Work To Start April On New Hospital Unit

Commission Pushing On Gathering Data For Report

Haywood Scene Is Color Cover For New N.C. Booklet

The "Rooftop of Eastern America" is Haywood's Devil's Court House, according to the caption on the cover of "North Carolina—The Tar Heel State." The picture is in full color.

The booklet was published by the State Department of Conservation and Development primarily for response to inquiries from out-of-state school children and for distribution through military camps. It is hoped that the supply will be sufficient to fill all requests for single copies.

N. C. Symphony To Give 2 Concerts In This County

The North Carolina Little Symphony will give two concerts in Haywood next week—At Canton on Monday, 26th, and at Waynesville on the 28th.

The children's concert will be given at one o'clock, and the main concert at eight, at the high school. The same program will be given both here and in Canton.

Mrs. Freida Knopp is in charge here, and C. C. Poindexter, in Canton. The program will include numbers from Mozart, Beethoven, Waldteufel, Debussy, Greig, Novacek, Guion and Offenbach.

42nd Annual Declamation Contest Set 27th

The public is invited to the 42nd Annual Declamation contest, sponsored by the Dorcas Bell Love chapter of the D. A. R. on Tuesday, February 27. It will take place at 9:45 a. m. in the auditorium of the Waynesville High School. Nine speakers are planning to enter the contest, which is open to all high school boys.

Last year's contest was won by Danny McClure, then in his second year of high school. Another former winner is Malcolm Williamson, recent winner of the declamation contest at the State Republican Convention.

Details Being Pushed To Get Bids Advertised March First; Contract Let Early April

This morning it looked like the machinery was all set to start moving dirt for the $760,000 Haywood County Hospital addition by April 15th.

The final plans are being given the onceover by the North Carolina Medical Care Commission, and H. E. Hamilton, of the commission, told The Mountaineer from Raleigh today that indications were that the project would be advertised for bids the first week in March. The 30-day period of advertising, would enable the contract to be let the first week in April, with a stipulation that work must start within 10 days after awarding of the contract.

A sum of $760,000 has been set up for the 5-story building, providing space for 49 beds. This will also include cost of equipment, which is estimated will be about $80,000.

Estimates are that 8 months to a year will be required to build the structure, which will connect to the present building. Four contracts will be given—a general contract, heating and ventilation, plumbing and electrical. The entire units of operating rooms will be air conditioned.

The county is putting up $225,000 of the total of the building and equipment. This was provided in a special bond election last September by a 13 to 1 vote of the citizens.

Lee Davis, administrator of the hospital, and board of trustees, have received plans and specifications, and all agree that "it is a thing of beauty, and designed for efficiency, and to meet an urgent need."

Town Would Get Big Sum For Street Project

G. C. Ferguson, town manager, is attending a special hearing before the General Assembly relative to a proposed bill to give the towns funds for general street work. The bill, based on the 1950 census, would give Waynesville between $25,000 and $30,000 for streets used as main highways. Mr. Ferguson said.

The hearing is being sponsored by the North Carolina League of Municipalities.

Moody Hurt When Car Leaves Road

Manuel Houston Moody suffered cuts about the head when his car left Highway 284 Wednesday night, and went down a 12-foot embankment.

Moody, the lone occupant in the car, was given treatment at the Haywood County Hospital.

The car was badly damaged, according to Patrolman B. L. Basden, who is making an investigation of the accident.

REA Group Attend State Convention

Several representatives of the Haywood Electric Membership Corporation are attending the two-day state association in Raleigh this week. The delegates from the Haywood group includes: R. C. Sheffield, manager; R. E. Sentelle, attorney; Carter Osborne, C. W. London and H. W. Davis, directors.

Waste Paper Pick-Up To Be Made Sunday Afternoon

Bob Hall, chairman of the Junior Chamber of Commerce Waste Paper

Drive, today voiced an urgent reminder to residents of the areas covered in the drive to have their waste paper out this Sunday, February 25, between 1 and 6 p. m.

The drive will include the following areas: Dellwood Road to New Highway, Asheville Road to Cedar Top including Ratcliffe Cove, Pigeon Road to Waynesville City Limits, Balsam Road to Dayton Rubber Company, and the towns of Hazelwood and Waynesville.

While the Jay Cees are particularly anxious to have old newspapers, magazines and catalogs, they will also take clothes hangers, rags and string.

Sale of the material thus collected will raise funds for the Jay Cee's various civic projects. Assisting Mr. Hall in this drive are E. Miller Ingram and Dwight Beatty.

Delights Of The News

Record
The ink was dry on our attendance records at the Sunday School class at the Methodist Church, the announcement of the Perfect Attendance pins for the month of February. The son of the Methodist at Bethel, Leroy West Bucky haven't missed a day in eight years. Is there anyone in the county with a record of perfect observance?

A Junior
W. Brown is a Waynesville. His father is Glenn Brown, a former furniture executive. Both go by the name. At home, Mrs. Brown distinguishes by calling Glenn William. Outside, most people think of the junior, since his first name is as his father's.

Is Even Worse
Stamey is very fond of apples, he can often be seen throughout the day at the house. One day while looking on a commissioner's meeting, Mr. Stamey was enjoying his favorite fruit all of a sudden he spit out several feet and threw the remainder of the apple away, and had a look of disgust. Apparently he has rotten spots, or maybe worms—like the man asked: "Is it worse than biting into and seeing a worm?" "No, half a worm," came the reply.

Mountain Supply Firm Bought By Ed Mottinger

Ed Mottinger, president of Waynesville Tractor Company, Inc., announced today the firm is open for business in the recently completed Burgin Building at the Depot.

Mr. Mottinger, and associates, recently bought the Mountain Supply Company from Rogers Brothers here. The formal opening of the new firm will be staged at an early date, Mr. Mottinger said.

Mr. Mottinger is formerly of Whiteville, and for five years was associated with the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company. Prior to that time, he served six years in the army.

He will handle the complete line of Ford Tractors and Dearborn farm equipment. In addition to sales, he will have a service department for all makes of tractors, with Enos Boyd in charge.

Mr. Mottinger plans to move his family here in the near future.

Two Small Children Have Narrow Escape With Fire

Lawrence Mintz of Cecil, in saving her two small children from their burning home yesterday, but the house and belongings was burned to the ground. Mrs. Mintz was only a distance away, at the home of her parents, when the children called her from the burning building. Mr. Mintz was away at work.

She had carried out the one and two years old children had made such headway she was unable to return to the household goods. Neighbors immediately came to help with clothing and other items and a radio appeal brought donations. The family is now present with Mr. Mintz's father and Mrs. John Mintz.

Fleeing Drunk Man Finds Pathway Full Of Thorns

There is a 20-year-old Haywood man who would perhaps go stark crazy if he heard the song, "My Wild Irish Rose." It is not that he has anything against the Irish, or pretty music, but the mere mention of a rose, causes him to start stinging all over.

The episode started when the young fellow started raising a fuss at the Little Rock Station. The man was "fussy drunk," according to Sheriff Fred Campbell, who was called to take over the situation.

As the officers arrived, the young fellow broke out in a run for the woods. Right on his heels

Religious Census Will Be Conducted On Sunday

The community-wide religious census will get underway Sunday afternoon, with all denominations participating.

The Allens Creek community have completed the work in their area, and Hazelwood churches have divided that area into three parts, and will begin at two o'clock on Sunday.

The Waynesville churches will pool their workers, and a meeting will be held at the First Baptist church of all canvassers at two o'clock, and after a briefing, and final instructions, will make the survey of Waynesville.

The results of the canvass will be computed and all churches given the details. Rev. J. E. Yountz is general in charge. (See Census—Page 8)

3 Haywood FFA Members Win In Speaking Contest

Pete Noland of Crabtree, speaking on "More Milk" placed second. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Noland of the Hyder Mountain section. Waynesville's Wade Francis took fourth place, and "Wicky" Haynes of Clyde was fifth.

First and third honors were won by speakers from Bryson City and Murphy, respectively.

One Boarding Place Reports Business Slow

There is one "boarding" place in Waynesville that reports business is "slow" but even the Chamber of Commerce is not going to get a case of dithers over the news.

The operator of the place is Sheriff Fred Campbell—he reported this morning that he only had "two boarders" in jail. This is usually the case right after a criminal term of court, when the prisoners are sent to road camps or the state penitentiary.

L. L. McDowell, of Canton, Joins Marines

Lorin L. McDowell, 20, of Canton, has been accepted for enlistment in the U. S. Marine Corps. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. McDowell of Route 2, Canton. He is now at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot at Parris Island for eight weeks' basic training.

Another Oil-Drum Still Destroyed By Sheriff's Dept.

Officers found another oil-drum still Wednesday, together with four barrels of mash.

Deputies Carl Setzer and Everett McElroy found the galvanized outfit on Brendle Creek. Besides the mash, the officers found a quantity of tubs and buckets. The mash was destroyed, and the drum still brought in. This is the second such outfit found and destroyed in the past four weeks.
