THE YOUNGER SET

By MILDRED MEDFORD
High School Senior

The entire student body and faculty of Waynesville high were shocked and grieved to learn of the untimely death of Mary Ann Limer.

She was active in school affairs, and took such an interest in things.

Somehow, it is hard to believe that Mary Ann will not be with us any more.

What do you want for Christmas? Most of the "younger set" answered this question with just one or two items on their list. The girls and boys who plan to go off to college answers this with just one word "clothes." Linda Sloan, although she will not be going away to school next year, answered with "Clothes, of course. What else do you think I would want, besides a jeep?"

There is one girl who has more than one item on her list, and that is Florrie Patrick. When I asked her what she wanted she took a deep breath and started, "I want a camera, I lost my other one; a bicycle, but I don't think I'm going to get it; clothes, and about a million other things." So you see her list is just a little bit longer than the rest.

It seems as if everyone these days is wearing a smile. Not just an ordinary smile but one just for Christmas.

If you have seen Sally Stovall and Margaret Reese without a smile lately you have been somewhere I haven't. But the smile that these two wear now is different from what they have had. I am sure it is just because Christmas is around the corner, and they are all excited about it.

The trip to Washington, D. C., for the seniors of W.T.H.S. is definitely off. Mr. Bowles said that it was too great a responsibility for the school to take, because of the large group that would want to go. He did say that he would like to see a group of seniors get together with their parents and make the trip. He said that would be an educational trip and that going in a small group you could see (Continued on page 3)

It is estimated there are 100,000,000 people in South America.
