Students Make Good Jurors

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J.—(AP)—One morning in 1936 several students in the news reporting class at The State University's School of Journalism found themselves moved out of the spectators' seats in Judge George Morrison's District Court in New Brunswick, and sworn in as jurors. That was the beginning of a unique learn-by-doing program which Professor Hubert Ede's reporting classes have been carrying on regularly for the past five years.

"The reason I like to have students serve on juries is that they do such a fine job. I don't know that I've ever had any better, more serious jurors than the Rutgers kids," Judge Morrison said.

"There is an age requirement of 21 years for jurors in the Judge Morrison explained, hit on the practice of acting attorneys in a case to witness limitation, and it's worth fine."
