Insurance Plan Will Be Presented Rural Citizens

First effort made in North Carolina to extend group hospitalization insurance to rural people is underway here.

Representatives of Haywood County's organized communities, members of the board of county commissioners, and the County Hospital board, will meet at the Haywood County Court House Monday night to decide whether such a campaign should be authorized.

The meeting will open at 7:30 P. M.

If they vote in favor of this, then efforts will be made to interest the people of the individual communities in the plan.

Representatives of the Blue Cross hospitalization insurance firm will address the audience, explaining the benefits and rate schedule under the group plan.

Before attempting to interest the people of the individual communities in it, however, the firm needs a representative favorable vote for the county as a whole.

Urged to attend this meeting are all Community Development Program chairmen and additional representatives from each community: the county commissioners, members of the County Hospital board, and all interested in extending the plan to the communities.

The meeting was planned last Monday night at a session attended by the county commissioners, hospital board, county Extension Service workers, and Community Development Program officers.

Representatives of the Blue Cross addressed this meeting, explaining the system.

Mrs. C. O. Newell, chairman of the Haywood County Community Development Program, appointed a committee of Enos Boyd, Jonathan Creek; Van Wells, Center Pigeon; Mrs. Hugh Noland, Upper Crabtree; C. B. McCrary, Fines Creek; and C. C. Francis, Ratcliffe Cove.

This committee was named to study the possibilities, and decided then to call the county-wide meeting.

THE POLIO CAMPAIGN

PRESENTS HAYWOOD CITIZENS

WITH AN OPPORTUNITY AND A RESPONSIBILITY!

The devastating story of the ravages of Polio comes close to Haywood — we have friends and loved ones who have been stricken by this terrible disease.

Medical science is making every effort to conquer this dreaded disease, but that requires time, and money.

In the meantime, those of our fellow citizens who have polio must be given every care and attention. The treatments for these patients are expensive, but that is secondary — COST cannot be counted, because human suffering, and life is at stake.

All of us cannot become highly trained doctors and nurses to care for these patients; but thanks to the American way of life, an opportunity is afforded each of us to share in the caring for our friends in the iron lungs — or just out of them.

— we can give money. We can give any amount we like, but this year the need is urgent. From our own county, 19 of our own people during the past year were stricken with polio.

Here is your opportunity — reach deep in your pocket, and give liberally, as you say a prayer of thanks, that here in America we can still be "our brother's keeper, and help those who suffer".
