His long enough to provide Bethel with a double-header every week-end until Bowl time.

He said the squad would accept some of the offers, principally from small schools in adjoining counties, and hoped to play the "B" teams of Canton and Waynesville.

As for the playing field, he said the team would have to obtain use of the Canton or Waynesville gridirons, which are lighted for night games.

The schedule, he indicated, would be so arranged that Bethel would play on nights when either of the larger schools were playing away from home.

Meanwhile, work started immediately afterward to raise the remainder of the equipment fund through further donations from private individuals or firms in the area and the rest of the county.

Mr. Evans explained at the meeting that contributions for the equipment would be necessary only to launch Bethel's football team on its first season.

After that, the school officials expected that football would be self-supporting, as it has proven to be at other schools and colleges throughout the nation.
