Crisp Fabric

Taffeta afternoon dress.

By VERA WINSTON

CRISP, paper-thin taffeta rustles through the summer scene with comfort and beauty. This favorite fabric is smartly used for a dainty little dress for afternoon or evening wear. It is in light blue with a delicate water-color print in green, the colors set off by a dark blue velvet sash. The winged neckline is caught with stone-set clips at either shoulder and the skirt is composed of unpressed box pleats, with hip pockets on the folds.

Why Arteries Harden
No one knows why arteries harden. Heredity seems to be a factor, but that doesn't explain why ancestors developed the disease. There is no evidence to place the blame on tobacco, alcohol, hard work, or emotional disturbances.

Service For Crows

PLYMOUTH, N. C.—(AP)—Do crows read newspapers? W. V. Hays, Washington County farm agent for the State College Extension Service, thinks perhaps they do. Hays says the county wildlife club recently arranged a "crow shoot" for one afternoon at 5 o'clock, when the crows came in to roost—or were supposed to. The event, based on a successful shoot held last year, was well publicized in the local paper. "The crows," says the county agent, "must have read the paper, since only one crow made his appearance. It is thought he was just passing through—which he did in a hurry."
