As the guests of the Co-op, the visitors toured the farms of A. T. Medford, Robert Green, Taylor Rose, and the 9,000-bird brooder house at Mooney Cove. They were particularly interested in the different types of laying houses in use at each of the first three.

Ambitions At 99

HAVERTHILL, Mass. — (AP) — Benjamin F. Brothers onetime seaman who once lifted a 720-pound anchor to win a $2 bet, is 99, and he'd like to take another trip to Europe—in a sailing vessel. Brothers, a former deacon of Calvary Baptist Church here, also feels at 99 that he should broaden his religious experience by attending services in the houses of worship of most other faiths.

His sight, hearing and appetite still are good. He has outlived two of three wives and all but two of his eight children, has nine grandchildren and ten great-grandchildren. He thinks hard work, moderate living and plenty of sleep are part of the recipe for long life. He says he always has gone to bed by 7:30 or 8 p.m. but arose early, at 5 or before every morning.

Doctors? For 90 years he never went to one. His only medicines in earlier years were those compounded by his mother from bark, herbs and other natural ingredients.

Library Notes

MARGARET JOHNSTON
COUNTY LIBRARIAN

To The People of Haywood County

IT IS UP TO YOU

YOU, the reading public, are important to the success and growth of our County Library.

YOU are our pride and joy—for you, as the borrowers of our books and the users of our other material, make all the details of Library work worthwhile.

It takes forty-five minutes of our time to order and process any particular book for your use. This time and effort would be wasted unless you read that particular book. Constant study is maintained of the books you check out, and your requests for certain titles are carefully noted. This is the way we "feel your pulse," figuratively speaking, to determine what books to buy for your use and pleasure.

YOU, also, determine our financial standing in our County and State. However, being human, you are prone to leave finances up to the Library Board. Our Board is composed of a group of citizens interested in the welfare of the Library; but the minute they ask for funds from the city or county it goes right back to you! City and County officials know that the Board members are interested in the Library because they have accepted that responsibility.

What the Commissioners and City Aldermen are interested in however, is how YOU, the reading citizen, feels about our Library and whether or not you find the necessary books to answer your problems. They think in the terms of the people who use the Library service, particularly those who have expressed their interest.

The problem we, the Library personnel, face today is the need for more room and more books. At present you are clamoring for new books both for the Library and for the Bookmobile. Last July, the Library Board's budget request was cut by the County Commissioners. Our book fund for the year ending June 30th has already been spent. No new books can be purchased until after July 1st, when the new budget is set up. The price of books, as in all other phases of living, has increased. That means we have been doubly hit—less funds and increased costs. Consequently, fewer books were added during this year than in previous years.

Books badly needed to meet our everyday demand are: technical books for the working man; informational books for club women and students; and books on the Home Demonstration Reading List for the Rural Women. At present we are depending on the State Library Commission and other libraries to provide us with books for which we have special requests.

Our book stock is 1/3 of a book per person while the average for North Carolina is 1/2 book per person. The standard is 2 books per person if good service is to be maintained.

In our present building (erected as a bank around 1904) there is shelf space for only 8500 books while our stock is around 15,000. Often a book you desire is not available because it is packed up in a storage box.

Our urgent need for space at present is:

- 1—More room for children's work (at present only a small group can sit on the floor).
- 2—Space for committees, who may sit down with materials and plan their year's program.
- 3—Room for specially planned programs and an adequate Reading Room with comfortable accommodation for reading and study.
- 4—A back entrance where the Bookmobile can be loaded and unloaded—instead of at the front door (as at present) where it interrupts and blocks passage of patrons into and out of the Library.

July 1st begins a new fiscal year. It is up to you to express your opinion to the Library Board, the County Commissioners and to the City Aldermen as to what kind of a Library you want for Waynesville and Haywood County.

ACT NOW to obtain the kind of service you desire. If the Library is to continue to grow and serve the ever increasing number of readers PROVISION will have to be made to meet that growing demand.

New Uses for Marshmallows

By ALICE DENHOFF

NO doubt about it—the fluffy marshmallow is a useful item on the pantry shelf, and with it, main dishes and salads are smartly transformed into the most tempting of delicacies, and the marshmallow plays a starring role when it comes to creamy, luscious desserts. All in all, the versatile marshmallow can readily fit into many, many dishes, and here are some palate-tempting delights to prove it, all geared to the season.

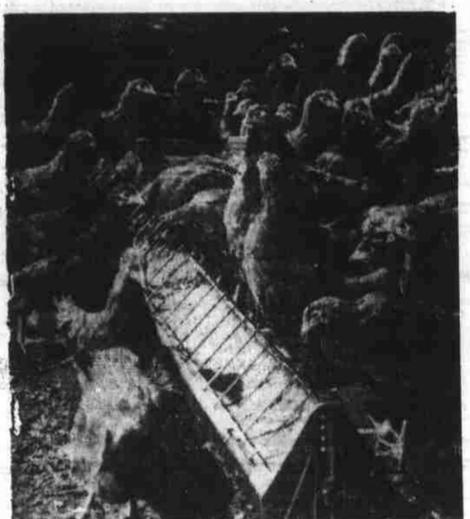

As a main course dish with ham, serve Pineapple Marshmallow Sweet Potatoes, the recipe for 6 servings. Cook 6 medium-sized sweet potatoes in their jackets until almost tender. Remove skins, cut into thirds, lengthwise. In a 1-qt. casserole place layers of sweet potatoes, tsp. salt, 1/4 c. butter and 3 slices pineapple cut into halves. Add 1/2 c. pineapple juice. Top casserole ingredients with 10 marshmallows. Bake uncovered at 350 F. for 20 min.

In a Salad
Marshmallow Cabbage Salad is not only good but it is good to eat. For 4-5 servings, cut 16 marshmallows (or 1/4 lb.) into fourths using wet scissors. In a large bowl, combine marshmallows, one quart finely shredded cabbage, one c. crushed or diced pineapple, 1/2 c. mayonnaise and 1/2 tsp. salt. Mix well and chill before serving.

Chocolate Mallow, a delightful frozen dessert is a good meal top-pper-offer any time. In a saucepan combine 1/2 c. milk, 16 marshmallows, a 1-oz. square unsweetened chocolate and 1/16th tsp. salt. Stir constantly over low heat until marshmallows and chocolate are dissolved. Remove from heat; cool. Add 1/2 tsp. vanilla. Whip 1/2 pint whipping cream until stiff, then fold into marshmallow-chocolate mixture. Pour into refrigerator dessert tray and freeze for several hours, without stirring.

Marshmallows add "oomph" to custard as you'll find out if you try this recipe. To serve 8 beat 5 eggs slightly in a bowl. Add 4 tsp. sugar and 1/2 tsp. salt; stir until well mixed. Scald qt. milk and add gradually, stirring constantly. Add tsp. vanilla. Pour custard mixture into 8 greased custard cups. Top each cup with 2 marshmallows. Place cups in shallow pan containing warm water. Bake at 325 F. 45-55 min., or until knife blade inserted in center of custard comes out clean. Custard is good warm or chilled.
