Sunday School Lesson

Growing by Reading, Meditation

REFLECT ON "THINGS OF GOOD REPORT," SAID PAUL.

Scriptures—Acts 17:10-15; Philippians 4:8-9; I Timothy 4:12-16; II Timothy 2:15; 4:13.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
 HOW WE may grow in grace through good reading and meditation is the theme of our lesson today. Probably more people in the United States can read and write—in proportion to the population—than in any other country of comparable size.
 This seems to have come about because printing was invented before the United States came into being as a nation. Persons in all walks of life in our country read.
 What we read, however, is more important than the number of books we peruse. When we are in trouble, we turn to the Bible and read passages like the 23rd Psalm, or other like verses, which remind us of the goodness of God and His help in time of trouble.
 If we grow into the habit of reading the scriptures and meditating on them, we will be immeasurably helped in our daily living. Our thoughts have a wonderful influence on our daily conduct.
 Books that stimulate thinking along high moral lines—"good literature"—should help us to be-

MEMORY VERSE

"Whatever things are true, whatever things are honest, whatever things are just, whatever things are pure, whatever things are lovely, whatever things are of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things."—Philippians 4:8.

heard, and seen in me, do; and the God of peace shall be with you."

"Think on these things"—honesty, justice, purity, loveliness, and those of good report—and try to live them, and truly "the God of peace shall be with us."
 To Timothy he wrote: "Let no man despise thy youth; but be thou an example of the believers, in word, in conversation, in charity, in spirit, in faith, in purity."
 Meditate upon these things; give thyself wholly to them; that thy profiting may appear to all."
 And again to Timothy, in his second epistle, he wrote: "Study to show thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth."
 One more word Paul wrote to his "beloved son," Timothy, asking him to bring to him "the cloak that I left at Troas with Carpus . . . and the book, especially the parchments."
 Paul wanted to read these manuscripts and meditate on them, even as he prepared for death. The brethren sent Paul to Be-

In the clutches of THE LAW and he doesn't know why

Most of the teen-age youngsters who run afoul of the law do not know why!

They can hardly be expected to realize that a lack of proper moral and religious training has left them ill-equipped for honest, decent living.

In many cases, their parents did not give them the advantage of religious education in the Church. And so, all their lives they may have to pay the penalty of their parent's neglect.

Juvenile Delinquency is hard to cure, but it is easy to prevent. The Church, with the support and cooperation of faithful parents, can equip every child with the sure foundation of Christian truth.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
