

Mountaineers Play Blue Devils; Bears Meet Bearcats

HS Expects Long Argument Home Field

Waynesville's Mountaineers and Hendersonville's Blue Devils will tangle Friday night in a Blue Ridge Conference attraction. Kickoff time is 7:30 P. M. Carleton Weatherby's boys put up their heavy drills yesterday afternoon with a brisk scrimmage-type as they went to the day before. Head coach reported his boys were in good shape but there was one exception. Wade Francis, casualty of Hendersonville game two weeks ago, still listed as doubtful. His injury has been repairing slowly. Weatherby said his Mountaineers could expect a stiff argument. Forecast was based on personal observations at the Brevard-School game.

Brevard usually pulls at one of the same every season, no secret that every opponent the Waynesville schedule for the season a good one if the Mountaineers.

Mountaineers have to win to stay in the Conference though it will take a loop loss to record to give them a title.

Mountaineers will have the line, even if Francis is in the power in the backfield. Brevard has superiority in the backfield and a good attack. Waynesville's aerial and deception showed a large element last Saturday night.

Hendersonville Challenges Canton At Canton Tonight

Canton High School's undefeated Black Bears meet Hendersonville tonight at the Canton stadium.

Kickoff time for the Blue Ridge Conference headliner is 7:30 P. M. The Bearcats, though walloped by Waynesville (26-6) and smothered by Asheville (47-0), shape up as the roughest stumbling block in the Bears' way to their first Blue Ridge crown since 1947.

A large delegation of Waynesville folks, including quite a few football people, will help pack the Bear stadium for the fracas.

The Mountaineers won't be in action until Friday night. They will be at home for Brevard, in another Conference game.

A Hendersonville victory, regarded as improbable, but not impossible. (See Bearcats—Page 8)

Plans Made For 1950-51 Community Cage Season

County community leaders and recreation officials Monday night drew up plans for the 1950-51 basketball season.

Approximately 200 people, including principals of the county's high schools and local Community Development Program officials, attended the session at the Court House here.

A committee for the 1950-51 season was selected: Jack Justice of Canton, chairman; George Rogers of Upper Crabtree; Joe Turner, Fines Creek; Bob Williams, White Oak; Lester Stockton, Cruso; and Martin Rogers, Stoney Cove.

The eligibility rules adopted aimed, fundamentally, to encourage the participation of people who normally do not have much opportunity to take part in athletics.

At the same time, the rules were set up to protect high school basketball coaches from losing varsity players to the community teams.

The rules:

1) Limit membership of a community team to permanent residents of that community;

2) Prohibit varsity high school players and members of Class A and B independent teams from playing for a community team; this rule applies to both boys and girls; no player who has been issued a varsity uniform by his or her high school team may compete on a community team;

The rule on independents does not apply to permanent residents of that community.
