

Man Pleased A Science Tuesday

MORE ABOUT Miss Truman

(Continued from Page 1)

ter of the President had been an asset or hindrance in her career as a singer.

With her typical broad smile, she said expressively, "Both."

Then after a moment's pause, she said it had enabled her to appear before some audiences that she ordinarily would have had difficulty in reaching, then on the other hand, there were lots of drawbacks as people expect a great deal of me.

The last remark brought out the fact that Secret Service men accompanied her, but she explained, "I put my foot down when I have a date, and won't have them around." As she said this she gave a lusty laugh.

"Now let's keep politics out of this," she said, as a reporter queried her on her plans for the 1952 campaign. "I am not worrying about anything farther away than this concert. Besides, I have my own campaign."

She was asked if she enjoyed accompanying her father on his famous campaign last fall. "It was hard work. And especially all those 6:30 stops in the morning. That was terrible."

Miss Truman said she did not have any favorite opera, as she liked all of them. Asked if she planned to pursue her studies in Europe, she said she would like to go to Europe some day, just to see it, but did not care to study abroad.

"You have a beautiful country here. The leaves are so pretty in your mountains." This was her first trip to Western North Carolina. She had been to other parts of the state before. Someone mentioned last fall the trip when he accompanied her parents to Raleigh. One member of the press party said, "I saw you in Raleigh, and you appeared to be having a good time." She quickly replied, "Yes, it was a lovely trip, and all of us enjoyed it so much."

Miss Truman registered surprise, and a quick-trigger answer, when a reporter asked if she felt there was any chance of "another famous Truman" seeing her Tuesday. "What other Truman do you mean?" she asked. Then the reporter told her that the President was to be in Fort Bragg for the day. "Oh, I did not know that. What is he doing in North Carolina, trying to steal my thunder?"

After a hearty laugh about her remark, she said her father could not "slip" anywhere, because he was always surrounded by a "cloud" of Secret Service men.

She said the Truman family had some privacy, in that they had some of their meals together.

It is very evident that Miss Truman is a determined, and talented young woman, who is seeking to make a name for herself in the music world on her own merits.

Although it was almost three o'clock, and she was still talking to the press, and apparently gave no concern about lunch, the reporters felt they might wear out their warm welcome, and started to leave. One writer turned as the group moved towards the door and said: "When we get out, there will be a lot of questions that will come to our minds that we wanted to ask."

Miss Truman threw back her head, and through a broad smile, said, "And I lot better answers than I have given you will come to my mind, so guess we will be even on that score."

As the reporters filed out, a Secret Service man on duty whispered to one writer: "Did you find out all you wanted to know?"

"We sure did," he was told. "I knew you would," he shot back.

And that is typical of how one feels after talking to Miss Truman. Her gracious charm makes you feel as if you have known her for a long, long time.

She has diplomacy that matches her beauty which the cameras also fail to register.

Elks To Meet Wednesday Night

The meeting of the Waynesville Elks lodge has been postponed from Tuesday night to Wednesday night.

The change in meeting date was made to avoid a conflict in dates with the annual Lions Club Dinner which will be held Tuesday night at the Waynesville High School auditorium.

First Methodist Church WAYNESVILLE

The Rev. J. E. Yountz, Minister
Church School, 9:45 a.m., Francis Masie, general superintendent Morning Worship, 11 a.m. Sermon by the minister. Topic: "Supporting Hands."

The Methodist Youth Fellowship will meet at 6:45 p.m. in the Youth Chapel.

An informal meeting of the

About 65 per cent of all the field-spar mined in the U. S. comes from the Spruce Pine area of North Carolina.

Board of Stewards will be held Sunday evening at 7 o'clock.

PROGENY CARRIES ON

WINDSOR, VI. (U.P.) — More than 150 descendants of Justin Morgan, a bay stallion that died over a century and a half ago, were entered in the annual National Morgan Horse Show here.

Nelly Don autumn—fresh prints

Companion coat dress

each $10.95

Florentine scroll print—Nelda crepe rayon. Reversible taffeta rayon belt. Wine with gray. Blue with blue, green with brown. 19-20.

Companion coat dress—Fine bengaline rayon, can double as coat over prints. Taupe-gray, red, navy, brown, black, green. 10-40.

Hook-and-eye print—75 denier rayon, with high-low collar ending in soft ties. Red, gray, green, navy. 10-40 and 12½-20½.

Note the new adjustable waist length feature in every Nelly Don dress! Two rows of stitching at waistline tape. Waist may easily be made longer by ripping top row of stitching. Leave "as is" for moderate length.

Bottle print Nelda crepe — Abstract bits of color on brown, black, prune, navy rayon. Draped bodice, easy skirt. Washable. 13-15.

Autumn-crocus Nelda print crepe rayon—Drawstring dress in cinnamon, teal, claret. 14-16. Same style, sparkle print, 14½-22½.

don't DO that!

DON'T BE VAGUE... If you really want someone to come and visit you, extend a definite invitation—not just "You must drop in some time."

The Toggery