

Nation's Capital Ready For 150th Anniversary

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON—The nation's capital will observe its 150th birthday anniversary with a year-long super-colossal celebration, beginning next July fourth, that is expected to attract an additional 15,000,000 visitors to town. With a $3,000,000 congressional appropriation to start with the city fathers are already busy with plans to make the show one of the greatest ever staged in this country.

Edwin Boykin, local historian and civic leader, has been appointed director of the National Capital Sesquicentennial and a special commission is preparing plans. "The main purpose of the celebration," one official told me, "is to portray the fruits of our free enterprise system and to provide American industry and labor with a showcase in which to present the story of their contribution to the national progress."

Industrial and Labor organizations of the country will have their exhibits on the show grounds near the National Guard Armory in three buildings to be constructed in the shape of the letters U. S. A. There will be a Pan American center in which all Latin and South American countries and Canada will have special exhibitions.

A national theater for which the city has been crying for more than a year will be dedicated here at that time non-discriminatory and national in character. A natural amphitheater, for permanent use, will be constructed in a wooded section of Rock Creek Park which runs through the heart of Washington. It will be opened during the celebration with a pageant dramatizing the life of George Washington which is being written by Paul Green, nationally known historical playwright. In addition, the new three-dimensional movies will be introduced to the public for the first time.

Each state has been invited to stage its own exhibition and New York state has already put up a $150,000 for its show. Buildings for the state displays are being provided by the Sesquicentennial commission. Spectacular fireworks will light the skies over the city every night for one solid year. There will be music parades, pageants, festivals, gala days, sport contests, art exhibits, cultural and scientific demonstrations, and symphonic drama.

COMPOUNDS HIS TROUBLE
FORT WORTH, TEX. (UP)—A Fort Worth man, 23, was arrested here and admitted the burglary of two firms because "I needed the money for attorney fees." Officer said the man told them he was under bond pending trial for a theft.

ONCE IS ENOUGH
DETROIT (UP)—Mrs. Betty Phillips said she had all failed in learning to drive an automobile after she ran a power car during her first driving lesson.

She's Funny; And She Admits It

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Without a trace of false modesty, Lucille Ball, comedienne, will admit that she's a better-than-fair laugh getter.

And that's all the more reason she says not to turn laughin'. "Ready for a change?" she asks as her voice rhetorically rises two octaves. "How can I be leaving comedy when I feel I've just arrived?"

If took years and a batch of stocks outside, and off for her to sit at the top. And she says she isn't to be tossed aside to play Hamlet or even Mrs. Hamlet.

There are those and I'm one of them. Mrs. Desi Arnaz says, "who is that comedy is the most taxing of art forms."

It's demanding because it requires a heretofore unattainable. You react differently, too, to a comedian than you do to a comedian. You do to a comedian. You do to a comedian.

Tears Are Easier
The pert, red-haired Miss Ball adds that it's easier for an actress to play for tears because a delicate soul of sobbing never drowned a me or distracted an audience's light attention.

Her training began in the bustling school of the Stooges, playing her straight girl so long that their imitations gave out.

"There finally wasn't anything left for them to sneeze me with," she explains.

Later, the pretty comedy queen graduated to being chased by the dark Brothers, pushed into tumblers by Red Skelton and forced to laugh along with double takes from Bob Hope.

For variety, Miss Ball exchanged arched wisecracks with Keenan (C), Franklin (Tone) and Victor (Tone). About the time she was cast in "Easy Living," the unabashed comedienne, coined the word "framedly" as a euphemism for her ideal type of role.

Plans Repeat
The word breaks down into two parts for the serious side of the industry and comedy to lighten a portrait.

And to keep her characterization in focus, she plans to stage special performances of her successful romping in a Broadway show of a year ago.

A dozen tongue-lashings by a dozen directors can't do as much to keep a player's technique as the reaction of an audience. Miss Ball says.

Just so she won't let any one part in her career get too important, she says these words of the Spanish playwright and playwright Cervantes.

Brush 'Em, Cowboy!

WILD WEST GIMMICK
Tooth brushing is fun, parading, especially when brush and paste comes in a handy he-man hoister. This young lad also uses soap in cowboy shapes, a new fad in the schoolboy set.

FESTIVE TOUCHES FOR THANKSGIVING FARE

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor
Your Thanksgiving turkey will taste even better than usual if you give it with a festive fruit platter. To make this sweet, accompaniment drain canned cling peach halves from their syrup and fill with the following:

SPICY WHOLE CRANBERRY SAUCE
Ingredients: 2 cups water, 1 one-half cup cranberries, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 cup orange juice, 1/2 cup lemon juice, 4 cups frozen cranberries, 2 cups orange.

Method: Put the water, cinnamon sticks, and lemon juice in a saucepan and bring to a boil. Add the cranberries and cook until the skins pop open. Add the sugar and stir until dissolved; cook rapidly for 2 or 3 minutes. Cool before serving. Makes 1 quart.

If young people are going to town for a Thanksgiving snack, you can't set up card tables with individual Pumpkin Chiffon Tarts and marshmallow-topped cocoa. You can use inexpensive and convenient orange and green paper place mats and tapers.

PUMPKIN CHIFFON TARTS
Ginger Snap Tart Crust — Ingredients: 35 large old-fashioned ginger snaps, 6 tablespoons softened butter or margarine, 6 tablespoons sugar.

Method: Roll ginger snaps into fine crumbs and put into a bowl; add the butter or margarine and the sugar. Mix well. Divide mixture evenly into 8 individual metal or cardboard tart shell pans. Using the same size pan of back of spoons, press mixture firmly into an even layer against bottom and sides of each pan. Chill in refrigerator before filling.

Pumpkin Chiffon Tart Filling
Ingredients: 1 cup canned pumpkin, 3 eggs (separated), 1 cup milk, 1 cup sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/2 teaspoon ginger, 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg, 2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine, 1 envelope unflavored gelatin, 1/4 cup cold water.

Method: Cook pumpkin in top of double boiler over boiling water for 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Beat the egg yolks, milk, and 1/2 cup of the sugar together; add to pumpkin with salt, cinnamon, ginger, nutmeg, and melted butter or margarine. Cook, stirring constantly, until of custard consistency, about 15 minutes. Remove from heat. Soften gelatin in cold water and add to hot mixture, stirring until dissolved. Chill until mixture begins to stiffen. Beat egg whites stiff, gradually beating in remaining 1/2 cup of sugar; fold into pumpkin mixture. Pour into ginger snap crust. Garnish with sweetened whipped cream. Chill until firm.

Loyalty Of Dewey Team Causes Speculation

ALBANY, N. Y. (UP)—The reluctance of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's "bright young men" to leave his official family has become one of the most embarrassing topics in New York politics.

It means many things to many people. When Dewey was defeated for the presidency in 1948, political observers were unanimous in predicting dissolution of the "team" which helped make him a national figure.

But a year has passed and except for resignations because of age or pressing personal reasons, the team is still intact. Whether it is looking forward to 1950 or 1952 is a closely-guarded secret in the governor's cabinet.

Observers Uncertain
Whether he will seek another term as New York's chief executive a year hence is a question that helps watchers for political points. Some people close to Dewey believe he will run again, still carrying a secret home for a third Republican presidential nomination in 1952.

Another group believes he is ready to quit politics at the end of his present term and enter private law practice in New York City. Both groups agree that he could make a fortune at law in a few years.

The puzzle is why, if Dewey is through politically, are so many sub-caliber men and women continuing to cast their lot with the governor in victory or defeat. Some of his top-notch officials could triple their state salaries in private industry.

Maybe It's Loyalty
One answer may be simple loyalty, a quality notable in Dewey aides since he started his public career some 15 years ago. Another may be that state salaries, however inadequate, are more depression-proof than those of private industry.

Only one key figure of the governor's administration has resigned. He is Alger B. Chapman, former state tax commission president, who quit to enter private law practice.

But Chapman, who managed Dewey's state campaign for governor in her dressing room.

"The most difficult character in comedy is that of the fool and he must be no simper who plays that part."

Judge Shows Films To New Citizens

PRINCE GEORGE, B. C. (UP)—Judge E. D. Woodburn lays claim to being the only Canadian magistrate who administers the oath of citizenship with the aid of movies.

When a group of new Canadians lines up for papers before Judge Woodburn, he sets up a projector, pulls down a portable screen, draws the blinds, and puts on a double feature, at no charge, to the fans.

Two national film board productions, one entitled "Ballot Boxes" and the other, "Peoples of Canada," make up his program.

The first explains the Canadian electoral system and the second depicts the polyglot population of Canada, calculated to make newcomers feel at home.

Judge Woodburn recently added a third film to his program, "Opening of Parliament."

WANTS RECOGNITION

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UP)—Four-year-old David Wardlow isn't sure, but he thinks he is being left out of things. "They have Mother's Day and Father's Day," David told his parents. "Now what I want to know is when are they going to have Little Boy's Day?"

Stainless steel wool should be used for cleaning stainless steel equipment to prevent surface contamination by other metals.

director since 1943. James C. Hagerly, 40, Dewey's press relations secretary since 1943. All reportedly have been offered better jobs in private industry. But all have chosen to stay with Dewey. The final answer may not come until the Republicans nominate a gubernatorial candidate next year.

A Vegetable-Kidney Stew

By ALICE DENHOFF
THERE'S lots and lots of good meat around, but prices are still too high for many a table budget. So here are some good, meaty suggestions to get the utmost out of this most vital of foods, with emphasis on the less expensive cuts and variety meats, such as kidneys.

For a good, wholesome, satisfying and inexpensive dish, serve a vegetable and kidney stew. To serve 6 remove fat from one lb. kidney (beef, lamb, veal or pork). Cover kidneys with cold water; bring slowly to boil, then simmer until tender. Drain; cut in small pieces. To 4 c. stock from kidneys, add kidneys, 6 each whole small carrots and onions, one c. cubed potatoes, one c. sliced mushrooms (if desired), 2 tsp. Worcestershire sauce, and one tsp. salt (less if desired). Cook 30 min. or until tender. Add 2 tsp. chopped parsley. Thicken, if desired.

Good Combination
Lamb and lima make a lovely dish! Brown lamb cubes in hot fat with a clove of garlic (it's just made for lamb you know) and place in casserole with salt, pepper, cooked lima beans and a c. of boiling water. Cover and cook at 300 F. for an hour.

For something different in the way of using left-over cooked meat, just chop it and add one or two to a regular pancake recipe. Served with golden brown syrup, apple or honey butter, such a dish adds up

Civil War Goes To Junk

CLEVELAND (UP)—The Western Reserve Society is to save the Civil War junk that has been scattered about the city since the war.

The society plans to raise a fund to buy the junk and to have it stored in the Civil War Museum which is being built on the site of the old Erie Park.

The last war junk was sold during the Civil War. The junk was sold during the Civil War.
