Smathers Comes Bride Of Cordell

Eugenia Lee Smathers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Smathers of Canton, became the bride of James Donald Cordell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jay H. Corwinnano, in a candlelight ceremony Saturday evening, June 17, at the Central Methodist church in Canton.

Rev. C. W. Kirby officiated. The church was decorated with thousands of white gladioli and carnations.

Traditional music was presented by J. B. Rhea. Miss Helen "Always," "Because," "Love You Truly," and "You Truly."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length white organdy dress, trimmed with hand embroidered lace. Her veil of French illusion was attached to a tiara of orchids. She carried her father's white Bible, adorned with white orchid and white satin ribbons.

Frances Franklin, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. She was attired in a white organdy dress with a blue sash. The bridesmaids wore a blue dress with a white sash. The groom wore a white suit with a blue tie.

Linda Franklin, niece of the bride, and Miss Linda Smith were bridesmaids. They carried bouquets of white gladioli. James Cordell, brother of the groom, was best man.

Smathers of Atlanta, Ga., and David Smathers, son of the bride, Carl Cordell of the bridegroom, and John, Jr., were ushers.

Following the ceremony an informal reception was held at the home of the bride.

Cordell attended the Canton schools. She is a graduate of the Central Methodist School of Canton.

The bridegroom attended the Canton schools. He also served in the U. S. Army, and is employed at Post Accounts.

Linda Sloan has returned from a week's visit to Moore in Sylva.

Miss Elizabeth Jane Bradley Is Married To Joe Cline

Miss Elizabeth Jane Bradley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Alfred Bradley of Waynesville, became the bride of Joe Corrace Cline, son of Mr. and Mrs. V. O. Cline of Shelby, in a ceremony at the First Methodist Church, Sunday afternoon, at five-thirty o'clock.

The Rev. J. E. Yountz, pastor, pronounced the vows. The altar was decorated with floor standards of white gladioli and lilies and seven-branched candelabra against a background of palms and ferns.

Prior to the ceremony a program of nuptial music was presented by Joe Morrow, organist, and Miss Alice Fincher and Charles Isley, soloists. Mr. Morrow played "Arioso in A" by Bach, "Evening Star," by Wagner, "Salut d'Amour," by Elgar, Miss Fincher sang "Because," by d'Hardelot and "At Dawning," by Cadman and Mr. Isley sang "Through the Years," by Youmans and "I Love Thee," by Grieg. During the ceremony Mr. Morrow played "Traumerel" by Schumann, and the traditional marches were used.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ice blue satin trimmed with matching tulle. The bodice, fashioned with tulle yoke, had a dropped shoulder effect with bertha designed of folds of tulle, caught with rosebuds of satin. The full skirt, which fell in a chapel train was edged with a wide band of tulle and the pointed sleeves were trimmed at the wrists with a tulle ruffle. Her chapel veil of matching tulle illusion was attached to a coronet of illusion and she carried a bouquet of white roses centered with a white purple-throated orchid and showered with gypsophelia and white satin ribbon.

Miss Jean Ann Bradley was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a gown of blue satin, a shade deeper than that of the bride, fashioned with bertha of shirred satin, pointed bodice, and hoop skirt which ended in a short train and was caught at intervals with bows of satin to show ruffles of the same material. She wore matching satin mitts and a Southern Belle hat of blue net trimmed with fuchsia velvet ribbon and streamers, and carried cascade bouquet of American Beauty roses.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Robert W. Borders of Shelby, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Joe Hart Davis of Winchester, Tenn., Miss Frances Louise Mitchell of Tullahoma, Tenn., and Miss Margaret Lawson of Loudon, Tenn., all former classmates of the bride. Their gowns were identical to that of the maid of honor and they carried colonial bouquets of American Beauty roses and gypsophelia.

Ben E. Cline of Shelby, brother of the bridegroom, was best man and ushers were Richard Bradley, brother of the bride, V. O. Cline, Jr., brother of the bridegroom, Robert W. Borders, and Wayne Corpening.
