David Was King Who Honored God

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—II Samuel 5:1-5; 6-7; 9; Psalms 24; 51.

The people demanded that David be their king, so the elders of Israel came to Hebron, where David made a league with them, and they anointed him their king.

David had the Ark of the Lord brought to Zion, and David danced with all his might before the Ark while the people shouted and the trumpets sounded in triumph.

David made inquiries about former King Saul's family and found that Jonathan had a lame son living. David sent for Mephibosheth and restored to him the family property.

David was secure on his throne, his enemies were overthrown, so he sat down before the Lord and poured out his thankful heart to Him.

MEMORY VERSE—II Samuel 7:22.

Parent Problems

Exploiting Little Children

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.
DURING June of every year we see some growing practices related to young children which discriminating parents hardly can approve. I refer to the various ways of exploiting little children for the amusement of adults, under the guise of giving these children unusual opportunities.

Among these practices are graduation exercises for kindergarten children, in gowns, with pageantry, pomp and splendor similar to a high school commencement; and Tom Thumb weddings. Even some P.T.A.'s sponsor the latter; and this always amazes me, as the practice is so contrary to all the P.T.A. stands for. Judging from all the large dolls in wedding attire one sees displayed in store windows, a good many parents must be buying such dolls for their children. How, moreover, could a child really play with such a doll? I can see in the pompous kindergarten commencement a good publicity stunt for private schools. What has these youngsters to look forward to in later years? The youngsters themselves would find more real enjoyment from simpler ceremonies; just doing some of the things they did in their regular programs, with only their parents and a few friends in the audience. Besides, these precocious practices with mere tots set false standards for parents and children.

In these days of so many broken homes causing so many broken hearts among children, why use little children to put on mock-marriages as vaudeville performances for adults? Don't we want our children, even the toddlers, to think of a wedding as a very sacred ceremony? Can a little child acquire a wife some idea in a make-believe marriage which brings out and uproarious laughter from the audience, even from his own parents?

Practice Condemned
Some years ago there was an epidemic of marriages in planes and the practice was publicized until thinking people including most of the clergy violently condemned the practice that it no longer gained public approval. How do you see airplane weddings are comparable in their possible harm to Tom Thumb weddings? Unhappily some as we weddings on the little children are not parents, and their parents are applauding and thinking it a great joke. Why sacrifice the mental health of little children to feed the vanities of adults and to desecrate the basic institution of family life?

Something more is involved in wedding-attired dolls and Tom Thumb marriages. They emphasize unduly early in the child's mind awareness of opposite sex as such. While bringing of children afforded girls the opportunity to play with dolls, it is possible, certainly up to a point, without thought of sex, to play with dolls and boys. While bringing of children afforded girls the opportunity to play with dolls, it is possible, certainly up to a point, without thought of sex, to play with dolls and boys. While bringing of children afforded girls the opportunity to play with dolls, it is possible, certainly up to a point, without thought of sex, to play with dolls and boys.

Along with such practices we have condemned is the among many mothers of girls and boys to parties in about as soon as they are old enough to wear pants and diapers. Why can't more parents let little children grow up in wholesome normal fashion? Why exploit them for selfish pride satisfaction of adults?

TELEVISION NIGHT—ONE OF THOSE PICTURES WITH A MESSAGE

No matter where you live, you're on the MAINLINE in this new day of truck transportation.

IT'S A FACT, there are 1,800 communities in North Carolina served only by truck... 1,800 communities which depend on motor transportation for practically all they use—and the things they use include every comfort and convenience found anywhere.

In short, trucks have brought modern living within reach of every home in every community. Ninety-nine per cent of all you eat, wear, and use on your farm or in your home is moved by motor truck somewhere on its way to you.

New industries are creating jobs and prosperity in hundreds of rural communities where they could not have existed 30 years ago. Trucks made the difference, for modern truck transportation puts every town and crossroad in immediate touch with the Nation.

Today there's better farming, greater industry, and happier living in every part of North Carolina—thanks to trucks.

Thought for Meditation

You know a man is never licked. Because he's been misused or kicked. Sometimes it helps in bringing out. What many men have thought a doubt. If he can learn that real good deeds is all it takes and all he needs. To lick the man who staged the fight. The kick he got will prove all right.
