THE YOUNGER SET

By ANNE BISCHOFF

It is really here when the Phi announces that dances are starting. The first one is to be tomorrow at the Piedmont Hotel. The dance, which begins at nine, will be the first of four this summer, plus a dance to be later on. Wright and her orchestra furnish the music tomorrow and tickets are still on sale. Advance tickets are only $1.50, while tickets at the door are $2.00. The dances last year were very successful and this year's probably be even more so.

Lake this year look as good as ever. Richard Crowder, who again this year is in charge of the program, has announced that the fireworks, the highlight of the program each year, will be set off at ten o'clock. The day's program will feature swimming races, relays, etc., for which trophies and medals will be awarded to the winners in each event.

There will be no gate fee charged the visitors on Wednesday, and picnic tables will be set up in back of the bath house for those who bring their lunch and spend the day.

This is to be the largest display of fireworks to be shown in Haywood County, and since they will be set off at the foot of the Cross they will be seen for miles around.

Other 4th events will be the rides at the Waynesville High School athletic field.

These rides, which are again sponsored by the Hazelwood Boosters Club, will be here for a week.

Last year they were very successful, and especially are they successful when they are open all day on the 4th.

DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE TO BE GASSED

AP Newsfeatures

Helium gas will be used in an effort to preserve the Declaration of Independence. Ink on the document is fading fast. A magnifying glass is needed to make out some of the signatures. The gas also will be used on the Constitution which is still in good condition. Both will be sealed between panes of glass Sept. 17. Meanwhile trial runs are being made with facsimiles. Here are some pictures of the process.

COVER—Dr. Roy W. Wampler puts glass over the top of the Declaration. He's research director of Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass Co., which will seal the documents as a public service. Alvin W. Kremer, left, of the library of Congress watches the test sealing of the facsimile.

PRACTICE — Louis Gilles puts the tube to admit the gas in place. Helium, being inert, is expected to help slow the fading of the ink.

TESTING—Leakage of helium from the glass cases might be a future danger for the documents. Here, E. C. Creitz of the National Bureau of Standards shows how periodic tests will be made. He is using an instrument which he developed to detect any changes in the gas.

Health Board Tells How to Keep Polio Out Of County

Emphasizing the fact that there is now not a single reported case of polio in Haywood County, the county Health Department offers the following suggestions to keep well:

Don't get overtired by work, hard play or travel. If you already have the polio infection in your body, being very tired may bring on serious polio.

Keep from getting chilled. Don't bathe or swim too long in cold water. Take off wet clothes at once. Chilling can lessen your body's protection against polio.

Keep clean. Wash hands carefully before eating and ways after using the toilet. Hands may carry polio infection into the body through the mouth. Also keep food clean and covered.

Watch for early signs of sickness. Parents should keep children in bed for a few days if they are feverish, and should call a doctor.

Prince To Get Little Pomp From Belgium

PRINCE BAUDOIN
AP Newsfeatures

When young Prince Baudouin becomes the fifth King of the Belgians July 17, he may do so in a ceremony as simple as the inaugural of a president of the United States.

The world will probably call it a coronation. But Belgium has no crown—and no tradition for pomp and display when her kings ascend the throne. If Prince Baudouin follows Belgian tradition he will simply appear before both houses of parliament, and take an oath of allegiance to his country.

Prince Baudouin, who is now 29, is a prince of mystery. Even the eight and a half million people he will rule, know very little about him although he has been their chief of state since last August, when his father, Leopold III, handed over his powers to him.

Leopold had tried to return to the throne himself after World War II. But the Belgians were bitter over his unconditional surrender to the Germans, when the Nazis invaded neutral Belgium. The country split on the question of his return to the throne; and after a series of strikes and riots, Leopold handed over his powers to his eldest son, who became chief of state.

Baudouin was then a tall, lanky, serious, bespectacled boy of 19. He had made a visit to the United States a few years before and talked to quite a few Americans in Miami and Pittsburgh. But to many Belgians he was a stranger, for he had grown up during the war and had even spent some time outside the country.

After he took over the powers of state, they learned more about him. He takes his job seriously and works hard at what he has to study. But he has little time for social affairs—considers them only a duty. For fun he much prefers swimming, skiing and golf.

June 29. Jack McCracken left the latter part of last week to attend the six-week summer school at Cullowhee. He is a high school teacher.

Mrs. Jack McCracken and son arrived here Friday to spend the summer at the home of Miss Nora Hall in Canton. They have been visiting Mrs. McCracken's mother in Louisville, Ky.

Part of the Young People's class of Rocky Face Baptist Church enjoyed an evening picnic June 22 at the Recreation Park in Asheville.
