

Navy Uniforms For Use, Not Beauty

By LARKE BEACH, Staff Writer

WAYNESVILLE—The Navy's two uniforms aren't pretty but are intended to keep a sailor in the Arctic and dry on the submarine.

The submarine medical laboratory at the Navy Base at New London, Conn., is for better togs for the pigboats.

Submarine uniforms are continually being washed in cold climates it is a matter of life and death. Besides, the clothes in a submarine have been a headache.

The new uniform was referred to the development department of the Naval Clothing Laboratory, Brooklyn, N. Y. T. J. G. is the head of the department and his men designed now being tried out on submarines. The suit, as not been officially approved is still undergoing revisions.

The suit is composed of low-temperature rubber and is zipped up to the neck, and a helmet which with an inflatable life preserver like a bib, G. Goodrich Co. rubber lips which close faster to make the helmet. The only possible spray would come at around which the helmet could stand in water before any of it watertight shell.

The new uniform is the new uniform. It has on ships in the Arctic gear, a chamber is kept puffed out by a stuffing of synthetic fibre.

Whether or not such clothing could be adapted for use by the troops who fight ashore, however, has not yet been determined.

The new Navy Arctic boots, nevertheless, have been ordered by the Marine Corps—enough to equip every Marine in Korea if they have to fight there next winter. Like the rest of the suit, they are in two layers, with a stuffing of fibre between the layers. Seery says they completely overcome the danger of dampness within the

The Wilson reunion was held Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Rhinehart.

The third dimensional principle means that the clothes are not shaped to hang neatly from the shoulders and arms. The jacket rests on the hips, like a box. The sleeves are held off the arm by heavy ridge seams. The knees are baggy.

All this is designed to retain air chambers between the clothing and the body. Even the long drawers are woven in a waffle pattern to provide air chambers.

Awards For A Job Well Done

Miss Jean Childers, assistant home agent, presents checks to Senior 4-H members Roxie Ann Crawford and Bobby Joe McClure, winners of the recent 4-H floor sanding contest. Both young people expect to use the money for their next Club projects. Roxie Ann will get paint and materials for curtains and a bedspread for her room improvement project; and Bobby Jo will buy some 500 pounds of feed for his baby beef.

Lions Club Will Meet Thursday At Grandview

The Waynesville Lion's Club will hold its regular weekly meeting at Grandview on the Allen's Creek Road, Thursday night at 7 o'clock. A barbecue supper will be served.

Dr. Boyd Owen, president of the club who do not have transportation, to meet at the Court House at 6:30 o'clock.

Visiting Lions are invited to attend the meeting.

Lennie Merullo of the Cubs made four errors in one inning in a game in 1942 to set a major league record for shortstops.

Mrs. Tally Wilson, it was well attended with many people coming from South Carolina.

J. O. Coleman is ill at his home on the Dutch Cove Road. He is the father of Mrs. Noel Fisher.

Mr. and Mrs. Buck Plemmons announce the birth of a son Aug. 13 in an Asheville hospital.

Jack Valentine is home on a furlough from the Army. He has been stationed in Colorado but is now located in Virginia.

Mrs. Porter Plemmons was operated on a week ago in the Haywood County Hospital. She is doing well and has to stay only a week more.

Luther Smathers and Jim Allen went to Raleigh to the annual reunion of their World War I outfit.

Roger Rhodarmar circled around here for about 15 minutes in his jet plane the other day. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Larry Rhodarmar of the Rhodarmar Cove section of this community.

Each received $10 as county winner and an additional $15 for topping the fifteen counties in the district. It is a coincidence that both district winners were from one county, as the boys' and girls' divisions are judged entirely separately.

Roxie Ann, 17, is a member of the Crabtree club. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Crawford, and will be a high school senior this year. Bobby Jo, 16, will be a junior at Waynesville High. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne McClure of Route 1.

Miss Childers supervise the girls' entries in the county, and assistant county agent Grover C. Dobbins was in charge of the boys.

The floor sanders used by the two were furnished free of charge by Parkman Hardware Company. The contest is sponsored by the Clarke Floor Sanding Company of Charlotte.

Last Rites Are Held Wednesday For Mrs. Davis

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon in Ratcliffe Cove Baptist church for Mrs. Eliza Dixon Davis, 76, who died Tuesday afternoon in the Haywood County Hospital after a brief illness.

The Rev. Odor Burnett and Rev. Gay Chambers officiated and burial was in the Ratcliffe Cove Cemetery.

Pallbearers were Roy and Lawrence Davis, Irving Leatherwood, Mark Galloway, Billy and Arthur Turner.

Mrs. Davis, a native of Haywood county, was the widow of Cicero Davis. She was the daughter of the late Frank and Nicey Evans Dixon and a charter member of the Ratcliffe Cove Baptist church.

She had been residing with a daughter, Mrs. Frank Medford, of Asheville, since 1940.

Surviving in addition to Mrs. Medford are four sons, Frank, John T., Henry, and Fred J. Davis, all of Waynesville; and four grandchildren.

Arrangements were under the direction of Garrett Funeral Home.

In preparing broccoli cut off the woody end of the stalks and any coarse lower leaves. If the ends of the stalks are large split them with a small sharp knife so they will cook as quickly as the tender upper part. Put about an inch of salted boiling water in a saucepan and add the broccoli; cover and cook
