Group Will Plan Rural Road Program

D. Reeves Noland Named Chairman And Member Of Inter-City Survey Group

Commission Head

D. REEVES NOLAND was unanimously named chairman, and the 7th man of the inter-city survey commission to study problems relating to Waynesville and Hazelwood.

The 6-man survey commission of Waynesville and Hazelwood unanimously named D. Reeves Noland as the seventh member and chairman of the commission, as the group held their initial meeting. The commission spent three hours in formulating their plans, and course of study of mutual problems confronting the two towns. The members decided to make a detailed report to their respective boards of aldermen as to the tentative plan of study. This report will be made between now and the next meeting on Tuesday night. Mr. Noland will assume the office as chairman at the Tuesday meeting. One member of the commission said that among the several major subjects due to be discussed and studied by the group was the matter of consolidating the two towns. All indications are that their formal report will go into detail on this, as well as many kindred subjects pertaining to the two towns. The Waynesville board named Charles E. Ray, W. Hugh Massie, and James M. Long, with Mr. Ray chairman. The Hazelwood board named John B. Smith, W. H. Prevost, and Dr. Stuart R. Roberson, with Mr. Smith chairman. The 7-man commission is charged with the responsibility of making a detailed study of problems of concern to the two towns, and report their factual findings to their boards of aldermen, and the citizens. Among the subjects to get careful study by the commission will be the water rates Waynesville charges the town of Hazelwood on a wholesale basis. The commission gave no indications as to how long they felt would be required to gather and study the facts before making a recommendation and report to the officials and citizens. In making their unanimous selection of Mr. Noland, the commission pointed out that his long record, and years of experience in official matters, in addition to his experience as a business man and property owner, well qualified him as the seventh member. Mr. Noland lives in Rattliffe Cove, and is former member of the State Agriculture Commission, and also highway commissioner of the 10th district.

Sheep Raising Is Fun In Haywood

RODNEY HYATT, of Bethel, is just about as happy as two-week-old "Suzie Q"—the orphan lamb. Rodney is giving "Suzie Q" part of her 60-ounces of milk which she gets every day. Rodney is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hyatt, and the lamb is owned jointly by Rodney and his aunt, Mrs. Welch Singleton. The lamb's first meal is at 5:30 a.m., and the last at 9 p.m., taking 10 ounces at each of the six meals per day. (Staff Photo.)

Chamber Commerce Begins Annual Membership Drive

The membership drive of the Chamber of Commerce got underway here this week, as letters with membership contracts were mailed. Harry Bourne is chairman of the finance and membership committee, and plans to get the drive completed immediately.

There are three provisions made for paying current membership dues, Mr. Bourne said. First, payment in full; getting a statement quarterly, and third, drawing a draft on bank account.

"The Chamber of Commerce should work as a team, and a membership is the only license you need to be on it," Mr. Bourne said, in pointing out that "a community with the opportunities that we have cannot be without an active Chamber of Commerce."

The memberships this year are $24, and the board of directors at their initial meeting of the year adopted a budget of $7,500.

David Felmet, president of the organization, said that Mr. Bourne and committee have worked on plans for the membership drive for several weeks, and have a campaign mapped out which he feels will assure a successful year for the organization.

Additional Rural Road Work Will Be Mapped

Representatives of each of Haywood's townships, together with officials, and highway officials will meet at 9:30 Saturday morning to map plans for further rural road building.

L. Dale Thrash, highway commissioner of the 10th district, and engineers, will be here and hear suggestions from the representatives as to what roads need first attention under the rural program.

As of January, Haywood has a balance of $1,100,000 for building rural roads, as provided under the $200 million road bond issue of 18 months ago.

Interest in the meeting indicates that a large group will be present for the meeting here Saturday. The State Highway Commission has completed an additional four miles of road improvements in Haywood County under the $200,000,000 bond issue program.

Grading and surfacing with traffic bound macadam were finished during January on the following roads:

Halo Road, 0.4 mile; Ablo Road, 0.8; Joe B. Cove Road, 0.5; Shuford Howell Road, 0.1.

Stabilizing and strengthening were completed on the following: Glenn Street Extension, 0.2 mile; Shingle Cove Road, 0.4; Rigger Road, 0.4; Woodland Church, 0.3; Saunook Road, 0.3; Newsome Road, 0.4; Stamey Cove, 0.2.

Official year-end figures show that the State Highway Commission has completed 48.4 per cent (or 5,811 miles) of the 12,000-mile secondary road paving goal set by Governor Scott two years ago. Approximately one-fourth of the 25,000-mile stabilization program was finished by the end of 1950, and more work was in progress on the primary road system than at any time in the Commission's history.

Polio Drive Exceeds Quota By About $4,000

Haywood went almost $4,000 over the 1950 polio quota, it was announced by Johnny Johnson, of Waynesville, and Edwin Haynes, of Canton, yesterday. The county quota was $19,400, and the total in hand to date is $23,327.81, the co-chairmen of the fund raising fund announced. The officials have paid off the 1950 deficit of $4,200, and as they announced today, pointed out that "we have black ink on our side of the ledger once again," they said. The co-chairmen said several committees were yet to report, and that the final report might send the total several hundred dollars above the present mark. Both co-chairmen thanked everyone for the generous response, and cooperation throughout the campaign.

Haywood 4-H Clubs To Study Highway Safety

Plans To Spend $25,000 Improving Lake At Camp

Officials plan to raise $25,000 during the next two weeks in the Daniel Boone Council, for the restoration of the lake at the Boy Scout camp above Lake Logan. The lake was damaged two years ago by flood waters. The campaign to raise money for the lake will be staged in connection with the annual membership drive. Haywood has been allocated a quota of $3,330 for the annual drive, it was learned from Ben J. Colkitt, council vice president, and M. H. Bowles, member of the finance committee. Tentative plans are for the campaign to get underway here February 19th, in commemoration of the 41st annual birthday of Boy Scouting. The Canton area has been assigned a quota of $1,750 and Waynesville $1,580. The Daniel Boone Camp serves all this 14-county district, and each summer season hundreds of Scouts are camped there. The council is improving the camp each year, and the restoration of the Lake is the major project at the present, it was pointed out.
