

If Yankees Win, It Will Be Triumph For Doctors

By FRANK ECK (AP Newfeatures)

NEW YORK—If the Yankees win the American League pennant an assist is due Dr. Sidney S. Gaynor. He's the Yankee team physician and the man who helps put nine able-bodied players on the field.

The Yankees have suffered some 63 various injuries and ailments this season, making Dr. Gaynor's job pretty much of a full-time operation.

In his second year with the baseball team and third with the Yankee football team, Dr. Gaynor says "If you had that many injuries with a football team people would say you didn't know your business."

The doctor, who put in four years with the Navy Medical Corps, starting as a lieutenant and winding up a commander, had two years early in the war with the Marine Corps at Okinawa. Born in New York City, he is a graduate of CCNY where he competed as a backstroke swimmer in the early 20's.

"For winning spirit you can't beat the Yankees," says Dr. Gaynor. "There is no begging off because of an injury on this team. The spirit is terrific. Take Henry, for example. He broke his toe in Washington and I thought he'd be out for a week. There he was ready to play the next day. And Joe DiMaggio—well, he's the greatest competitor I've ever seen."

"Sometimes it's tough to tell Manager Casey Stengel about a player's injury. But that's part of my job. I must tell Casey. The players won't do it. They want to play too badly."

Dr. Gaynor, an orthopedic surgeon with a private practice, says the main thing is the judgment of time. "I've got to be able to tell when an injured player is ready," he says. "If the doctor boots one no one forgives him."

About Henry's injured back the doctor says it's a fracture of the transverse process of the lumbar vertebrae due to direct impact. "It's a common football injury," he says, "but it doesn't leave permanent disability."

With the start of the football season, Dr. Gaynor has been doing a good portion of his sleeping in Pullmans. When the football Yankees played Cleveland an exhibition in Akron he went with the team, leaving the baseball Yankees in Cleveland. Then he went back to Cleveland to pick up the baseball team and returned to New York. After a recent football game in Charlotte, N. C., the doc stopped off at Washington to treat Henry and Yogi Berra. He returned with the baseball team.

Here's a partial list of some of the injuries and ailments suffered by the Yankee baseball team this season:

- Joe DiMaggio—Missed first 65 games following right heel operation. Missed four games due to shoulder injury while sliding.
 - Tommy Henrich—Injured back, knee, ribs and broken toe.
 - Tommy Byrne—Sinus and fever.
 - John Lindell—Ankle and knee injuries.
 - Charlie Keller—Pulled side muscle and neck injury.
 - Bobby Brown—Turned ankle and stomach trouble.
 - Phil Rizzuto—Concussion.
 - George Stinewiss—Neuritis in left hand.
 - Gerry Coleman—Sinus.
 - Yogi Berra—Fractured thumb and numerous bruises.
 - Charley Silvera—Spiked and hit on head.
 - Gus Natchez—Fractured toe.
 - Cliff Mapes—Leg injury on foul tip.
 - Hank Bauer—Sprained ankle and back injury.
 - Gene Woodling—Injured throwing arm, knee and shoulder.
 - Jack Phillips—Shoulder sprain.
 - Dick Kryhoski—Ankle and wrist strains.
 - Joe Page—Infected toe.
 - Ed Lopat—Sore shoulder.
 - Bob Porterfield—Torn muscles in pitching elbow.
 - Frank Shea—Injured neck affected throwing.
 - Frank Sanford—Elbow sprain and twisted ankle.
 - Allie Reynolds—Back sprain and sinus.
 - Duane Pillette—Grippe.
 - Johnny Mize—Injured shoulder.
 - Fenton Mole—Reported with cold.
- Wonder who has the adhesive tape concession at Yankee Stadium? It seems that Trainer Gus Mauch has used a few miles of the stuff this season.

Lions Rehearsing For Annual Minstrel Show

Rehearsals started Monday night for the 1942 Waynesville Lions Club Minstrel Show, which will be held October 6 at the Waynesville Township High School auditorium.

Serving as general chairman is Jerry Rogers, with Mrs. Fred Campbell as director.

The colorful event, according to the plans announced today, will start with a parade of all Lions in the afternoon.

Mr. Rogers said the details for this parade are now being worked out.

The following committees have been set up to handle the various phases of the show: Advertising—John Boyd, chairman; Publicity—Hugh Daniel, chairman; Poster—

Bobby Platt, chairman; Ticket—Herbert Angel, chairman; Stage Property—Lester Burgin, Jr., chairman; Parade, Ernest Edwards, chairman.

Members of the cast now working intensively to polish their performances are: End men—Snake Gerringer as "Axy"; Jerry Rogers as "Barnes"; Boyd Owen as "Coots"; Phil Medford as "Deaves"; Joe Cline as "Elmer"; Charlie Woodard as "Flint"; and Jimmy Reed, who will be the interlocutor.

Here Is Something New - Wicket Golf

AP New-features

DENVER—"Wicket golf" is what Henry T. Harrison, a United Air Lines meteorologist, calls his backyard game.

It's a cross between golf and croquet, and it's inexpensive.

The wicket are wire coat hangers, wrapped with white adhesive tape for better visibility.

The stakes? Old broomsticks with one end sharpened.

The ball are beaten-up pellets. You're allowed to tee up with them on the golf course but they are good enough for this, back and pasture. Instead of croquet mallets, you use golf putters.

Instead of a center wicket, Harrison has sunk a regulation putting green hole into which each player has to knock his ball twice during the game.
