W. H. Sanderson Dies In Hospital After Long Illness

William H. Sanderson, Sr., 60, died Saturday morning in a veterans hospital following an extended illness.

A Waynesville resident for the past three years, he was a native of Washington, D. C., the son of the late Charles and Mary Clarke Sanderson and was a retired U. S. Civil Service employe.

He was a World War I veteran, had been connected for 42 years with the U. S. Geological Survey in Washington, D. C., where he was active in sports programs and Boys Club work of the Catholic Church.

Surviving are the widow, Mrs. Miriam McClure Sanderson of Waynesville, R. I.; two sons, W. H. Jr., and John Clark of the home; one brother, George W. Sanderson of Washington, D. C.; several nieces and nephews.

Final rites were held this morning in St. John's Catholic Church, Waynesville. The Rev. Father Lawrence Newman officiated and burial was in Green Hill Cemetery.

Rosary was said at Garrett Funeral Home here Sunday at 8:15 p.m.

Pallbearers were Harry Robbins, Leo Martel, Andrew Mekariski, Marion Holcombe, James Hurley and Raul Carvalho.

THESE folks are enjoying something that's being pioneered by Buick. It's freedom from the blinding glare of bright summer sunlight. It's freedom from hot laps—caused by the sun's rays beating down through the broad expanse of windshield. These freedoms trace to a new feature you may have noticed in '51 Buicks—a new kind of glass with a cool, soft, blue-green tint, in every glass area of the car, front, side and back.

Buick engineers tell us that this "Buick first" reduces glare 18% over conventional glass—cuts sun heat as much as 45%—and Buick engineers are very conservative fellows. This glare-and-heat-reducing Easy-eye glass is factory-installed at moderate extra charge. It gives you a built-in transparent "sun visor" right in the windshield—and it also dulls the dazzle of oncoming headlights at night.

As we've said, this is something Buick owners were the first to enjoy. It takes its place with such exclusives as the valve-in-head Fireball Engine—coil springs on all four wheels—the firm power linkage of torque-tube drive—and the magic of Dynaflo.* As we've also said—rather modestly—"Smart buy's Buick." Come in soon and find out what an understatement that really is.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. Buick is a ROADMMASTER, optional at extra cost on other Series.

- No other car provides all this:
- DYNAFLOW DRIVE • FIREBALL ENGINE
- 4-WHEEL COIL SPRING • DUAL VENTILATION
- PUSH-BAR FOREFRONT • TORQUE-TUBE DRIVE
- WHITE-GLOW INSTRUMENTS • DREAMLINE STYLING
- BODY BY FISHER
- When better automobiles are built BUICK will build them
