Mission Emphasis Week To Open Here Sunday

Approximately 20 missionaries representing state, home and foreign fields will be stationed in Haywood county September 4 through September 9 in connection with the observance of Mission Emphasis Week.

A different speaker will address the congregations each night at the Baptist churches taking part in the observance.

Among the missionaries who are to be assigned to Haywood are: Dr. Earle L. Bradley of Raleigh, Dr. E. L. Spivey of Charlotte, and the Rev. J. C. Pipes of Asheville, all field secretaries from their respective offices; Mrs. John Wacaster, field representative from the Raleigh office of the Women's Missionary Union; and the Rev. J. E. Pearson, Brushy Mountain associational missionary from North Wilkesboro.

Canton Negro School Library Needs Books

A. J. Hutchins, Canton city schools superintendent, this week appealed to Haywood County citizens for aid in helping get the new school for Negroes accredited.

Among the immediate needs for which school funds are not available, he said, is the need for library books.

The educator added, however, that discarded textbooks, out-dated references, and sets of books "that you and I bought and did not read" will not satisfy the need.

Specifically, he said, books on the following subjects are wanted, with the number of volumes sought also listed:

HOME MISSIONARY

MISS PEARL GIFFORD
Missionary to Home Mission Board, Atlanta. Native of West Virginia, and graduate of W. Va. University and W.M.U. Training School, Ky. Now working at the Good Will Center in Baltimore, Md.

HOME MISSIONARY

REV. FRANK DIMAGGIO
Field worker for Home Mission Board, Atlanta. Native of Italy, now working with Italians in Alabama. Came to America in 1917. Graduate of Baptist Bible Institute, La.

FOREIGN MISSIONARY

MISS MARJORIE SPENCE
Missionary to Chile since 1923. A native of Kipling, N. C., and graduate of Meredith, W.M.U. Training School, Louisville, Ky. A former public school teacher in the state.

Five copies, philosophy and conduct; 10 copies, religion; 20 copies on social sciences; 10 on customs and holidays; one new edition of an unabridged dictionary; one French-English dictionary; 20 books on science subjects; 25 on the useful arts;

Ten on the fine arts; 25 on prose literature; 25 on poetry; one modern Atlas; 25 on geography and travel; 55 on biography; 85 history; 100 standard fiction and story; and one year book or almanac.

Mr. Hutchins said anyone wanting to donate any of these books on the approved library list should send them to the Reynolds High School Library. Mr. Davis, the principal, will be glad to accept them.

People in the Waynesville area can make donations through the school executives there.

"A few years ago," Mr. Hutchins said, "a number of interested citizens met in Haywood County and expressed great vocal interest in doing something for the colored people."

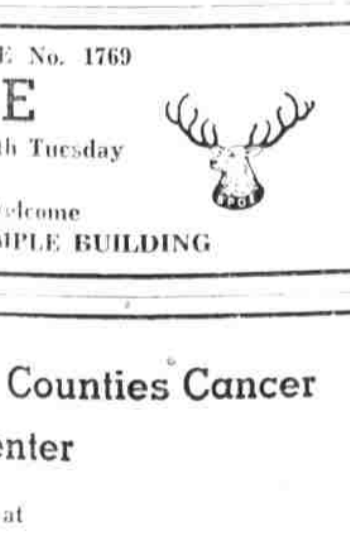

"In the course of their vocal interest, they took the school executives and the school board to task severely for not having built a school house."

"Now these executives have built an excellent school structure and have spent all funds available in supplying furnishings for it."

"If those people who previously expressed great concern for the colored people will now get their faith and their works in the same column we shall be glad to accept any help they may give to supplement the efforts of the school executives in making the school standard."

In conclusion, he said: "Let us kindle anew the religious fervor we expressed a few years ago about doing good for our colored people and get the books we need."

FOREIGN MISSIONARY

DR. H. H. McMILLIAN
Missionary to China since 1913. A native of Wagram, N. C., and graduate of Wake Forest and the Southern Seminary, Louisville, Ky. One of the missionaries interned at Shanghai by the Japanese.

FOREIGN MISSIONARY

MISS ALDA GRAYSON
Missionary to China since 1921. Native of Rutherfordton. Graduate of Meredith, W.M.U. Training School, and a Registered Nurse. She has been a nurse in China and now doing evangelistic work.

Oklahoma Plas Center For Polio Treatment

OKLAHOMA CITY (UP)—Because Oklahoma's polio outbreak forced cancellation of several county 4-H club summer camps, a new medical center for the treatment of polio and other contagious diseases will open here this fall.

The center, at the University of Oklahoma Hospital, has been planned by officials for some time but lack of funds has kept its opening date far in the future until now.

The state 4-H Club has started a county-by-county drive among its members to collect $5,000 for the center by mid-August. The money will pay for remodeling two surplus buildings at University Hospital. When work on the buildings is completed, the center will open.

Many Improvements At White Oak In Recent Weeks Under CD Program

By MISS JUANITA MESSER, Mountaineer Correspondent

Improvements continue in White Oak community under the Community Development Program.

During the past few weeks alone these have been accomplished:

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Davis have bought a new dining room suite, new stove, and have made a number of improvements on their lawn.

The community residents have painted the Baptist Church, both inside and outside, and have bought a bus to transport people to and from church.

In addition to these things, they also have cleaned all the cemeteries in the community.

Mrs. W. L. Messer is underpinning her house and is installing a new kitchen sink and cabinets. Juanita Messer has bought a new wardrobe, and Hugh and Ode Messer have purchased a wood saw. Mr. and Mrs. Odie Fish have painted their house and installed a new kitchen sink. Oliver Parton has re-roofed his house. Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Jenkins, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Hunter, and Mr. and Mrs. Francis Teague have bought new stoves. James Messer has seeded his lawn, and several other people have made various improvements.

The name Miranda has been assigned by Dr. Gerald P. Kuiper of the Yerkes Observatory to a new satellite of the planet Uranus which he discovered in February, 1948.

Dropped Egg Ruse Fails To Fool Alert Cashier

CHICAGO (UP)—Mrs. Margaret Peters, cashier in a currency exchange, curbed her courtesy and saved $7,000.

A man dropped a bag of eggs on the floor of the exchange. He asked Mrs. Peters for a mop.

Stop in hand, Mrs. Peters prepared to open the door of her bullet-proof cage. Then she saw the man had been joined by a confederate.

She pushed a button, touching off a jangling holdup alarm and the two men fled.

"Private Eye" Catches Thief Purple-Handed

BAY CITY, Mich. (UP)—Instead of red-handed, a thief was caught purple-handed in the robbery of a garage.

Philip Ro-enberger, a "private eye" hired to investigate the disappearance of money from the garage cash register, sprinkled the bills with a powder that causes the hand to turn purple when touched.

He arrested Howard Robinson, 22, whose hands were stained purple and in whose pocket he found a dollar bill with purple stains.
