Senior Prom Is Colorful Event At St. John's

One of the most eagerly anticipated events at St. John's School, the Senior Prom, was held in the school auditorium Monday evening.

This year's prom theme was based on the song, "Blue Moon," and decorations were unusually attractive. Dark blue crepe paper, studded with silver stars, covered the ceiling, and a half-moon shone against the drawn curtains of the stage.

Reigning over the affair were Queen Doll Keinst and King Hallett Ward, who were crowned in colorful ceremonies during the dance.

The coronation followed a grand march in which the couples participating formed an arch for the royal procession.

Miss Bette Hannah was the honor attendant for the queen and was escorted by Jack Willis. Other maids were Ginny Kernan with Tudor Hall and Barbara Jean Potts with Tommy Hudson.

Refreshments were served during the evening. Serving as chaperons and assisting with the prom were Mrs. William Hannah, Mr. and Mrs. Hallett Ward, Mrs. Raymond Lane, Mrs. E. J. Lillis, Mrs. Walter Tallafiero, Mrs. Leo Martel, Mrs. N. F. Lancaster, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ketter, Mr. and Mrs. John Hipps and William Sanderson.

Special guests for the prom were students of the music school of St. John's and a number of Waynesville High School students.

Luxurious Cotton Gown

Dainty pink lingerie.

By VERA WINSTON

SOME of the daintiest, the prettiest lingerie seen in many a season is of cotton. All the loving care usually lavished on fine silk has been bestowed on this charming nightgown of pale pink cotton of very sheer, fine quality.

Mrs. J. L. Carville left Wednesday for Lynchburg, Virginia to be with her sister, Miss Lena Drake, who was injured in an automobile accident en route to Washington, D. C.

Miss Lois Miller Is Bride Of J. R. Jackson

Miss Lois Miller, daughter of Mrs. Howard Cagle and the late Hauldean Miller of Waynesville, became the bride of John Richard Jackson, son of Mrs. Alice Jackson and the late R. W. Jackson of Waynesville, in a ceremony which took place at the Ratcliffe Cove Methodist Church at noon on last Saturday.

The Rev. Paul Taylor pronounced the vows, using the double ring ceremony.

The church was decorated with baskets of gladioli, white carnations, and lilies against a background of ivy. Branched candelabra were also used.

Prior to the wedding Jimmy Galloway, pianist, presented a program of music, which included "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," "Oh, Promise Me," "Because," and "The Rosary".

The bride and bridegroom entered the church together and were unattended. The bride wore a spring suit of navy blue with navy and white accessories and her corsage was of gardenias.

Ushers were Jack Arrington of Waynesville and R. W. Jackson, brother of the bridegroom, of Quonset Point, Rhode Island.

Immediately after the ceremony at the church the couple left by car for a wedding trip through the South.

Mrs. Jackson received her education in the Waynesville schools and is now employed at Curtis Drug Store.
