

Labor Day

Labor Day is intended to honor those who toil and to that idea we heartily subscribe. It is always good to remember that prosperity cannot come to one group of workers to the exclusion of other groups. Whether we work on the farm or in the mill, whether we work with our hands or with our brains, we are all toiling together for the maintenance of our American Way of Life. Each needs the friendly cooperation of the other.

At Canton, Labor Day has always been an occasion for rejoicing over the fine spirit which has prevailed throughout our community, a spirit of cooperation between all elements which has resulted in progress, prosperity and happiness.
