White Oak Folks Happy About Third Place; Now Working to Gain First In '50

BY MRS. GEORGE MORING
Mountaineer Correspondent

Well folks, the suspense is all over and at last we know the answer to what we have all been anxiously waiting for. That is, it is all over but the shouting, and we White Oak folks sure feel like just that. Quite an honor too, having Governor Scott present us with the $200 third prize money.

Thank you Judges, you have made the residents of White Oak Community very happy with your vote of confidence in them this past year.

We are proud to be one of the "big three" winners in the 1949 Community Development Program in Haywood County. Our congratulations to Ratcliffe Cove Community and Iron-Duff Community for being the top winners.

A lot of credit goes to Mrs. Robert Davis and her committee for their untiring efforts toward their community, thus making it a better place to live. Mrs. Davis or better known to all of us as "Edna", was the only woman chairman in the whole set-up, but she certainly proved her leadership and that she wasn't the giving-up kind. Our community may be the smallest but we sure did the best with what we had, and came up a winner.

Jonathan Creek Folks See Farm Improvement Film

By Mrs. W. J. Rainer
Mountaineer Correspondent

A film illustrating ways to develop better farming was shown before a large audience of Jonathan Creek residents at their Community Development Program meeting recently.

The picture showed the use of new crops, improvement of pastures, and the increasing of livestock herds and dairying activities in the farm improvement program.

During the course of the business meeting, Robert Howell and Francis Boyd were appointed to solicit funds in the community for the Waynesville area Red Cross drive.

The next meeting will be held March 15 featuring discussions of better rural living.

Refreshments were served during the session.
Water meters were introduced in Rome about 100 A. D. to prevent waste.

'Emancipation' Pen Rests In Museum

BOSTON (UP)—The pen used by President Abraham Lincoln to sign the emancipation proclamation freeing the slaves now rests in the museum of the Massachusetts Historical Society.

Owned originally by Col. William R. Livermore, it was obtained directly from the president after the signing in 1863 by Sen. Charles Sumner. Its authenticity is attested to by a series of letters showing that Lincoln saved the pen for Livermore, instead of replacing it among other wooden, steel-nibbed pens in his drawer, a story that has produced at least two other "genuine" emancipation pens.
