Mileage and Safety Hints from Your Friendly B.F. Goodrich Retailer

How To Go Straight and Save Money

You might as well pitch pennies out of your car window while you drive along as to drive with wheels that are out of line or out of balance. If any wheel travels even slightly out of line, it's bound to scuff off the tread quickly, giving you less tire mileage. Get the most for your tire dollar by having your tires checked regularly to detect mechanical causes of excessive wear.

Free Inspection Drive in today!

It takes an expert to find the exact cause of excessive tread wear. Our trained service men can inspect your tires thoroughly in a short time. There's no charge, of course. The inspection is part of our job in helping you get the most mileage from your tires. Stop in the next chance you get!

Unbalanced wheels can cause excessive wear in the form of worn spots or cups in the tread.

Too much toe-in or toe-out of front wheels can cut thousands of miles off your tire life.
