Rogers Cove Home Club Holds Meeting

An all-day meeting of the Rogers Cove Home Demonstration Club was held last Monday at the home of Mrs. Ethel Dryman.

Mrs. Dryman, acting chairman, was in charge of the business session and plans were made for the New Year with the first meeting

2 Named Leaders Of 4-H Club Girls Of S. Clyde Group

Mrs. Levi Haynes and Massie Osborne were elected leaders for 4-H Club girls and boys of the South Clyde Community at a meeting last week of the community development organization for that locality.

The importance of selecting capable and dependable leaders for this phase of youth development had been stressed at a previous meeting when Miss Mary Cornwell, county home agent, spoke to the group.

Mrs. Haynes, who has two daughters of her own, has an active interest in farm life, as her husband farms and raises cattle, aside from his work at the Champion Fibre Company in Canton.

Mr. Osborne, who with his brothers, operates a dairy and carries on large scale farming operations, was an outstanding agriculture student at Clyde High School before his graduation. Last year he was named "Carolina Farmer" which is the highest rating bestowed by the state's Future Farmers of America organization.

to be held in January at the home of Mrs. Mark McCracken.

A workshop on Textile Painting was directed by Miss Mary Cornwell, home demonstration agent.

Rev. Mr. Yountz Makes Rotary Talk

Rev. J. E. Yountz emphasized to Rotarians here Friday the importance of "attaching to the better things of life, and holding on to them."

The First Methodist pastor pointed out that "what we are by attachment, we make of ourselves. When we are detached from the better things of life, we also lose influence."

He stressed the need of every person attaching themselves to those things which provide a "channel to express leadership, and to be something worthwhile to self and community."

He urged that all people should be aggressive and useful, and to unite with only those things which have ideals that are of the highest and finest qualities.

Jack Messer Talks To Clyde PTA

Jack Messer, superintendent of Haywood County Schools, was chairman of a program on "Visual Education and Its Usefulness in the Classroom" at a regular meeting of Clyde Parent-Teacher Association Thursday afternoon in the school auditorium.

Mr. Messer pointing out that visual education does not take the place of teaching but that it does speed up and promote the work of teachers. Each explained how she uses the film and projector in her classroom as a teaching aid. Pupils of these teachers were also brought into the discussion and answered questions to show how readily they learn through seeing ideas on the screen.

Teachers who participated were

Miss Hattie Freeman, Mrs. Edith Cannon and Mrs. Mary Brooks. Mrs. Howard Shook introduced Mr. Messer.

The devotional program was led by Mrs. Pat Cole. Mr. Mattie Mann gave a prayer and Mrs. Pauline Goodson directed the group song.

Banners for the largest number of parents present for the meeting went to Mrs. Cannon's second and third grades, for the elementary school, and to Mrs. Edith White's eleventh grade, for the high school.

It was decided that the room winning the banner for monthly parent attendance will be awarded a dollar to be kept until close of the school year for purchase of some item for the class.

Noah's Ark was calked with pitch, a form of petroleum gathered from the shores of the Dead Sea.
