psalm:

"The law of the Lord is perfect, converting the soul, the testimony of the Lord is sure, making wise the simple.

"The statutes of the Lord are right, rejoicing the heart; the as knowledge advances. History books are revised because we learn more of historical movements and factors. But the moral laws as set forth in the Bible are sure. They never change.

We may sin from ignorance and from "hidden" offenses, and be forgiven. Sins that are committed willfully and with defiance, are not so easily pardoned. David prayed to be restrained from such desperate acts, beseeching God that the words of his mouth and the meditations of his heart might be found acceptable in His sight. Wouldn't it be marvelous to so live that we could feel that God would approve of all our acts—even of your thoughts?

The 119th Psalm begins, as Jesus' Sermon on the Mount does, with the word "Blessed." "Blessed are the undefiled in the way, who walk in the law of the Lord.

"Blessed are they that keep His testimonies, and that seek Him with the whole heart."

"Wherewithal shall a young man cleanse his way? By taking commandment of the Lord is pure, enlightening the eyes.

MEMORY VERSE
"Sing unto Him, sing praises unto Him, Talk ye of all His marvelous works.—Psalm 105:2.

"The fear of the Lord is clean, enduring forever; the judgments of the Lord are true and righteous altogether.

"More to be desired are they than gold; moreover, by them is Thy servant warned, and in keeping of them there is great reward."

David had reason to know the truth of this latter part of his Psalm, for he was indeed unhappy—heartbroken—when he broke the Lord's laws, and only knew peace of mind when he acknowledged his fault and felt he was forgiven.

The Psalm continues: "Who can understand his errors? Cleanse Thou me from secret faults.

"Keep back Thy servant also from presumptuous sins; let them not have dominion over me; then shall I be upright, and I shall be innocent from the great transgression.

"Let the words of my mouth, and the meditation of my heart, O Lord, my strength, and my redeemer."
