Time To Clinch The Matter

A campaign is being waged in Haywood to get 100 per cent of the burley allotment of over 1,500 acres planted this year. This is only good business-a sound and practical one.

Last year, for various reasons, Haywood burley farmers let 375.5 acres of burley allotment go unplanted. According to the average. this cut the farm income of this county down by over $375,000.

That third of a million dollars would mean more to the economy of the farmers than most people might realize.

Had some program, or disease hit this county that would have cut farm income by a third of a million, we would have heard a howl that would still be echoing between the hills. But when we deliberately fail to follow through and take advantage of a third of a million in income, we seem to take it with grace, and calmness, which is almost disturbing.

The First National Bank is sponsoring the campaign by giving $25 to the community planting the largest portion of the burley acreage allotment.

This is an important program, and while we are looking for high prices for farm products, new sources of income, new industries, and the like, we have a third-of-a-million dollar income proposition in the palm of our hands if we will only tighten our fingers around it.

Filling The Coal Bin Now

Secretary of the Interior Chapman is calling on the American people to do something which common sense should dictate they do anyway. He is urging homeowners to buy their next winter's fuel as early as possible this summer.

Secretary Chapman is not trying to scare anybody with a general shortage.

But he does point out that next winter transportation facilities may be taxed by heavy defense traffic.

Certainly we would not want to be hauling coal to the homefolks in cars which need to be used for building up our armaments. Especially so when the homefolks can, by a little timely forethought, get their needs out of the way earlier.

Then too, there is such a satisfied feeling in knowing that a full coal bin or a full oil tank awaits the worst that winter can do. These give a feeling of security in a time when so many things are insecure.

Secretary Chapman bases his appeal on a patriotic motive. That is reason enough, but if we need any other prompting folk might turn to their own good judgment.

Three Weeks Of Detouring

From now until about the first of July, all traffic to Asheville will have to make the Newfound detour, as paving operations on the 3.3 mile section of Highway 19-23 east for the Friday afternoon Contract of Canton will require about three weeks.

The use of the narrow, crooked Newfound road means that trips to Asheville will require a longer period of time, as good time cannot be made on the detour, which is longer. Motorists would do well to keep this in her hirthday anniversary.

mind for the next few weeks, and drive with extreme caution on the detour. There are broken places in the pavement, and several University. " extremely sharp curves. The detour road was not built for the amount of traffic carried by Highway No. 19-23; neither was it built for speed. Both of these facts should be born in the mind of those who have to use the road for the next three weeks.

For the past few years, the beaches of Florida have been catering more and more to summer visitors. This summer, more than 80 per cent of the hotels at Miami Beach will remain open-that will mean 371 hotels with 26,000 rooms seeking the summer vacationist's derstood over-all problem. dollar.

Do psychologists believe in Fate?

Answer! This psychologist does not, at any rate. The idea that a friendly-or malignant-power controls your destiny regardless of what you do or leave undone ems to me an obvious if unconcious effort to evade the fact that you must take the consequences of your actions, and to shift the responsibility onto the shoulders "parent figure." If you beleve that you are "destined to all," you may usually find that he source of your "Fate" lies in urself and can be removed if erstand and reject it. en the fact that you were uncky in your parents does not that their influence cannot largely counteracted.

Must novelists use "four-letter words?"

MIND

Answer: I do not believe so. It is true that accurate reporting of the speech of men in military service would involve the use of such words in practically every sentence, but as an old teacher of mine used to say, the only type of character who should not be pletured accurately in a work of fic- He may even prove to be a genius.

means, writes Dr. Jacob Lutz in the German magazine, Health and Welfare. Not all forms of mental illness show preliminary symptoms in childhood, nor do childish eccentricities always foreshadow adult psychosis or neurosis. Defective intelligence is the only mental abnormality which invariably manifests itself in childhood. Adult schizo-phrenics often were "strange children," but all children who act strangely do not become schizophrenics. A child who appears abnormal should be studied and understood, not despaired of.

spring. Last week those friends got help from an unexpected source when John had the constitution thrown at him. The American Legion's national constitution article which threw a full-body lock on Larkins was written during the heat of the Roosevelt - Hoover campaign in 1932, It says that an officer of the American Legion cannot hold a, political office. Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., was one of those responsible for this particular item in the constitution.

Larkins said he would not resign as State Senator, Consequently, he had to drop out of the running. There was some opposition to Larkins among many of the Legionnaires because he served only a few days in the service. The gun was loaded and cocked when Larkins got to Asheville for the annual meeting. Pulling the trigger
