CHEERING ON

NEW YORK (AP)—Spectator cheering at football games is a 30-year-old American practice, notes the National Geographic Society. On Nov. 13, 1919, when Rutgers and Princeton Universities met for the second intercollegiate grid contest in U. S. history, Princeton supporters invoked lung power, shouting an old Confederate battle cry to urge their team on to victory. Princeton won 3-0.

don't DO that!

DON'T COMPARE PRICE TAGS... The spirit of Christmas giving should be above such mercenary attitudes as wandering how much a gift cost.

AUTO PLATES TO SHINE

AUGUSTA, Me. (AP)—Maine's 1950 automobile license plates will shine in the dark. Made of aluminum, they will be coated with a reflective material that will pick up the headlights of approaching cars more than 1,200 feet away.

Stringing Children along

CHICAGO (AP)—Mrs. Ruth Bollnow had 40 tiny boys and girls from the Riverside Nursery School—and a problem—on her hands. She wanted to take the kids on a tour of the huge Union Railroad station but she didn't want to lose any of them. So she got a long rope. The tots grasped it and, strung out like snake dancers, they stayed in place as Mrs. Bollnow led them through the terminal.

HE'S NO DUB

CLEVELAND (AP)—The way Dub Jones of the Cleveland Browns got his nickname is intriguing—and it has nothing to do with his ability or lack of same. His mother always called him "W. A." His two brothers figured it took too long to say, so they shortened the "double-u" to "Dub". He's established as a real pro now—only 24 years old and in his fourth season.
