Heavy Traffic
Hit Peak Here
Sunday, Sept. 3
Traffic in Haywood hit the high peak of the year on Sunday, September 2nd, according to the highway patrol and Waynesville policemen.
Traffic through town was heavy all day Monday, according to Chief Noland, with most of it going and coming from the programs in Canton and Sylva.
Highway Patrolmen reported traffic on 19-23 as the heaviest of the year on Sunday — exceeding that of July Fourth by a large margin.
Traffic has dropped extensively since Labor Day.

ROUTINE MATTERS
Only routine matters claimed the attention of the Haywood board of commissioners here Tuesday.
They handled their regular first Monday business Tuesday, since the court house was closed Monday for Labor Day.

Meeting Tuesday Night
Will Plan Campaign For
'Nickels For Know-How'
James Kirkpatrick, temporary chairman, and Mrs. Mark Ferguson, temporary vice-chairman of the "Nickels for Know How" campaign have called a meeting at the courthouse in Waynesville on Tuesday, Sept. 11 at 8:00 p.m.
At this meeting "Nickels for Know How" will be explained and an organization set up to handle the campaign in Haywood County.
The research which is being done will mean much to agriculture, not only in Haywood County but in North Carolina.
The "Nickels for Know How"
campaign applies to both the farm men and women and the chairmen hope that all persons interested will be at the meeting Tuesday night.
The following local organizations are going all out to promote the campaign:
The County Officers of the Community Development Program Organization, the Directors of the Community Development Program
Organization, County and Home
Agents, Vocational Agriculture teachers, F.H.A. personnel, County and Community officers of the Five Report For Service This Month

Five men will leave from Haywood County for induction on September 24, the Selective Service Board announced today. They are James William Caldwell, Stallard Edison Jaynes, William Robert Miller, Bruce Medford and McKinley Bryson Ledbetter.
The Board also reported a call for twenty men to report September 12 for pre-induction examinations.

Corkill Gives Bond Report

A report by W. M. Corkill, Division Engineer, to the Haywood County Commissioners reveals that the amount of money expended out of bond funds in Haywood County through the period ending July 31, was $857,851.01.
The original allocation was $1,889,000.00 which leaves a balance of $1,031,148.99.

Chief Noland Smashes Two Slot Machines To Bits

The two recently confiscated slot machines are no more—the machines were battered to tiny bits under the onslaught of a heavy sledge hammer wielded by Chief Noland. The two machines contained $97.85—someone had put a dime in the quarter slot device. The poor fund of the county got the money. The defendant, Ray Raynor, paid $100 and costs in mayor's court Monday. Officers said the machines cost about $600 each. Both of these were termed as pre-war make. The "wrecking" took place at the police station. (Staff Photo)

Wellco Employees Will Give Hospital Radio Sets

Pretty soon, every patient in the Haywood County Hospital will have radio facilities available. This is being made possible by the 516 employees of Wellco Shoe Corporation, who have pledged themselves to pay for the $5000 installation.
The suggestion was made by Heinz Rollman at the Labor Day picnic here Monday, and by Tuesday afternoon, every employee had signed to take part in the program.
"The response was 100 per cent," Mr. Rollman said joyfully, as he thumbed through the sheaf of pledges from the employees.
Waynesville High still leads the list with 531 in Junior High and 713 in Senior High, for a combined total of 1244. Bethel is second with 906, and Hazelwood is third with 706. Clyde now has 587.
Other schools in order of size are: Fines Creek, 376; Crabtree, 370; Central, 366; East Waynesville, 248; Lake Junaluska, 200; Rock Hill, 199; Cruso, 180; Maggie, 176; Cecil, 102; Saunook, 82; Allens Creek, 76; Spring Hill, 56; Pigeon Street Colored School, 52; Mt. Sterling, 28; and Catalochee, 6.
The total enrollment last spring in the schools reported was 6519. It is expected, however, that the present figure of 5952 will build up during the year and by the end of the term next spring may not be far below last year's total.

More Seats Made Available for Fans

More than 500 additional seats in the concrete stands will be available to football fans Saturday night. The officials are moving the 90-piece band, and some 450 members of the student body to the wooden seats across the field.
Coach Weatherby said that the band across the field could be heard to a much better advantage than when seated in the concrete stands.

Meeting Tuesday Night Will Plan Campaign For 'Nickels For Know-How'

James Kirkpatrick, temporary chairman, and Mrs. Mark Ferguson, temporary vice-chairman of the "Nickels for Know How" campaign have called a meeting at the courthouse in Waynesville on Tuesday, Sept. 11 at 8:00 p.m.
At this meeting "Nickels for Know How" will be explained and an organization set up to handle the campaign in Haywood County. The research which is being done will mean much to agriculture, not only in Haywood County but in North Carolina.

3 Rural Routes Set Up For Local Post Office

The Waynesville Post Office will have three rural routes, effective October 16, instead of the present two, it was learned today from Postmaster J. H. Howell.

The project began in February 1950, and has just been approved. The heavy growth of population of the rural areas served by the rural routes from the local office necessitated the change, as present carriers are traveling about 64 to 69 miles daily.

Postmaster Howell said that special notices would be put in the boxes of every patron advising them of their new route number, in the event of a change. Many will remain on the same route, it was explained.

The new route one will cover 31.55 miles, and cover in general, the Hazelwood, Hyatt Creek, Saunook, Allens Creek and Ninevah areas.

The new route two will begin at Mauney Cove, and cover Dellwood, Maggie, Jonathan Creek, Iron Duff areas. The mileage is even 62 miles.

The new route three is 46.35 miles, and will embrace Mauney Cove, Lake Junaluska, Howell Mill Road, Ratcliffe Cove, Francis Cove (See Post Office—Page 8)

Hazelwood Board Changes Hog And Poultry Town Laws

Two ordinances were passed Tuesday by the Hazelwood board of aldermen. One makes it unlawful to keep hogs within the town limits after January 1, 1952; and the other relates to keeping poultry.

The ordinance sets out that "no person shall keep, or maintain chickens, ducks, geese, or turkeys within the town unless they are kept in an inclosed poultry house or poultry yard. No person shall, after January 1, 1952, build or maintain a poultry house or poultry yard within 75 feet of any residence."

PATROLMAN BASDEN ON NEW ASSIGNMENT

Patrolman Bryan Basden, stationed here for the past nine months with the Highway Patrol, assumed his duties at Chimney Rock, Sept. 1.
He plans to move his family there sometime in October.

Never Take A Chance On A Patrolman Being Asleep

"We thought the patrolmen were asleep," commented a defendant after being hailed into court, and fined $100 and cost in mayor's court for driving drunk. Along with the driver were two friends, charged with being drunk, who also were about as surprised to find themselves under the arm of the law late the other night.
The celebrants were on the highway near the Hospital driving at a high rate of speed, and also dangerously, when Cpl. Pritchard Smith and P. R. Kitchen of the S.B.I. saw them. A few minutes later the officers were joined by Sheriff Campbell in a routine matter, and the speeding car was found, and the arrests made.
The first words of the occupants were: "We thought the patrolmen were all asleep, and not out at this time of night."
The three drunk men were told that it was people like them that kept officers from getting full night's rest.

Hazelwood Girl Crowned Queen Of Apple Festival

Pretty Kathryn Hyatt of Hazelwood, is shown as she was crowned queen of the North Carolina Apple Festival in Hendersonville Monday night, climaxing a full week's program. The crown is shown being placed on Miss Hyatt's head by Miss Karylne Eckhardt, queen of the 1951 Seaside Fiesta held in New Smyrna Beach, Fla. The ceremonies were held in the football stadium at half-time of the Hendersonville-Marion game. The 90-piece Waynesville High School Band participated in the parade and game festivities. Beer-Wine Petitions Due Monday

The Moral and Civic Welfare Committee of the Haywood County Ministerial Association has issued a notice that all copies of the beer-wine petitions now being circulated must be turned in to the Committee by Monday noon.
A meeting of the Association will be held at the Salvation Army Mission on the Max Patch Road on Monday. All petitions still in circulation must be turned in at that time.
Petitions may also be turned over to the Rev. M. R. Williamson in the Waynesville area, and to Rev. L. E. Mabry at Canton.

Police Plan To Curb Speeding On Allens Creek

Police are out to put a stop to speeding on the Allens Creek road. They have cited three to court, and plan to make a concerted drive in patrolling that road, which they termed as being turned into a race track.
The officers are placing men at each of the schools each morning, and thus far, have reported no arrests of speeding during the opening hours of school.
Highway patrol said some motorists had failed to observe warnings about the dangers of driving fast through school zones. Officers are making a concerted drive to arrest such violators.

Hazelwood Girl Crowned Queen Of Apple Festival

Miss Kathryn Hyatt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Hyatt of Hazelwood, was crowned queen of the 1951 North Carolina Apple Festival before a capacity crowd in the Hendersonville High School football stadium Monday night.
Miss Hyatt is an 18-year old brunette, 5 feet 4 1/2 inches tall, weighs 116 pounds and has brown hair and eyes. She graduated from Waynesville High School in 1950 where she was voted the most beautiful in her class. While in school she was also a majorette in the band.
In 1950 she represented Waynesville at the Festival. In the intervening year, she fought a winning fight against a mild attack of polio. The disease confined her to bed for three months, but, beauty unimpaired, she came back to Hendersonville to win her crown.
The coronation ceremony was held at the half-time of the Festival football game between the Hendersonville High Bearcats and the Marion High Rippers. Attendance at the coronation was said by officials to have brought the total attendance at Festival events to an all time record.
Miss Hyatt was sponsored by the (See Queen—Page 8)
