we're in the air! Witches are riding their brooms and the cats are on the prowl as the students around town begin thinking of the costumes they are going to wear to the many Hallowe'en parties that are scheduled for the next few days.

Morrow night, however, they have to take time out from their mischievous doings and write the Waynesville-Brevard football game. The Blue Devils are expected to have a real good team and if the Mountaineers will be no push-over.

Onto the subject of Hallowe'en. Nancy Bischoff's birthday party at a very good time—near Hallowe'en—so she had as the theme of her party Monday night's Dairy Bar the Hallowe'en ice cream she served was as witches, cats, pumpkins, and other Hallowe'en figures. Singing and dancing were the main features of the evening with prizes being awarded in the morning.

Morrow proved to be the life of the party by having a "corn-throwing" good time. Boblyn received many lovely presents and everyone had a wonderful time at the party.
