

Arts And Handicraft Show Opens In Cherokee

Saturday, May 26, will be the opening day of the Second Regional Exhibit of Fine Arts and Handicrafts to be held in the stone building on the Cherokee Indian Fair Ground. The exhibit will be open for two weeks, closing Saturday, June 8.

Artists and craftsmen exhibiting were asked to bring or send their work to the Central School or Quality Hall no later than Wednesday, May 23 in order that the committee on arranging exhibits might have ample time to display the various entries to the best advantage.

According to local predictions the high quality and variety of exhibits will attract a good attendance during the entire show.

Handicrafts of all kinds will be on display. A number of well known local craftsmen have entered exhibits, as well as several professional artists quite a group of amateur painters.

The exhibits of school children which will be arranged together will be of especial interest.

Teachers are invited to bring their pupils in groups to the exhibit. No admission charge will be made for school children accompanied by their teachers. A admission charge of 25 cents will be made for adults and 10 cents for school children not in groups. Children under school age will be admitted free.

On the first day (Saturday) the exhibit hall will not open until 1 p.m. Thereafter the hours on week days will be from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m., except on Friday, June 1 which is commencement day a Cherokee. On Sundays and on commencement day the hall will be open from 2 p.m. to 6 p.m.

The sponsors of the exhibit are proud of the originality, beauty and variety of the workmanship of the craft work done in our area, of the fine painting and drawing being done in the mountain region and of the great creative ability of our artists and craftsmen. They believe that all the people of the area are proud of what the home folks can do. The Cherokee Indian Agency is happy to act as host to this exhibit, and cordially invite everyone interested in the fine art and handicrafts of the area to attend the exhibit.

Recreation Topic Of May Meeting Of West Pigeon

MRS. HORACE PEEK
Mountaineer Reporter

Everybody from first-graders to great-grandparents took part in the fun at West Pigeon's May meeting. "Recreation" was the theme of the program; and Miss Mary Cornwell, home agent, and Turner Cathey, assistant county agent, were present to lead in the various activities.

During the business session, progress made on securing a garbage dump site for the community was reported. The Rev. Clyde Collins, chairman, reported that Mrs. Jessie Tickman had given a plot of ground, that a State health officer had approved its use, and that R. S. Sentelle was giving right-of-way through his property to reach the dump. A committee was named to continue with the work.

Hosts to the meeting were the Peters Cove residents. Those helping with the serving were Lonzie Sweetman (we are naming the man first this time because he is the first of our men to help in the kitchen. But it gave us ideas!), Mrs. Lonzie Sweetman, Mrs. Henry Garner, Peggy Peek, Annie Sue Gibson and Erna Joe Gibson. Homemade cakes, ice cream, coffee and punch were served.

Mrs. H. H. Garner, better known as "Aunt Mag," has returned to her home after a three-year stay with her sister, Mrs. Allie Welch. Aunt Mag is happy to have friends come sit for a chat, as she is not physically able to get about.

The community's deepest sympathy goes out to the R. E. Sentelle family for the recent loss of Mr. Sentelle's brother Boone. Boone Sentelle was a lifelong resident of West Pigeon and lived at the Sentelle home in the "gap" with his sister, Mrs. Ola S. McElroy, and his niece, Miss Margaret McElroy.

Mrs. Horace Peek and daughter Peggy and Miss Pauline Shepherd visited friends at Mars Hill College Sunday. They were dinner

Dear Judy,

NEW YORK—"Even Hollywood couldn't lure me from the circus." Youthful blonde Jeanne Sleeter, circus aerialist, who expressed her sentiments that way, just about sums up the attitude of circus folk toward The Big Top.

The attractive Jeanne recently had a very good chance to set her trapeze for the cinema. She is in several stunts, including substituting as aerialist for Betty Hutton in the forthcoming movie—"The Greatest Show on Earth"—but movietown glamor doesn't compare with circus life as far as she's concerned, Says she:

"It's quite a temptation, I know. And lots of young people would love it. But nothing can compare with the circus when you're born into it."

Jeanne's grandparents owned the Moore circus. Her father was an aerialist and her mother was a trapeze star. Jeanne was born 21 years ago, practically under the circus tent, at Peru, Indiana, during the Hagenbuch, Wallace, Cole circus stay there. Her father now manages the Worth circus in Australia.

She never has pined for a little rose covered cottage with a white picket fence, and permanent mail box—"Nice to think about," she admits, "but it would be awfully dull after this. When you're part of the circus, the moving caravan is your home."

Kids who get the idea it would be fun to join a circus get a word of caution from Jeanne, who says:

"It's a wonderful life, but it's not all play. It would be a terrific readjustment for girls or boys who are used to family life and permanent things. After they get on to the ropes, however, they'd love it."

On the other hand Jeanne thinks that perhaps most people get the impression that circus life is not normal, no real friends, and never a home. Says she:

"I have friends and homes in all the big cities—New York, Chicago and the west coast. It is a lovely life, but not for the girl who might become nostalgic about it all. Me—I look forward to each stop."

Romance is something else again. It is not easy to find, but one meets boys as frequently as city girls do, perhaps. Jeanne, sitting on a trunk backstage at Madison Square Garden indicated the young boys rushing past and said—"Most of the circus boys are married. But I'm not interested in romance at the moment, anyway."

She is one of Ringling Brothers, Barnum and Bailey circus' main aerialists—having been taught by Art Concello, now the circus manager, her father and uncle, Tuffy guests of Miss Collie Garner, English teacher at the College, and Miss Mary Wanda Peek, student and cousin of Miss Peggy Peek.

The Girls' Auxiliary of the Baptist Church will meet Monday night, May 28, at the home of Mary June Riddle. All girls of intermediate age are urged to attend.

Crabtree CDP Sees Program Of Slides At May Meeting

MRS. EUGENE WOOD
Mountaineer Reporter

Crabtree Community Development Program met Monday to see slides on the family and the community, presented by Wayne Corpening and Miss Jean Childers. At the same time residents were given another chance to sign for the community insurance program.

Mrs. Hugh Noland was in charge of the program; and the Rev. M. H. Raby gave the devotional.

The next meeting is to be at the Riverside school June 11, with the Riverside section in charge of the program. Each family is to bring a box lunch for a picnic supper.

Another meeting on Monday night was the county-wide "Youth Fellowship" at the Methodist Church on Hyder Mountain.

Pvt. Ernest Greene of Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., is at home on leave.

PFC Charles West, USMC, spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben West of the Hyder Mountain section.

Mr. and Mrs. George Jones of Columbus, Ohio, have returned home after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Holt of the Hyder Mountain section.

Pvt. Andrew Haney, who spent a week's furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Haney, has returned to Camp Atterbury, Ind.

Recent visitors in the community were Mr. and Mrs. Lacy Blanton and children of Wilmington, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Wood and children of Candler.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Wood spent a week's vacation at Myrtle Beach.

give a bigger thrill to circus audiences and in her lifetime only has wanted only one other thing. Says she:

"The only thing I really miss is a brother. If I could have a brother to carry on with me, it would be wonderful. I'm the only member of my family now performing in the circus, and I hope we can carry on."

Chances are that Jeanne will marry a big-top man and have that wish fulfilled. If only there were more bachelors in the circus!
