

Henrietta Thorp Is Bride Of T. Williams, Jr.

Henrietta Williams Thorp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Thorp of Rocky Mount, was the bride of Thurman Williams, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Williams of Fayetteville, in a church ceremony in the Church of the Good Shepherd, last Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. The Rev. J. W. Temple, rector, presided over the ceremony.

Wedding music was furnished by Charles Burgess, organist, and the vested choir of the church. The bride wore a gown of white tulle with a full skirt of sculptured tulle and a full train. Her hair was styled in a high, wavy, and pinned up in a hairdo of white and val-de-rose. The bride's veil was of white tulle and was held up by white satin ribbons.

Susan Thorp was her sister of honor and wore a gown of white tulle with a full skirt of sculptured tulle and a full train. Her hair was styled in a high, wavy, and pinned up in a hairdo of white and val-de-rose. The bride's veil was of white tulle and was held up by white satin ribbons.

Spelling Match Is Held Between Two Communities

MRS. ROY B. MEDFORD, Mountaineer Correspondent

On last Saturday evening around two hundred citizens of the Upper Crabtree and Iron Duff communities met in the Crabtree-Iron Duff school cafeteria to witness a spelling match between the two sections.

Oral Yates served as master of ceremonies and the program opened with group singing of hymns led by Mrs. C. O. Newell. In the battle of the spellers, for Crabtree, were Mrs. Albert Ferguson, Manson McElroy, Mrs. Hilliard Ross, Mrs. Fuller Justice, Mrs. Wayne McElroy, and Mr. Larue. On the Iron Duff side were Miss Edith Chambers, Mrs. Ray Millner, Mrs. Roy B. Medford, Mrs. Frank Bradshaw, Mrs. V. R. Davis, and Miss Maxine Medford.

Mrs. E. A. Gooch of Waynesville gave out the words in a clear understandable voice. There were no misses for many rounds and then one Crabtree speller went down—an Iron Duff speller went down, and finally Mrs. Albert Ferguson was standing alone on her side. On the Iron Duff side Miss Edith Chambers, Mrs. Roy Medford, and Mrs. Ray Millner stood up until Mrs. Ferguson fell on the word "cozy" and the match ended.

Iron Duff accepted a challenge by the Crabtree manager, Charles Ross, to spell again and the Crabtree community accepted a challenge by Iron Duff to debate on a question to be decided later. Thus, the next inter-community meeting will include a spelling match and a debate.

After the spelling match, a quartet from Del Rio, Tennessee composed of Boyd Burgin, Woodrow Roland, Harrison Norwood, and D. R. Sexton, gave several numbers, accompanied by Mrs. Pauline Roland.

Members of the Crabtree quartet, Ralph Elkin, Darwin McCracken, Glendon Justice, and Miss Betty Jo Russell, also entertained with their fine voices.

During the recreation period Mrs. Newell led several singing games and Mrs. Raymond Caldwell staged a barber contest in which

Singing Classes To Be Held At Church

By Mrs. Bill Hembree, Mountaineer Correspondent

Paul Shepard of Canton will start a weekly singing school tomorrow night at the Rocky Branch Baptist Church in the Allens Creek Community.

The classes will be held at 7 P. M. every Tuesday night. Mr. Shepard also will give piano lessons at the church every Saturday.

MRS. LANE AT HOME

Mrs. Tommy Lane is convalescing at her home in Hazelwood after spending sometime at the Haywood County Hospital.

Mrs. Albert Gibson spent the week end in Bryson City as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Mack Cline.

Refreshments were served at the close of the program. A fine spirit was displayed by everyone present and the occasion proved one of the most enjoyable for both communities.

State Income Tax Time Nearing; It's March 15

Deputy State Income Tax Collector Fred I. Walston today issued another memorandum for the information of citizens eligible to file state returns and announced his work schedule for Canton, Waynesville, and Sylva.

The schedule (all office hours are from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.): Sylva—Jackson County Court House—February 23 and 24. Canton—Canton Drug Store—February 27 and 28, March 1 and 2.

Waynesville—Revenue Office, basement of the Haywood County Court House—March 3 through March 15. The deadline for filing 1949 state income tax returns is March 15.

Failure to meet this deadline may result in a penalty of five to 25 per cent being added to the tax. Those required to file are: Every single person, or every married person not living with husband or wife, who received an income of more than the $1,000 personal exemption, plus allowable deductions, during the year 1949.

Every married woman receiving income in excess of the $1,000 personal exemption, plus allowable deductions, during 1949.

Every married man who was living with his wife on December 31, 1949, receiving an income which was more than the $2,000 personal exemption, plus allowable deductions.

Every person engaged in merchandising, farming, contracting, or in any kind of business or profession who received an income as indicated above during the year 1949.

Every corporation and partnership, regardless of the amount of income received during 1949.

Mr. Walston also pointed out that every employer who paid a single person or married woman $1,600 or more during 1949—or a married man living with his wife on December 31, 1949, a minimum $2,000—is required to report the amount paid to the North Carolina Department of Revenue.

The name and address of each employee must be contained in these reports, which must be filed on or before March 15. Blanks may be obtained from the Department or its branch offices.

GOT HIS WISH

Son: "Dad, what was your ambition when you were a boy?"
Dad: "To wear long pants. And I've had my wish. If there's any body else in the country that wears his pants longer than I do, I'd like to see him."

Prayerful Parson

"Yes, we should have got a fine new minister; you oughter hear him pray."
"Can he pray better than the other one?"
"My O my, yes, he can ask for things the other minister never knew de Lord had."

Nobody Knows Women

"Fancy that," said Mrs. Smith to her husband. "It says in this magazine that in China a man doesn't know his wife until after the wedding ceremony."
"And why is China specially mentioned?" asked Mr. Smith, moodily.

SOME FIX

Little Susie, age four, said to her mother, "When I grow up, will I have a husband like daddy?"
"Yes," replied her mother.
"And," continued Susie, "if I don't get married, will I be an old maid like Aunt Louise?"
"Yes," replied her mother again.
"Well," sighed Susie, "I surely am in a fix."

3-Point Baskets

Frank Guisness, known far and wide as the University of Washington's Bowlegged Bomber, is the boy who has perfected the three-point basket. At full speed, he broad-jumps from the foul line, soars under the backboard, then scoops the ball up and in just before it lands. Anybody who reaches out to stop the shot usually gets a personal foul.

That's all right with Frank, too. He rarely misses a charity toss. Add silvered roasted almonds to ham or chicken a la king for a special luncheon dish. Serve over hot cooked rice, accompanied by a fruit chutney and a salad of fresh chilled greens tossed with a well-seasoned French dressing.

Film Comic Fixing Label For Himself

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Pint-sized comic Teddy Hart is about ready to fix himself a label, reading "I am Teddy Hart."

Except that if he does, he won't meet so many interesting people who think he's six other guys.

"I am constantly mistaken," Hart complained, "for Jimmy Savo, Sidney Skolsky and my brother."

Hart, who has appeared in several New York plays, thought he'd finally achieved fame when a photographer grabbed him at a recent Broadway opening and asked him to pose.

"I naturally complied," he said. "When the man had made several shots of me, he said: 'That's great. Thank you, Mr. Savo.'"

The comic's brother, Larry Hart of the Rodgers and Hart song-writing team, is dead now. He looked somewhat like Teddy too.

"Once in Chicago, when Larry was alive, I ran into a chap in a hotel lobby and he invited me to some kind of a celebrity dinner," Teddy recounted. "I told myself this is marvelous. People are beginning to recognize me and invite me places. I must be doing okay at last."

Mistaken Again

"So I went to the affair. After dinner the guy turned to me and said: 'Mr. Hart, would you mind singing us some of your great lyrics?' He only thought I was my brother, that's all."

People in Hollywood think he's everybody but himself, too.

"In front of Schwab's drugstore a young man I didn't know halted me with great joy," he said. "He said he wanted me to read a script he had just written—a definite prospect for an Academy Award, he claimed."

"This made a little sense, since I'm going to make a series of television productions. It made sense, that is, until the guy said: 'What address shall I send it to, Sidney?'"

The final blow hit Hart in front of the Brown Derby.

"A stranger, who must have seen me in 'Three Men on a Horse,' collared me to put $10 on Wisconsin in the third at Hialeah."
