was in round numbers only 15,000, an average of about one-third of a book per person. But the circulation during the year was 74,898—an average of more than two books read by every person in Haywood. This is a most amazing thing. It shows that our people are book-conscious—in plain English, book-hungry. Next year the circulation will go higher, and in the future—who can foretell the circulation? How this compares with other counties in North Carolina cannot be said. For other parts of the United States generally, there can be quoted the following newspaper clipping. An Associated Press dispatch from Ann Arbor, Michigan, the town in which is located the Michigan State University, reads: "Ann Arbor, Mich., July 17—Nearly half of all Americans do not read books, a University of Michigan survey indicated today. More than half of all adults live within a mile of a public library, but only one-tenth average as much as a visit a month, the survey showed." Now contrast present-day Haywood County against the data set out in the Associated Press dispatch. We have only had our bookmobile about three years. What may we expect when, over the improved roads of the past two years,

Bethel Students Visit WCTC

Tuesday

By Grace Erwin

Seven girls and one boy from Bethel took advantage of the Tuesday's vacation by visiting Western Carolina Teacher's College with Miss Jo Curto.

They left at 8:30 a. m. and arrived there at 9:15. During the day they visited the dormitories, saw the campus, and then to the training school where they visited the first grade with a first grader acting as guide. From there they went to a tenth grade English class and listened in. After leaving this class they sat through a first year French class.

After returning from the training school they visited some of the college classes. From here they went to the cafeteria where they were served a very good dinner.

After lunch the girls got acquainted with several of the students. Then they went to the auditorium for a concert of operatic music, presented by Miss Collins.

About 4:30 the girls came home, tired but thrilled over their trip. Those making the trip with Miss Curto were: Iva Lee Burnette, Peggy Jo Gibbs, Troy Watson, Joyce Ann Trull, Martha June Vance, Madia Heatherly, Barbara Clark, and Nancy Cooke.

the bookmobile will carry books to every cove in Haywood County.

Now for a moving picture review of progress in Haywood over the years as preparation for this library development.

The great work done over 15 or 20 years past by our very able County Agents, men and women, deserves the highest praise. The growth of the Four-H Clubs, of FFA and FHA organizations call for unstinted praise. The top seems to have been reached in the Community Development Program, in which each community good-naturedly contends in all around activities to surpass its neighbors. In this, Haywood would seem to have reached the topmost heights in better living activities. These developments are beyond anything I have ever seen come to pass in Haywood—or elsewhere. With good roads everywhere, with homes equipped with running water and electricity for lights and labor-saving household appliances in the farmhouses and on the barns—Haywood has reached far up the heights in physical equipment and development and far beyond anything foreseeable 25 years ago.

Having gained these physical attainments with a small multitude of material aids to free our people from the bodily burden of farm and household chores—our splendid Haywood people are now seeking to develop the mind by reading good books. And who can foresee the progress in this line over the next five years.

And for myself, an old man who has seen this marvellous forward-going of old Haywood—I can say that over these years in Home Development and Library Programs and in book readings, we have reached high toward the climax. I am prouder than ever before in my long life in being a Haywood man.

"Food Felt Like Fire In My Raw Stomach, Scalf's Gave Relief"

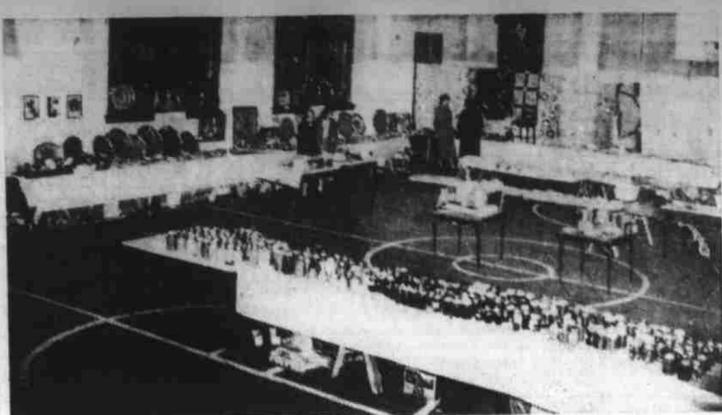

Mrs. Emmett Walker of Middlesboro, Ky., writes: "I had suffered spells of gassy stomach distress for 12 years but I seemed to grow much worse after a throat operation. My tongue seemed so raw every bite I ate hurt me so that I was on an oatmeal diet. Sometimes I couldn't bend over I was so sore about my stomach. I often had blind spots before my eyes and blinding headaches.

"After taking the first bottle of Scalf's Indian River Medicine I could rest better and started eating a little, then as I got better I began to eat different foods. Soon I was able to eat anything I wanted, even onions, without suffering pain. The balanced diet soon helped me to go from 100 lbs. to 126 lbs. in weight and I felt better than in 12 years."

Scalf's Indian River Medicine is on sale at all good drug stores on a money-back guarantee of satisfaction from the very first bottle. Try it today.

How do you raise a revolutionist?

The same way you were brought up.

You and your ancestors are just about the greatest revolutionists of all time. When most of the world's people were being pushed around by all-powerful governments, Americans revolted... and won freedom from government force and tyranny.

Our Bill of Rights declared that men and women are more important than their governments. A revolutionary idea—and Americans have kept it alive for nearly 200 years!

Today, that great idea is in danger. The old idea of all-powerful government has made a comeback. And when government gains power, its people lose precious rights and freedoms.

Even in America, we've been giving more and more power to our federal government. Now you hear people saying, "Let the government take over certain industries and services—the doctors, the railroads, the electric companies."

Most of those people don't want an all-powerful government any more than you do. But when an ambitious big government gets control of more and more things, it becomes socialistic almost automatically. In a socialistic U. S. A., the American Revolution would be dead. There would be no freedoms for you—or your children.

We hope you'll talk this over with your family and friends and fellow-workers. It's the greatest danger America is facing.
