UNC Chancellor Says Love, Study Needed For Success

University of North Carolina Chancellor R. B. House, in a speech that had both words and music, told a Haywood County 4-H Club Achievement Day audience Saturday morning that love and enthusiasm, supported by patient study, are essential to success in any undertaking.

The music came shortly after he opened his address before the 250 county 4-H Club boys and girls, their parents, local leaders, and Extension Service officials in the main court room of the Haywood County Court House. After paying respect to the youth who had just sung and advising him to continue developing his fine talent, Dr. House took a little harmonica out of his pocket and gave the audience one of the solos that are familiar to every University of North Carolina student.

Then, after playing three old favorites, he used his harmonica playing as an illustration to support the points he made. He declared he loved to play what he called this humblest of musical instruments and that, though his playing would never bring him to the heights of musical fame, it did lead him to approach the truly great music and made him feel he was a part of it.

Then he added that love of music alone could not have taught him to play. It takes patient study — learning the instrument. This, he said, is the third essential to success, the necessary accompaniment to love and enthusiasm.

He pointed out that the University's most famous student, All-America Charlie Justice, achieved his brilliant success because the immortal Choo Choo applied those three essentials to football. The University administrator forecast that those same qualities which made Charlie Justice a national football hero would make him a success in his new field — the promotion of better health throughout the state through his work with the Medical Foundation. He added that on Charlie's frequent visits to orphanages and children's hospitals throughout North Carolina, the youngsters were not so much impressed by his

Boy Stricken With Leukemia Doing Nicely

Latest reports from Duke Hospital yesterday indicated six-year-old Norman Lewis of Waynesville, taking the H hormone treatment for leukemia, was "doing nicely" and "holding his own." R. C. Gunn, who is directing the campaign to raise funds to pay for Norman's treatment, said he was informed that Norman's appetite has been improving. The stricken boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Lewis, was admitted to Duke last Thursday to begin the special treatment in hopes of saving his life. He received his first injection Monday, but a specialist explained that it is usually no earlier than four to five days after the initial treatment that a patient shows any positive response.

Famous Home for Boys

Boystown, located near Omaha, Neb., now occupies over 1,000 acres and takes care of hundreds of boys every year. It was founded by Father Flanagan, who died in April, 1948.

Dr. House was introduced by County Agent Wayne Corpening. Following his address, Assistant County Agent Joe Cline and Assistant Home Demonstration Agent Jean Childers presented medals to the boys and girls who had done outstanding work in their club projects during 1949. After the morning meeting adjourned, a luncheon was held for Dr. House and the prize-winning 4-H Club members. Among those attending the luncheon were J. Maryon (Spike) Saunders, the University of North Carolina's general alumni secretary; Corpening, Assistant County Agents Turner Cathey, Cline, Home Demonstration Agent Mary Cornwell, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Ray, Jr., and newspaper reporters.

Vitamins for Plants
Vitamins are essential to plants as well as humans. Recent work shows that vitamins B and C increase the growth of seedlings when added to their artificial food supply.
