In 'Christus' Role

A BEARDED innkeeper, Anton Priesinger has been chosen to take the place of Alois Lang as "the Christus" in the famed Oberammergau Passion Play, now in preparation for a 1950 presentation. Lang was declared by villagers to be too old for the role. His appearance before a denazification court did not figure in the selection, they stated. He will read the prologue. (International)

Asteroid Appears, Vanishes

In 1957, an asteroid about a mile in diameter was sighted moving swiftly against the background of the stars. Before news of the discovery could be circulated, the body had swooped away and was lost. It has not been seen since that time. It was given a name, however, and that is Hermes, for the swift messenger of the gods whom the Romans called Mercury. From a few accidental observations of this body made within a day or two of its nearest approach was about 500,000 miles, only twice the moon's distance.
