

Gilt-Edged Investment A Good Easter Suit

SOFT TOUCH . . . Career-girl suit in Juillard's worsted color-vision tweed in navy and white birdseye weave boasts a fitted jacket with white linen collar and big pussy-cat taffeta bow. By Harry Frechtel.

LADYLIKE LOOK . . . The feminine touch in a softly tailored spring suit in John Walther's dove-gray wool, with doiman sleeves, slim skirt and jeweled medallions.

SPRING TOPPER . . . Newest shorty coat in soft lambkin fleece is this cropper-cutaway with triangular front.

CARDIGAN SUIT . . . Schiaparelli does it in Juillard's shadow worsted tweed with nipped waist and flyaway flanges.
